Purpose and Summary

H.R. 1933 reauthorizes the H-1C nonimmigrant visa program for nurses and makes a number of modifications to the program.

Background and Need for the Legislation

A number of hospitals with unique circumstances experience a great difficulty in attracting American nurses. Hospitals serving mostly poor patients have special difficulties. Some hospitals in rural areas do also. For example:

> St. Bernard [Hospital and Health Care Center] . . . is located on the south side of Chicago in the Englewood community. Unfortunately, high rates of crime and high poverty rates equal 31,000 visits to our emergency room per year, which makes us the second largest for the Chicago Fire Department's ambulance runs in the city.
> St. Bernard is Englewood's only remaining hospital and has a patient base almost entirely of poverty care or charity care. . . .
> We are considered by the State of Illinois as one of the safety net hospitals in Chicago, and we are one of only a handful of hospitals recognized by the Illinois Department of Public Aid for special financial recognition for our role in delivering quality care to the indigent in the inner city of Chicago.
> We almost closed our doors in 1992, primarily because of our inability to attract registered nurses.[1]

The "Nursing Relief for Disadvantaged Areas Act of 1999" created a new "H-1C" temporary visa program for registered nurses.[2] The program was modeled after the expired "H-1A" temporary nursing visa program but limited the number of visas that could be issued to 500 per year and only allowed in-need hospitals that met certain criteria to petition for alien nurses. To be able to petition for an alien, an employer had to meet four basic conditions. First, the employer must have been located in a health professional shortage area as designated by the Department of Health and Human Services. Second, the employer must have had at least 190 acute-care beds. Third, a certain percentage (35%) of the employer's patients must have been Medicare patients. Fourth, a certain percentage (28%) of patients must have been Medicaid patients.

Employers had to make certain attestations pertaining to "payment of a wage which will not adversely affect wages and working conditions of similarly employed registered nurses; payment of wages to aliens at rates paid to other registered nurses similarly employed by the facility; taking timely and significant steps designed to recruit and retain U.S. nurses in order to reduce dependence on nonimmigrant nurses; absence of a strike/lockout or lay off of nurses; notice to workers of its intent to petition for H-1C nurses; percentages of H-1C nurses to be employed at the facility; and placement of H-1C nurses within the facility."[3]

The Department of Labor has determined that the following hospitals are eligible for the program: Beaumont Regional Medical Center, Beaumont, TX; Beverly Hospital, Montebello, CA; Doctors Medical Center, Modesto, CA; Elizabeth General Medical Center, Elizabeth, NJ; Fairview Park Hospital, Dublin, GA; Lutheran Medical Center, St. Louis, MO; McAllen Medical Center, McAllen, TX; Mercy Medical Center, Baltimore, MD; Mercy Regional Medical Center, Laredo, TX; Peninsula Hospital Center, Far Rockaway, NY;

The Nursing Relief for Disadvantaged Areas Act of 1999 was enacted as a 4-year program (beginning on the effective date of implementing regulations) on November 12, 1999. The program expired in 2005 and was reauthorized in 2006 for an additional 3 years.[5] The program expired in December 2009 (but some H-1C nurses remain who received approval for 3-year stays before this date).

The Department of Labor reports that 499 nurses received visas under the program in fiscal year 2007 as did 110 in fiscal year 2008.[6]

St. Bernard Hospital has indicated that:

> Because of the sunset, in combination with the extended approval period for green cards, nurses are now forced to leave our institution and the rate of loss continues to increase. This loss cannot be sustained. As the only hospital serving one of the most difficult sections of Chicago, and perhaps the entire country, we need the extension of the visa program to survive.[7]

H.R. 1933 reauthorizes the program for an additional 3 years. The number of visas that may be issued in each fiscal year cannot exceed 300. An alien may be admitted for 3 years and this stay may be extended once for an additional 3 years (the extension is new with H.R. 1933). The bill also allows H-1C nurses to be able to switch employment between any of the H-1C-eligible hospitals.

Congressional Budget Office Cost Estimate

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, July 6, 2011.

Hon. LAMAR SMITH, CHAIRMAN,
Committee on the Judiciary,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for H.R. 1933, a bill to amend the Immigration and Nationality Act to modify the requirements for admission of nonimmigrant nurses in health professional shortage areas.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contact is Mark Grabowicz, who can be reached at 226–2860.

Sincerely,

DOUGLAS W. ELMENDORF,
DIRECTOR.

Enclosure

cc: Honorable John Conyers, Jr.
Ranking Member

H.R. 1933—A bill to amend the Immigration and Nationality Act to modify the requirements for admission of nonimmigrant nurses in health professional shortage areas.

CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 1933 would result in no significant cost to the Federal Government. Enacting the bill could affect direct spending; therefore, pay-as-you-go procedures apply. However, CBO estimates that any such effects would be insignificant for each year. H.R. 1933 would not affect revenues.

H.R. 1933 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act and would not affect the budgets of State, local, or tribal governments.

Current law permits foreign nurses to work temporarily in the United States in areas where there are shortages of qualified applicants. No more than 500 of those individuals may be admitted in each year, and they may remain in the United States for 3 years. H.R. 1933 would limit annual admissions to 300 and would authorize those persons to extend their stay for an additional 3 years.

The Department of State and the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) collect fees to admit those individuals. The DHS fees are classified as offsetting receipts (a credit against direct spending) and the department is authorized to spend such fees without further appropriation. The State Department fees are retained and spent by the Department. CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 1933 would have no significant effect on the collection and spending of such fees.

The CBO staff contact for this estimate is Mark Grabowicz. The estimate was approved by Theresa Gullo, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

Performance Goals and Objectives

The Committee states that pursuant to clause 3(c)(4) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, H.R. 1933 reauthorizes the H-1C nonimmigrant visa program for nurses and makes a number of modifications to the program.

Advisory on Earmarks

In accordance with clause 9 of rule XXI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, H.R. 1933 does not contain any congressional earmarks, limited tax benefits, or limited tariff benefits as defined in clause 9(e), 9(f), or 9(g) of Rule XXI.

Section-by-Section Analysis

Sec. 1. Requirements for Admission of Nonimmigrant Nurses in Health Professional Shortage Areas.

Subsection (a) amends section 212(m)(3) of the Immigration and Nationality Act to allow H-1C nonimmigrant nurses to request an extension of their period of authorized admission for an additional 3 years after the initial 3 year admission.

Subsection (b) amends section 212(m)(4) of the INA to provide that the total number of nonimmigrant visas issued pursuant to H-1C petitions shall not exceed 300 in each fiscal year.

Subsection (c) amends section 214(n) of the INA to provide that an H-1C alien (who has been lawfully admitted to the U.S., who has not since admission been employed without authorization, and on whose behalf an employer has filed a nonfrivolous petition for new employment before the date of expiration of the authorized period of stay except that if the alien is terminated or laid off by their employer, or otherwise cease employment, such petition for new employment shall be filed during the ensuing 45 day period) is authorized to accept new employment performing services as a registered nurse at any facility which qualifies for the H-1C program upon the filing by the prospective employer of a new petition on behalf of the alien. Employment authorization shall continue for such alien until the new petition is adjudicated. Once a petition is denied, such authorization shall cease.

Subsection (d) provides that the H-1C program is reauthorized for the 3 year period beginning on the date (no later than 60 days after enactment) that the Secretary of Homeland Security determines that no regulations are necessary to implement the bill; however, if the Secretary determines (within this 60 day period) that regulations are necessary, the program is reauthorized for 3 years beginning on the date on which such regulations (in final form) take effect.
