The Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations of the Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs has received a request from the Federal Trade Commission seeking access to records that the Subcommittee obtained during its recent investigation into the Equifax data breach, that resulted in the Subcommittee staff report “How Equifax Neglected Cybersecurity and Suffered a Devastating Data Breach.” The Chair and Ranking Member of the Subcommittee, with support from the leadership of the full Committee, would like to be able to cooperate with the Commission’s request for access to records by providing copies of non-public Subcommittee records to the Commission. In accordance with Senate Rule XI and the Senate’s practice, the accompanying resolution would provide the Subcommittee’s leadership with authority, acting jointly, to provide documents from this investigation to the Federal Trade Commission and to other federal and state government entities and officials with a legitimate need for the records.
