BILLING CODE 6210-01-F

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

Automotive Fuel Ratings, Certification and Posting

AGENCY: Federal Trade Commission.

ACTION: Grant of partial exemption from the Commission's Fuel Rating Rule.

SUMMARY: The Commission has granted the petition of Gilbarco, Inc. ("Gilbarco"), a manufacturer of gasoline dispensers, on behalf of several major oil companies, requesting permission to post octane ratings by use of octane labels that differ from certain of the specifications contained in the Commission's Automotive Fuel Ratings, Certification and Posting Rule ("the Rule"). Pursuant to Rule 1.26 of the Commission's Rules of Practice, the Commission grants, for good cause, the requested relief without a notice and comment period because the Commission finds that such a procedure is unnecessary to protect the public interest in this case. The Commission previously has granted similar requests without notice and comment procedures.¹

EFFECTIVE DATE: November 16, 1995.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Thomas D. Massie, Attorney, Division of Enforcement, Federal Trade Commission, Washington, DC 20580, (202) 326-2982.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On March 30, 1979, the Commission published the Octane Posting and Certification Rule in the Federal Register. 44 FR 19160 (1979). The Rule established procedures for determining, certifying and posting, by means of a label on the fuel dispenser, the octane rating of automotive gasoline intended for sale to consumers. Pursuant to section 15.01 of the Energy Policy Act of 1992, 106 Stat. 2776, the Rule has been amended to include requirements for disclosing the automotive fuel rating of liquid alternative fuels, 58 FR 41372 (1993). The amended Rule became effective October 25, 1993.

Section 306.10 of the Rule provides that retailers must post at least one octane rating label on each face of each gasoline dispenser. Retailers who sell two or more kinds of gasoline with different octane ratings from a single dispenser must post separate octane rating labels for each kind of gasoline one each face of the dispenser. Labels must be placed conspicuously on the dispenser so as to be in full view of consumers and as near as reasonably practical to the price per gallon of gasoline.

Section 306.12 of the Rule detail specifications for the labels. Labels must be 3 inches wide by 2½ inches long, and Helvetica type must be used for all text except the octane rating number, which must be in Franklin Gothic type. Type size for the text and numbers is specified, and the type and border must be process black on a process yellow background. The line "MINIMUM OCTANE RATING" must be in 12 point Helvetica bold, all capitals, with letter space set at 12½ points. The line "(R+M)/2 METHOD" must be in 10 point Helvetica bold, all capitals, with letter space set at 10½ points. The octane number must be in 96 point Franklin Gothic Condensed, with ¼ inch spacing between the numbers. Section 306.12(d) of the Rule further states that no marks or information other than that called for by the Rule may appear on the label.

On August 3, 1988, the Commission granted Gilbarco a partial exemption to the Rule with respect to the same multi-blend gasoline dispensers that are the subject of this partial exemption. 53 FR 29277 (1988). There the Commission allowed Gilbarco to use an octane label that was 3 inches wide and 2.3 inches long that would be inserted inside plastic gasoline selection switches. The Commission also allowed Gilbarco to place the word "PRESS", in 16 point Helvetica type, beneath the octane number on the label.

Gilbarco's experience with the plastic gasoline selection switches has shown that the plastics which is prone to cracking or hazing over after prolonged exposure to gasoline vapors, reducing the clarity of the octane label. Gilbarco
