Final Report of the Federal Facilities Environmental Restoration Dialogue Committee*AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency.ACTION: Notice of availability of "Final Report of the Federal Facilities Environmental Restoration Dialogue Committee".

SUMMARY: The Agency is informing the public of the availability of "Final Report of the Federal Facilities Environmental Restoration Dialogue Committee (FFERDC)," dated April 1996. The Final Report presents consensus principles and recommendations for improving Federal facilities cleanup. The report was produced by the FFERDC, a Federal advisory committee chartered by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. The FFERDC includes members from: the U.S. Departments of Agriculture, Defense, Energy, and Interior; the Environmental Protection Agency, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, and the Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry; state, tribal, and local governments; and national, regional, and locally based environmental, community, environmental justice, and labor organizations.

Based on agency estimates, the United States government is responsible for addressing contamination at over 61,000 sites with the cost of cleanup between $230 billion and $390 billion over the next 75 years. The Final Report provides consensus approaches for involving stakeholders in cleanup and funding decisions at such Federal facilities. Building on the FFERDC's "Interim Report" (1993) and "Principles" (1995), the Final Report includes chapters on the principles for environmental cleanup of Federal facilities, community involvement, advisory boards, funding and priority setting, and capacity building.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:*I. Introduction

This policy statement will help achieve the Agency's goal of increasing the degree of public involvement in risk management decisions under FIFRA, which was initially articulated in the Federal Register notice entitled "Public Involvement in Significant Risk Reduction Decisions on Registered Pesticides" describing EPA's policy on public involvement in significant risk reduction decisions (59 FR 40905, August 10, 1994). Consistent with that policy, EPA believes that in certain circumstances, it is desirable to obtain the views of the public before modifying an existing stocks provision.

On August 15, 1995, the United Farmworkers of America filed suit in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, challenging EPA's modification of the Mevinphos Cancellation Order, which extended the period during which the sales, distribution, and use of existing stocks would be permitted to November 30, 1995. As part of its settlement agreement, EPA agreed to amend its
