SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Abstract

The U.S. Census Bureau is requesting to continue to use Form BC-170, U.S. Census Employment Application and Form BC-171, Additional Applicant Information. There are no changes requested to these forms at this time.

The Census Bureau uses these forms to collect applicant information. Selecting officials use Form BC-170 as part of the recruitment, assessment, and selection process for potential field employees. The form was used for the Decennial Census and will continue to be used for Current/Permanent Surveys, upcoming Special Censuses as well as Decennial Census tests. Applicants applying for Current/Permanent Survey positions will submit a paper version of these forms at no cost to the applicant. An online version of these forms will be used for Special Censuses and Decennial Census tests.

In 2018, Form BC-171, Additional Applicant Information replaced Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) common use from 3046-0046, Demographic Information on Applicants for Federal Employment to collect voluntary applicant data and is not used in the selection process.

The Census Bureau intends for applicants to access, complete, and submit both the BC-170 and BC-171 to human resources staff via an online applicant system for census jobs. The Census Bureau will continue to use a paper version of the BC-170 and BC-171 forms for applicants to complete and submit to the Regional Office for the Field Representative, Field Supervisor, and temporary clerical positions until an online version is available for this group of applicants. Lastly, the online version, paper forms and the online PDF format forms will be available in Spanish for Puerto Rico.
