

Action	Deadline
Production of Documents in Response to Follow-Up Requests.	Sept. 27, 1995.
All Other Motions, Petitions and Objections.	Oct. 2, 1995.

The § 251.45(b) precontroversy discovery period begins on August 18, 1995 with the filing of written direct cases. Each party to the proceeding must serve by hand on that day a complete copy of its written direct case on each of the other parties to the proceeding, as well as file a complete copy with the Copyright Office.

After the filing of the written direct cases, document production will proceed according to the above-described schedule. Thus, the parties have until August 28 to request from one another Underlying Documents Related to Written Direct Cases, until September 1 to respond to Requests for Underlying Documents, and so forth. The dates listed in the schedule mark the deadlines by which the corresponding requests, responses and motions must be served and filed. In the case of document requests and all precontroversy discovery motions, failure to make a request or file a motion by the prescribed deadline precludes a party from making the request or filing the motion at a later date. For example, if a party fails to file a motion to compel production of Underlying Documents Related to Written Direct Cases by September 22, 1995, that party is precluded from filing that motion at a later date with either the Copyright Office or the CARP. In the case of document production responses, it is expected that parties receiving requests will respond by the appropriate deadline. Motions to comply with the request may be filed beginning on the first day after the response deadline and up to the September 22 deadline for motions related to document production.¹

Due to the time limitations between the procedural steps of the precontroversy discovery schedule, we are requiring that all discovery requests and responses to such requests be served by hand or fax on the party to whom such request or response is directed. A complete copy of the response or request shall also be served on the Copyright Office. Service via the mail, addressed to the official address in § 251.1, is permissible.

Filing and service of all precontroversy motions, petitions, objections, oppositions and replies shall be as follows. In order to be considered properly filed with the Librarian and/or Copyright Office, all motions, petitions, objections, oppositions and replies must be brought to: Office of the Register of Copyrights, Room 403, James Madison Memorial Building, 101 Independence Avenue, S.E., Washington D.C. 20540, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Form and content of such motions, petitions, objections, oppositions and replies must be in compliance with §§ 251.44(b)-(e). As provided in § 251.45(b), oppositions to motions, objections and petitions must be filed with the Copyright Office no later than seven business days from date of filing of such motions, objections and petitions. Replies are due five business days from the date of filing of oppositions. Service of all motions, petitions, objections, oppositions and replies must be made on counsel or the parties by means no slower than overnight express mail on the same day the pleading is filed.

Dated: March 13, 1995.

Register of Copyrights.

NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION

Records Schedules; Availability and Request for Comments

AGENCY: National Archives and Records Administration, Office of Records Administration.

ACTION: Notice of availability of proposed records schedules; request for comments.

SUMMARY: The National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) publishes notice at least once monthly of certain Federal agency requests for records disposition authority (records schedules). Records schedules identify records of sufficient value to warrant preservation in the National Archives of the United States. Schedules also authorize agencies after a specified period to dispose of records lacking administrative, legal, research, or other value. Notice is published for records schedules that (1) Propose the destruction of records not previously authorized for disposal, or (2) reduce the retention period for records already authorized for disposal. NARA invites public comments on such schedules, as required by 44 USC 3303a(a).

DATES: Request for copies must be received in writing on or before May 5, 1995. Once the appraisal of the records is completed, NARA will send a copy of the schedule. The requester will be given 30 days to submit comments.

ADDRESSES: Address requests for single copies of schedules identified in this notice to the Records Appraisal and Disposition Division (NIR), National Archives and Records Administration, College Park, MD 20740. Requesters must cite the control number assigned to each schedule when requesting a copy. The control number appears in the parentheses immediately after the name of the requesting agency.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Each year U.S. Government agencies create billions of records on paper, film, magnetic tape, and other media. In order to control this accumulation, agency records managers prepare records schedules specifying when the agency no longer needs the records and what happens to the records after this period. Some schedules are comprehensive and cover all the records of an agency or one of its major subdivisions. These comprehensive schedules provide for the eventual transfer to the National Archives of historically valuable records and authorize the disposal of all other records. Most schedules, however, cover records of only one office or program or a few series of records, and many are updates of previously approved schedules. Such schedules also may include records that are designated for permanent retention.

Destruction of records requires the approval of the Archivist of the United States. This approval is granted after a thorough study of the records that takes into account their administrative use by the agency of origin, the rights of the Government and of private persons directly affected by the Government's activities, and historical or other value.

This public notice identifies the Federal agencies and their subdivisions requesting disposition authority, includes the control number assigned to each schedule, and briefly describes the records proposed for disposal. The records schedule contains additional information about the records and their disposition. Further information about the disposition process will be furnished to each requester.
