ASTM specifies four types of mineral spirit (Stoddard solvent): Type I—Regular; Type II—High flash point; Type III—Odorless; and Type IV—Low Dry Point. Stoddard solvent type III selected for testing is a mixture with high aliphatic and low aromatic contents, little odor, and 100°F minimum flash point. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Department will submit the proposed information collection to OMB for review, as required by the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. Chapter 35, as amended).

This Notice is soliciting comments from members of the public and affected agencies concerning the proposed collection of information to: (1) Evaluate whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information will have practical utility; (2) Evaluate the accuracy of the agency's estimate of the burden of the proposed collection of information; (3) Enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (4) Minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond; including through the use of appropriate automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology, e.g. permitting electronic submission of responses.

This notice also lists the following information:

Title of Proposal: Evaluation of Home Ownership Counseling Initiatives.

OMB Control Number, if applicable: 2528–.

Description of the need for the information and proposed use: The information is being collected to determine the feasibility of setting a long-term mechanism for the collection of data to evaluate the efficacy of home ownership counseling. Evaluating counseling programs has been hampered by two methodological reasons: (1) Differences in program goals complicate any type of performance comparison; and (2) the counseling industry encounters very different market conditions in different areas.

HUD's involvement with the counseling dates back to the 1960s. With the passage of the 1968 Housing and Urban Development Act, HUD was authorized to contract with public and private organizations to provide counseling to mortgagors in the Section 235 and 237 Programs. Between 1988 and 1993, HUD gave some operating support to over 300 agencies. To ensure that this support is being provided in a cost-effective manner, HUD proposes to undertake a preliminary investigation of the feasibility of a long-term evaluation. This investigation will include identifying key data requirements and pre-testing a baseline data collection form to gather the required information from counseling recipients.

Agency form numbers, if applicable: None.

Members of affected public: New participants in three counseling programs will be asked to participate in this data collection activity. It is expected that at most 200 participants in each program will be evaluated.

Estimation of the total number of hours needed to prepare the information collection including number of respondents, frequency of response, and hours of response: Information will be collected by one-time interviews with at most 600 participants in counseling programs. These interviews will take approximately thirty minutes each. This means a total of 300 hours of response for the information collection.

Status of the proposed information collection: Pending OMB clearance.

Authority: Section 3506 of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, 44 U.S.C. Chapter 35, as amended.

Dated: April 30, 1996.
