SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On November 3, 1998, the Authority granted an application for review of the RD's Decision and Order in United States Army Air Defense Artillery Center and Fort Bliss, Fort Bliss, Texas, Case No. DA-RO-60006 (54 FLRA No. 127 (1998)). A summary of that case follows.

1. Background

Following organizing efforts, the National Federation of Federal Employees (NFFE) filed a petition pursuant to section 7111 of the Statute and §2422.2 of the Authority's Regulations, 5 CFR 2422.2, (the Regulations in effect prior to March 15, 1996, are applicable in this case), seeking an election to represent a bargaining unit represented by the National Association of Government Employees (NAGE). NAGE filed an unfair labor practice (ULP) charge, claiming that the Activity unfairly aided NFFE in its attempt to collect signatures by allowing a non-employee NFFE organizer onto its premises. The Regional Director (RD) held the representation case in abeyance until the charge was resolved. NAGE contended that the Activity had permitted the non-employee NFFE organizer access to work areas where employees represented by NAGE worked. NAGE and the Activity settled the ULP charge. Without admitting a violation of the Statute, the Activity agreed to post a notice indicating that it would not permit NFFE access to its premises.

After the settlement of the ULP charge, NFFE argued that the RD should schedule an election and that no hearing was required because the ULP charge had been settled. Instead, the RD scheduled a hearing to determine whether the petition should be dismissed because of the Activity's alleged improper conduct. At the hearing, NFFE claimed that a large number of signatures were lawfully obtained by employees who were assisting NFFE in its organizing efforts and were not obtained by its non-employee organizer, and that there was no showing that its organizer unlawfully obtained any signatures supporting the showing of interest petition. NAGE contended that a hearing was appropriate in the circumstances of this case.

2. The Regional Director's Decision

The RD found that the Activity had improperly granted NFFE access to its premises. The RD determined, based on employees' testimony, that the organizer was seen in work areas during duty hours soliciting signatures, but that no one actually saw the organizer obtain signatures during those times. The RD also determined that NFFE obtained approximately 75 percent of the signatures it collected during a time period that roughly corresponded to the organizer's activity.

Relying on Social Security Administration and National Treasury Employees Union, 52 FLRA 1159 (1997) (Social Security), rev'd in part sub nom. National Treasury Employees Union v. FLRA, 139 F.3d 214 (D.C. Cir. 1998), the RD found that the Activity improperly assisted NFFE, in violation of section 7116(a)(3) of the Statute, when it failed to determine whether NFFE had other
