The dates and times for the workshop and meeting are provided above.

Background: The ongoing growth of ecological risk assessment has prompted the SAB EPEC to undertake a project to develop information on the current state-of-the-practice of ecological risk assessment. The goal of the project is to evaluate ecological risk assessment practices and to provide advice and recommendations to EPA regarding ways to enhance the conduct and application of ecological risk assessment in environmental decision making. To complete this project, the SAB EPEC plans to hold a public workshop in order to develop information on: (1) Application of ecological risk assessment in decision making and (2) technical themes and issues regarding ecological risk assessment. EPEC will use the workshop proceedings to develop advice and recommendations to EPA. The workshop, focusing on application of ecological risk assessment in decision making, will be held at the dates and times indicated above. The workshop will include: SAB members and EPA staff on the workshop steering committee, members of the SAB Ecological Processes and Effects Committee, and invited EPA and outside experts in the field of ecological risk assessment. The workshop will begin with a series of plenary presentations focusing on the application of ecological risk assessment: in product health and safety decision-making, management of contaminated sites, and natural resources protection. Following the plenary presentations, participants will be assigned to breakout groups to discuss key cross-cutting issues in the application of ecological risk assessment in decision making. The workshop will conclude with the attendees identifying opportunities to advance the state-of-the-practice of ecological risk assessment for application in decision making. SAB EPEC will meet following the workshop at the time and date identified above to develop workshop proceedings.
