BILLING CODE 8025-01-P

OFFICE OF THE UNITED STATES
TRADE REPRESENTATIVE
Exemption of Israeli Products From Certain Customs User Fees; Addition of Israel to the List of Eligible Countries Under the Rural Electrification Act

AGENCY: Office of the United States Trade Representative.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: In return for reciprocal concessions, the United States Trade Representative is exempting products of Israel from certain Customs user fees, effective with respect to articles entered, or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption, on or after the 15th day after the date of publication of this notice. In addition, the United States Trade Representative is adding Israel to the list of eligible countries under Section 401 of the Rural Electrification Act, as amended.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Madelyn Spirnak, Director for the Middle East and Mediterranean, (202) 395-3320, Office of the U.S. Trade Representative, 600 17th Street, NW., Washington, DC 20508.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Pursuant to section 112 of the Customs and Trade Act of 1990, Pub. L. 101-382, the U.S. Trade Representative upon determining that the Government of Israel has provided reciprocal concessions, may exempt products of Israel from the fees imposed under 13031(a) (9) and (10) of the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985, as amended (19 U.S.C. 58c(a)(9) and (10)). The U.S. Trade Representative has determined that the Government of Israel has provided reciprocal concessions, which include the following:

The Government of Israel published on July 21, 1998 a notice in its official gazette Rashumot eliminating metric packaging requirements and adopting unit pricing procedures for domestic retail sales, thereby eliminating a significant non-tariff barrier on the import of U.S. goods.

The government of Israel increased the tariff rate quota for U.S. in-shell almonds from 180 to 380 metric tons per annum, and has agreed to reduce substantially the in-quota import fee on U.S. shelled and in-shell almonds.

The Government of Israel has taken or is taking a number of steps to facilitate the importation of U.S.-manufactured automobiles. Those steps include the following: since January 1996, automobile registration fees have been imposed according to the price of the automobile, rather than the volume of the engine; as of April 1996, the basis of valuation for income tax purposes was changed from engine size to automobile value; the limitation on maximum engine size was deleted from government procurement tenders; differentiation of purchase tax rates according to automobile engine size was eliminated; and Israel is in the process of reviewing the system of compulsory insurance fees, with a view toward decreasing differentials based on engine size.

Accordingly, pursuant to section 112 of the Customs and Trade Act of 1990 and 19 U.S.C. 58c(b)(11), any product of Israel that is entered, or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption, on or after the 15th day after the date of publication of this notice will not be charged the fees imposed under 19 U.S.C. 58c(a) (9) and (10).

The United States Trade Representative has also determined that, for purposes of Section 401 of the Rural Electrification Act, as amended by Section 342(g) of the Uruguay Round Agreements Act, Pub. L. 103-465 (7 U.S.C. 903 note), the U.S.-Israel Free Trade Area Agreement ensures reciprocal access for United States products and services and United States suppliers to the markets of Israel in the area of telecommunications products and services. Accordingly, under Section 401 of the Rural Electrification Act, as amended (7 U.S.C. 903 note), Israel is hereby added to the list of eligible countries for purchases made by borrowers of funds lent for telecommunications products and services, effective September 1, 1998.

Richard W. Fisher,

Acting United States Trade Representative.
