

provides that EPA may withdraw substances from the rule, for good cause, prior to the effective date of a substance's listing (40 CFR 712.30(c)).

On July 19, 1995, EPA received a letter from the Oxo Process Panel of the Chemical Manufacturers Association requesting that EPA remove isobutyl alcohol from the PAIR. In the letter, several recent and ongoing activities covering isobutyl alcohol were identified as alternate sources for use and exposure data, including a recent TSCA section 4 rulemaking action (Neurotoxicity Test Rule (58 FR 40262, July 27, 1993) and Testing Consent Order Incorporating Enforceable Consent Agreement (60 FR 4516, January 23, 1995)), and the development of a dossier under the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development's Screening Information Data Set program. The Oxo Process Panel argued that the data generated or collected as part of these other activities make it unnecessary for the Agency to add isobutyl alcohol to the PAIR.

EPA agrees that information on isobutyl alcohol substantially similar to that which would be required under the PAIR is already or will soon be available. For this reason, EPA is revising its decision to add isobutyl alcohol to the PAIR and withdrawing it from the rule.

II. Analyses Under E.O. 12866, the Unfunded Mandates Act of 1995, the Regulatory Flexibility Act, and the Paperwork Reduction Act

Because this action reduces certain pending requirements, this action is not "significant" within the meaning of Executive Order 12866 (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993), and does not impose any Federal mandate on any State, local, or tribal governments or the private sector within the meaning of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-4). For the same reasons, pursuant to the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 605(b)), it has been determined that this action will not have a significant economic impact on a significant number of small entities. Additionally, the information collection requirements associated with the PAIR have been approved by OMB under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act, 44 U.S.C. 3501, and have been assigned OMB control number 2070-0054. EPA has determined that this rule eliminates certain pending recordkeeping and reporting requirements.
