Fairchild Semiconductor Corp., a Subsidiary of Fairchild Semiconductor International, Inc., Including Temporary Workers of Manpower, South Portland, ME; Amended Certification Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2273) the Department of Labor issued a Certification of Eligibility to Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance on August 6, 2003, applicable to workers of Fairchild Semiconductor Corporation, a subsidiary of Fairchild Semiconductor International, Inc., South Portland, Maine. The notice was published in the Federal Register on August 18, 2003 (68 FR 49523).

At the request of the State agency, the Department reviewed the certification for workers of the subject firm. Information provided by the company shows that temporary workers of Manpower were employed at Fairchild Semiconductor Corporation to produce semiconductor devices at the South Portland, Maine location of the subject firm.

Based on these findings, the Department is amending this certification to include temporary workers of Manpower working at Fairchild Semiconductor Corporation, a subsidiary of Fairchild Semiconductor International, Inc., South Portland, Maine.

The intent of the Department's certification is to include all workers of Fairchild Semiconductor Corporation, a subsidiary of Fairchild Semiconductor International, Inc., who were adversely affected by increased imports.

The amended notice applicable to TA-W-52,136 is hereby issued as follows:

All workers of Fairchild Semiconductor Corporation, a subsidiary of Fairchild Semiconductor International, Inc., South Portland, Maine, including temporary workers of Manpower, producing semiconductor devices at Fairchild Semiconductor Corporation, a subsidiary of Fairchild Semiconductor International, Inc., South Portland, Maine, who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after June 9, 2002, through August 6, 2005, are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974.

Signed at Washington, DC, this 6th day of November, 2003.

Linda G. Poole,

Certifying Officer, Division of Trade Adjustment Assistance.

Fisher Pierce, Weymouth, MA; Notice of Revised Determination on Reconsideration

By application of August 26, 2003, a company official requested administrative reconsideration regarding the Department's Negative Determination Regarding Eligibility to Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance, applicable to the workers of the subject firm.

The initial investigation resulted in a negative determination issued on July 31, 2003, based on the finding that imports of outdoor lighting controls and printed circuit boards (PCBs) did not contribute importantly to worker separations at the subject plant and no shift of production to a foreign source occurred. The denial notice was published in the Federal Register on August 18, 2003 (68 FR 49523).

To support the request for reconsideration, the company official supplied additional information not made available in the initial investigation. A review of this additional information revealed that the company shifted a significant portion of its production to Mexico, which is party to a free trade agreement with the United States.

Conclusion

After careful review of the additional facts obtained on reconsideration, I conclude that increased imports of articles like or directly competitive with those produced at Fisher Pierce, Weymouth, Massachusetts, contributed importantly to the declines in sales or production and to the total or partial separation of workers at the subject firm. In accordance with the provisions of the Act, I make the following certification:

All workers of Fisher Pierce, Weymouth, Massachusetts, who became totally or partially separated from employment on or
