Notice Pursuant to the National Cooperative Research and Production Act of 1993—Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company

Notice is hereby given that, on November 5, 1998, pursuant to Section 6(a) of the National Cooperative Research and Production Act of 1993, 15 U.S.C. 4301 et seq. ("the Act"), Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company ("3M") has filed written notifications simultaneously with the Attorney General and the Federal Trade Commission disclosing (1) the identities of the parties and (2) the nature and objectives of the venture. The notifications were filed for the purpose of invoking the Act's provisions limiting the recovery of antitrust plaintiffs to actual damages under specified circumstances. Pursuant to Section 6(b) of the Act, the identities of the parties are 3M, St. Paul, MN; Honeywell Inc., Minneapolis, MN; RSoft, Inc., Ossining, NY; Precitech, Inc., Keene, NH; Coors Ceramics Company, Golden, CO; and CFR Research Corporation, Huntsville, AL. The nature and objectives of the venture are to establish the infrastructure to enable low cost manufacturing of wide parallel data links. This infrastructure encompasses ceramic-based connectors, heterogeneous integration of optoelectronic devices with Si CMOS electronics, built in "smart link" functionality which will ensure link performance while loosening manufacturing tolerances, and a modeling and simulation infrastructure which will allow rapid adaptation to new link configurations. The goal of use of such an approach to produce low cost cabling and standardized receiver/transmitter interconnections is to result in an industry standard system for massively parallel optical interconnects for circuit boards, compatible with existing chip attach techniques (e.g., wave soldering, etc.). Targets for a system include 36 multimode fiber wide links operating at a data rate of between 1–2 Gbps/fiber with costs comparable to copper.
