Forest Service

Outfitting and Guiding Permit Administration and Fees

AGENCY: Forest Service, USDA.

ACTION: Correction of final policy.

SUMMARY: The Forest Service is making technical corrections to the final policy published June 12, 1995 (60 FR 30830), governing issuance and administration of permits and assessment of fees for outfitting and guiding activities on National Forest System lands.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This corrected policy is effective November 8, 1995.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

John Shilling, (202) 205-1426, Recreation, Heritage, and Wilderness Resources Management Staff (2340), Forest Service, USDA, P.O. Box 96090, Washington, D.C. 20090-6090.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The final policy published June 12, 1995 (60 FR 30830), on outfitting and guiding permit administration and fees on National Forest System lands contained a few technical errors that must be corrected: (1) To clarify that the minimum fee for outfitting and guiding is set every three years, beginning in 1993; and (2) to ensure consistency with the requirements of the Wilderness Act (16 U.S.C. 1131 et seq.) as interpreted in applicable court decisions with respect to caches in wilderness and to development, improvements, and installations in wilderness.

The corrected policy is being issued by amendment to chapters 30 and 40 of Forest Service Handbook 2709.11, Special Uses Handbook. The corrected policy reads as follows:

1. Chapter 30, Fee Determination, Section 37.05, Definition for "Revenue Additions," paragraph 2: "The value of gratuities, which are goods, services, or privileges that are not available to the general public and that are donated or provided without charge to organizations; individuals; the holder's employees, owners, or officers; or immediate family members of the holder's employees, owners, or officers."

The agency has removed the words "or at a discount" from this definition because goods, services, or privileges provided at a discount are not gratuities, but rather are a form of revenue. The value of goods, services, or privileges provided at a discount is subsumed in gross revenue for the purpose of fee calculation.

2. Chapter 30, Fee Determination, Section 37.21a: "The minimum fee for outfitting and guiding on National Forest System lands is $70 annually per permit for 1993-1995. Using 1993 as a base year, the Washington Office Director of Recreation, Heritage, and Wilderness Resources Management shall adjust the minimum fee every three years based on the Gross Domestic Product-Implicit Price Deflator Index."

Formerly, the time period specified in the supplementary information and policy was 1993-1996, which spans four years. Because the agency's intent was to establish a minimum fee every three years, the time period has been changed accordingly to 1993-1995. The policy, which previously stated that the Director "adjusts" the minimum fee every three years, also has been revised to use "shall adjust" to convey mandatory action by the Director.

3. Chapter 40, Special Uses Administration, Section 41.53b, paragraph 2: "Do not authorize any development or permanent improvements in non-wilderness on the National Forest System for outfitting and guiding services, except for structures, improvements, or installations with negligible value that have minimal impact on forest resources, such as hitching posts, corrals, tent frames, and shelters."

The agency has added "in non-wilderness" to distinguish the policy in this paragraph on development and permanent improvements in non-wilderness, from the policy in the following paragraph 3 on development and permanent improvements in wilderness. The agency has removed "temporary," which formerly modified "structures or improvements or installations," because it was inconsistent with the reference to "development or permanent improvements" at the beginning of this paragraph. For consistency in wording, the agency has substituted a comma for the word "or" between "structures" and "improvements" and added a comma after "improvements." The agency has added "that have minimal impact on forest resources" to further clarify when development or permanent improvements may be authorized in non-wilderness.

4. Chapter 40, Special Uses Administration, Section 41.53b, paragraph 3: "Do not authorize any development, improvements, or installations in wilderness on the National Forest System for the purpose of convenience to the holder or the holder's clients. Do not authorize any caches in wilderness. The authorized officer may not authorize permanent structures, improvements, or installations in wilderness unless they are necessary to meet minimum requirements for administration of the area for the purposes of the Wilderness Act (16 U.S.C. 1133c)."

For consistency in wording with related direction on non-wilderness in the preceding paragraph 2 of this section, the agency has added an "s" to "improvement" and "installation" and also has added "on the National Forest System" after "in wilderness" in the first sentence of paragraph 3. To ensure consistency with the requirements of the Wilderness Act as interpreted in applicable court decisions, the agency has added a prohibition on authorizing caches in wilderness and has changed "temporary" to "permanent" as a modifier for "structures, improvements, or installations in wilderness" in the last sentence. The agency also has corrected the citation in the last sentence from 16 U.S.C. 1121 (note) to 16 U.S.C. 1133c.

Dated: November 2, 1995.

Acting Chief.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Bureau of the Census

[Docket No. 950911228-5258-02]

The American Community Survey

AGENCY: Bureau of the Census, Commerce.

ACTION: Notice of determination.

SUMMARY: In accordance with Title 13, United States Code, Sections 182 and 225, I have determined that data from The American Community Survey are needed to evaluate a design to collect timely data for small areas and small subpopulations on a continual basis rather than every ten years. Government agencies use these data to distribute funding for various programs. The American Community Survey will also provide data for agencies to evaluate the performance of programs. The general public uses the data to examine information like housing quality, commuting patterns, and regional age distributions for planning purposes. These data are not publicly available from nongovernment or other governmental sources.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Lawrence S. McGinn, Chief, Continuous Measurement Office, on (301) 763-8327.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Census Bureau is authorized to conduct surveys necessary to furnish current data on subjects covered by the major census authorized by Title 13, United States Code. The data from this survey will determine the feasibility of a continuous measurement system that provides socioeconomic data on a continual basis throughout the decade for small areas and small subpopulations. Currently, the decennial census is the only source of data available for small area levels and, therefore, these data are collected only once every ten years. A continuous measurement system also would provide a mechanism for identifying and sampling subpopulation groups for future surveys which will be of great benefit to the Federal Statistical System and provide data needed by other agencies.

This survey will be a full-scale implementation of continuous measurement in six test sites. The survey will also include a national sample to test response rates and the Census Bureau's ability to obtain telephone numbers for nonresponse households. The data collected in this survey will be within the general scope and nature of those inquiries covered in the decennial census every ten years.

The Census Bureau will select the housing units for the survey from a sample of six sites selected to test full continuous measurement operations and a sample from designated areas around the country to obtain mail response rates. The Bureau will mail questionnaires to the households covered by this survey and require the submission as soon as possible after receipt. Participation of the selected households will be mandatory in accordance with the provisions of Title 13.

This survey was approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for public use, in accordance
