

Determination

Based on an analysis of the data submitted by AgrEvo and a review of other scientific data and field tests of the subject corn event, APHIS has determined that corn event MS6: (1) Exhibits no plant pathogenic properties; (2) is no more likely to become a weed than male sterile corn developed by traditional breeding techniques; (3) is unlikely to increase the weediness potential for any other cultivated or wild species with which it can interbreed; (4) will not cause damage to raw or processed agricultural commodities; and (5) will not harm threatened or endangered species or other organisms, such as bees, that are beneficial to agriculture. Therefore, APHIS has concluded that corn event MS6 and any progeny derived from crosses with other corn varieties will be as safe to grow as corn that is not subject to regulation under 7 CFR part 340.

Since APHIS has determined that corn event MS6 does not present a plant pest risk based on its similarity to the antecedent organism, AgrEvo's corn event MS6 will no longer be considered a regulated article under APHIS' regulations in 7 CFR part 340. Therefore, the requirements pertaining to regulated articles under those regulations no longer apply to the field testing, importation, or interstate movement of the subject corn event or its progeny. However, importation of corn event MS6 or seeds capable of propagation are still subject to the restrictions found in APHIS' foreign quarantine notices in 7 CFR part 319.

National Environmental Policy Act

An environmental assessment (EA) has been prepared to examine the potential environmental impacts associated with this determination. The EA was prepared in accordance with: (1) The National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA), as amended (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.), (2) regulations of the Council on Environmental Quality for implementing the procedural provisions of NEPA (40 CFR parts 1500-1508), (3) USDA regulations implementing NEPA (7 CFR part 1b), and (4) APHIS' NEPA Implementing Procedures (7 CFR part 372). Based on that EA, APHIS has reached a finding of no significant impact (FONSI) with regard to its determination that AgrEvo's corn event MS6 and lines developed from it are no longer regulated articles under its regulations in 7 CFR part 340. Copies of the EA and the FONSI are available upon request from the individual listed under FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: Mid- to Upper-Level Management and Sales/Field Representatives Compensation Survey.
Type of Request: New Information Collection.

Abstract: Changing agricultural markets, services, new farming techniques/technology (biotechnology, value-added products, etc.) available to cooperatives require them to closely examine methods to identify, attract, and retain the employment of competent, productive employees. The unique nature of the cooperative business requires the services of employees with special skills in addition to their areas of technical expertise. The "owner is customer" characteristic of cooperatives requires cooperative employees to have skills in education, communications, governance, and member relations that are not typically required of employees in any other type of business. Subsequently, compensation data on the general business population do not reflect the unique requirements of cooperatives. This study will also serve as a guide to established cooperatives.

RBS has received an increasing number of inquiries from cooperatives, farm organizations (National Council of Farmer Cooperatives (NCFC), University extension agents, etc.), and other interested clientele asking for updated data on employee compensation and comparable salary information for various job categories; with an added interest for cooperative directors' compensation. The most recent investigation into compensation for specified job classification was done in 1991. Before that time the most recent study was done in 1962.
