

expenses incurred in the home market from those incurred elsewhere. Tamini therefore calculated a ratio of worldwide selling, general and administrative (SG&A) expenses to worldwide cost of goods sold. Tamini then multiplied this ratio by the cost of manufacture of the merchandise involved in each U.S. transaction to derive a per-unit amount for SG&A expenses.

While it is true that Tamini's worldwide SG&A expenses (the numerator in Tamini's SG&A ratio) include selling expenses incurred on sales outside the home market, Tamini's worldwide cost of goods sold (the denominator in Tamini's SG&A ratio) includes the costs of goods sold outside the home market. Accordingly, the per-unit amount of the SG&A expense attributable to indirect selling was not necessarily higher than that which would have been applied had Tamini been able to isolate and report only its home market expenses, since both the numerator and denominator of the ratio used were calculated on the same basis. Therefore, reducing CV by an amount that Tamini claims represents U.S. indirect selling expenses would understate the SG&A element of the CV calculation.

The SG&A amount that we included in the calculation of CV contained an amount for commissions. In accordance with section 353.56 of our regulations, we made a circumstance-of-sale adjustment by deducting this amount and offsetting this deduction by adding U.S. indirect expenses up to the amount of the commission. As explained above, this offset does not lead to double-counting of U.S. indirect selling expenses, such that an amount for U.S. indirect selling expenses must first be subtracted from the SG&A expenses included in CV, because the CV only contains an amount for SG&A attributable to home market sales. The adjustment is only for the difference, if any, between the commission amount in the CV and U.S. indirect selling expenses. It does not increase the amount of general expenses used in calculating the CV prior to such adjustments.

Although we are not adjusting CV in the manner suggested by respondent, we disagree with petitioner's assertion that information submitted by respondent concerning this issue is untimely. Respondent submitted the data contained in its case brief in the process of responding to our initial and supplemental questionnaires.

Final Results of Review

As a result of this review, we determine that no dumping margins exist for Tamini for the period June 1, 1993, through May 31, 1994.

The Department will issue appraisal instructions directly to the Customs Service.

Furthermore, the following cash deposit requirements will be effective upon publication of these final results for all shipments of the subject merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the publication date, as provided for by section 751(a)(1) of the Act: (1) the cash deposit rate for Tamini will be zero; (2) for previously reviewed or investigated companies not listed above, the cash deposit rate will continue to be the company-specific rate published for the most recent period; (3) if the exporter is not a firm covered in this review, or the original less-than-fair-value (LTFV) investigation, but the manufacturer is, the cash deposit rate will be the rate established for the most recent period for the manufacturer of the merchandise; and (4) the cash deposit rate for all other manufacturers or exporters will be 92.47 percent.

These deposit requirements shall remain in effect until publication of the final results of the next administrative review.

This notice also serves as a final reminder to importers of their responsibility under 19 CFR 353.26 to file a certificate regarding the reimbursement of antidumping duties prior to liquidation of the relevant entries during this review period. Failure to comply with this requirement could result in the Secretary's presumption that reimbursement of antidumping duties occurred and the subsequent assessment of double antidumping duties.

This notice also serves as a reminder to parties subject to administrative protective orders (APOs) of their responsibility concerning disposition of proprietary information disclosed under APO in accordance with 19 CFR 353.34(d). Timely written notification of the return/destruction of APO materials or conversion to judicial protective order is hereby requested. Failure to comply with the regulations and the terms of an APO is a sanctionable violation.

This administrative review and notice are in accordance with section 751(a)(1) of the Act (19 U.S.C. 1675(a)(1)) and 19 CFR 353.22.
