

proposed to be selected for the captive broodstock program. The amendment also requests the use of remote site incubators to reseed the uppermost reaches of the Tucannon River with spring chinook salmon to aid in the long term recovery and rebuilding of the spring chinook salmon run. Eggs for these incubators would come from the Tucannon River spring chinook supplementation program or from the captive broodstock program. WDFW has also requested some indirect mortalities of the ESA-listed, juvenile fish associated with the research/enhancement activities.

Modification Request Received

WDFW requests modification 2 to permit 1114, which authorizes annual direct takes of adult and juvenile, endangered, naturally produced and artificially propagated, UCR steelhead associated with a smolt monitoring program at Rock Island Dam. For modification 2, WDFW requests takes of juvenile, UCR spring chinook salmon in anticipation of a possible listing decision of this species by NMFS. The requested takes are associated with a proposed research program designed to collect information on juvenile salmonid migration timing, survival, travel timing, and general fish health. The data will be used to make in-season adjustments to water releases from upstream reservoirs that optimize downstream migration conditions. Juvenile salmonids will be collected in a permanent inclined screen trap, anesthetized, examined and/or PIT tagged, allowed to recover from the anesthetic, and released. WDFW has also requested some indirect mortalities of the ESA-listed, juvenile fish associated with the research/enhancement activities. Modification 2 is requested to be valid for the duration of the permit, which expires on December 31, 2002.
