projects, and owners of private multifamily residential building projects. Total projected cost estimates are requested the first month and monthly progress reports are requested until the project is completed.

The Census Bureau uses the information collected on these forms to publish estimates of the monthly value of construction put in place: (1) For nonresidential projects owned by private companies or individuals; (2) for projects owned by state and local agencies; and (3) for multifamily residential building projects owned by private companies or individuals. Statistics from CPRS become part of the monthly "Value of Construction Put in Place" series that is used extensively by the Federal Government in making policy decisions and become part of the gross domestic product (GDP). Construction now accounts for more than eight percent of GDP.

Published statistics are used by all levels of government to evaluate economic policy, to measure progress toward national goals, to make policy decisions, and to formulate legislation. For example, the Bureau of Economic Analysis uses the data to develop national accounts. The Federal Reserve Board and the Department of the Treasury use the value of construction put in place data to forecast GDP. The private sector uses the statistics for market analysis and other research such as estimating the demand for building materials and to schedule production distribution and sales efforts.

Affected Public: Individuals or households; Business or other for-profit; State, local or tribal government; Notfor-profit institutions.

Improved coverage is one of the four major goals for Census 2010. As part of the effort to meet this goal, the Census Bureau is planning to conduct a new operation in conjunction with the 2004 Census Test. CRFU is intended to evaluate the effectiveness of revised procedures for improving coverage and reducing duplication. The CRFU operation will gather information regarding the effectiveness of the wording and presentation of the residence rules instructions and the two coverage questions included in the 2004 Census Test questionnaire. CRFU also will obtain information about the types of possible duplicates for which a household (HH) should be contacted in order to resolve residence status.

The CRFU operation will be followed by a Quality Control procedure designed to ensure that the CRFU enumerators completed their interviews and recorded respondent information correctly.

Affected Public: Individuals or households.
