Wyman-Gordon Forgings, Houston, TX; Notice of Revised Determination on Reconsideration

By letter dated September 7, 1999, the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, AFL-CIO (IAM), South Texas District Lodge 37, requested administrative reconsideration of the Department's negative determination applicable to workers of the subject firm.

The initial investigation resulted in a negative determination issued on July 30, 1999, based on the finding that criteria (2) and (3) of the group eligibility requirements of Section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended, were not met for workers of Wyman-Gordon Forgings, Houston, Texas, engaged in employment related to the production of aerospace forgings and extruded products. The denial notice was published in the Federal Register on September 29, 1999 (64 FR 52539).

The IAM asserts that the petition was filed for workers engaged employment related to the work and the associated machinery being sent to Mexico from Houston, specifically part numbers 732, 733 and 734 discs which were high volume items produced at the subject firm plant.

The Department has obtained new evidence showing that the sales of aerospace products at the Houston plant have declined. Other new findings on reconsideration show that the production of aerospace products shifted from the subject firm plant in Houston are being imported to the United States.

The IAM did not present evidence that disputes the Department's finding that increased imports of articles like or directly competitive with extruded products produced by the workers of the subject firm contributed to worker separations.

The workers producing aerospace and extruded products are separately identifiable.

Conclusion

After careful review of the additional facts obtained on reconsideration. I conclude that increased imports of aerospace products contributed importantly to the declines in sales or production and to the total or partial separation of workers of Wyman-Gordon Forgings, Houston, Texas. In accordance with the provisions of the Act. I make the following determination:

All workers of Wyman-Gordon Forgings, Houston, Texas, engaged in employment related to the production of aerospace products, who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after June 7, 1998 through two years from the date of this certification are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974, and

I further determine that after reconsideration. I affirm the original notice of negative determination of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance for workers and former workers engaged in employment related to extruded products at Wyman-Gordon Forgings, Houston, Texas.

Signed at Washington, DC this 15th day of November 1999.
