DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Forest Service

Draft 1995 RPA Program

AGENCY: Forest Service, USDA.

ACTION: Notice of availability; request for public comment.

SUMMARY: The Forest and Rangeland Renewable Resources Planning Act (RPA) of 1974, as amended, directs the Secretary of Agriculture to prepare a long-range recommended renewable natural resources program every 5 years. The draft of the 1995 Program, which responds to the renewable resource situation projected in the 1989 RPA Assessment and the 1993 Update of the RPA Assessment, is now available to those who wish to review and comment on it. Written comments will be used in preparing the final 1995 RPA Program.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Comments must be received in writing by January 17, 1996.

ADDRESSES: Send written comments to Director, Resources Program and Assessment (1910), Forest Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 96090, Washington, DC 20090-6090 or via FAX at 202/205-1546.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Copies of the 1995 Draft RPA Program may be requested by calling 202/205-1235 or via FAX at 202/205-1546.

Information may also be requested by E-Mail (ASCII only) at fswa/s=rpa/ou1=w01c@mhs.attmail.com. For information on electronic access and viewing of the draft document, see the supplementary information section of this notice.

Questions about the 1995 Draft Program may be addressed to Kathryn P. Maloney, Director, Resources Program and Assessment, telephone: 202/205-1235.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The 1995 RPA Draft Program serves as a strategic planning document that provides long-term guidance for future Forest Service policies and programs. This long-term strategy describes the agency's approach to achieving sustainability of ecosystems. This strategic plan is composed of future actions for protecting ecosystems, restoring ecosystems, providing multiple benefits from ecosystems, and ensuring organizational effectiveness. Future agency actions and associated costs are described for international and domestic assistance, the management of the national forests and grasslands, and research.

The Draft 1995 RPA Program has been developed in accordance with the principles in the National Environmental Policy Act. Should the Forest Service initiate any legislative proposals as a result of guidance in the final 1995 RPA Program, the Forest Service will prepare the appropriate environmental analyses and documentation specific to the proposed legislation. Similarly, implementation of the Program through the forest land and resource management planning process will entail environmental analysis and documentation at appropriate decision points.

During the 90-day comment period, the Forest Service will hold regional public meetings in Missoula, Montana; Albuquerque, New Mexico; Sacramento, California; Atlanta, Georgia; Milwaukee, Wisconsin; and Washington, DC. Additional meetings may be held at other locations and will be announced through local/regional media. Additional information regarding times and specific locations of meetings may be obtained by calling 202/205-1235 (E-mail: fswa/s=rpa/ou1=w01c@mhs.attmail.com.)

Electronic copies of the Draft 1995 Program may be obtained via the World-wide Web at URL: <http://www.fs.fed.us/land/RPA/welcome.htm>.

After consideration of the public comment received on the Draft 1995 RPA Program, the President will present his statement of policy and the Secretary will recommend a final 1995 RPA Program to the U.S. Congress.

Dated: October 4, 1995.

David G. Unger,

Associate Chief.
