Title of Proposal: Measuring Quality of Life, Health, and Well-Being in Different Housing Environments.

Description of the need for the information and proposed use: With the reinvention of the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the restructuring of many HUD programs, it has become increasingly important to understand why certain housing developments "work" and others do not. The information collected throughout this project will be used to help HUD determine what survey methods and questions appropriately assess the quality of life in housing developments, and how to measure the unique contribution of housing assistance across various dimensions of the residents' quality of life. Once the best questions are identified through this survey, they will be used uniformly across HUD's program evaluations. This project is a joint project with Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC) and they hope to use it for the same purpose. Ultimately, it will allow better comparison of programs between the U.S. and Canada.

Members of affected public: A total of 600 renters in a select number of assisted and unassisted developments in the Columbus, OH Metropolitan Statistical Area will be surveyed.

Estimation of the total number of hours needed to prepare the information collection including number of respondents, frequency of response, and hours of response: Information will be collected to result in 600 one-time interviews with renters. To test the question utility using different methods of administration, 200 renters will be surveyed in-person, 200 renters will be surveyed by telephone, and 200 will be surveyed by mail. The in-person interviews are estimated to take approximately 1 hour and 10 minutes each. The shorter telephone and mail surveys are estimated to take 40 minutes each. This means a total of 500 hours of response for the information collection.

Status of the proposed information collection: Pending OMB approval.

Authority: Section 3506 of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, 44 U.S.C. Chapter 35, as amended.

Dated: October 23, 1996.
