Uncovered Innerspring Units From the People's Republic of China: Initiation of Anticircumvention Inquiry

AGENCY: Import Administration, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce.

SUMMARY: In response to a request from Leggett & Platt Incorporated ("Petitioner"), the Department of Commerce ("the Department") is initiating an anticircumvention inquiry to determine whether certain imports are circumventing the antidumping duty order on uncovered innerspring units from the People's Republic of China ("PRC").¹

DATES: Effective Date: May 23, 2012.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Susan Pulongbarit or Steven Hampton, AD/CVD Operations, Office 9, Import Administration, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20230; telephone: (202) 482-4031, or (202) 482-0116 respectively.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On December 31, 2007, Petitioner filed a petition seeking imposition of antidumping duties on imports of uncovered innerspring units from, among other countries, the PRC.² Following completion of an investigation by the Department and the U.S. International Trade Commission ("the Commission"), the Department imposed antidumping duties in the amounts of 234.51 percent on the mandatory respondent, Foshan Jingxin Steel & Wire Spring Co., Ltd., and 164.75 percent on seven companies that qualified for separate rates.³

In the second administrative review of the Order,⁴ Petitioner requested that the Department review Rezttec Industries Sdn Bhd ("Rezttec").⁵ The Department initiated the review on March 31, 2011⁶ and sent questionnaires to the named respondents, including Rezttec. On May 19, 2011, in response to the Department's questionnaire, Rezttec submitted a no-shipment letter to the Department and certified that it did not export PRC-origin uncovered

² The petition also included imports of uncovered innerspring units from South Africa and the Socialist Republic of Vietnam. See Uncovered Innerspring Units From the People's Republic of China, South Africa, and the Socialist Republic of Vietnam: Initiation of Antidumping Duty Investigations, 73 FR 4817 (January 28, 2008).

³ Order, 74 FR at 7662.

⁴ The second administrative review covered the period of review ("POR") February 1, 2010, through January 31, 2011. See Initiation of Antidumping Duty Administrative Reviews, Requests for Revocation in Part, and Deferral of Administrative Review, 76 FR 17825 (March 31, 2011).

innerspring units to the United States during the POR.⁷ However, in its no-shipment letter, Rezttec stated that it, "does purchase some raw materials from China, some of which is {sic} used to produce innerspring units in Malaysia" and that "{t}hese Chinese raw materials are further processed in Malaysia and combined with other materials into finished innerspring units and mattresses, for sale within Malaysia and for export."⁸ On April 12, 2012, the Department determined that Rezttec did not sell subject merchandise during the POR and rescinded the review with respect to Rezttec.⁹

On February 29, 2012, pursuant to section 781(b) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended ("the Act"), and section 351.225(h) of the Department's regulations, Petitioner submitted a request for the Department to initiate an anticircumvention inquiry of Rezttec to determine whether Rezttec's innerspring units completed and assembled in Malaysia from PRC-origin components constitute circumvention of the Order.¹⁰ In its request, Petitioner contends that Rezttec, by its own admission in its no-shipment letter, imports innerspring unit components from the PRC to Malaysia, further assembles these components into uncovered innerspring units, and exports the assembled innerspring units to the United States in the form of subject merchandise.¹¹ Petitioner argues that Rezttec's operations constitute minor further assembly in a third country, i.e. Malaysia. On April 2, 2012, the Department extended the deadline to initiate a circumvention inquiry by 45 days, pursuant to section 351.302(b) of the Department's regulations.¹²

Scope of the Order

The merchandise subject to the order is uncovered innerspring units composed of a series of individual metal springs joined together in sizes corresponding to the sizes of adult
