

2021, which alone will bring 10,000 VIP Guests to KSC. Numbers like these necessitate a skilled set of over 200 bus escorts for a single launch. The need for VIP bus escorts is essential and urgent. Artemis-1 will reach 1/2 of the expected total number guests for 2021 which is 22,000. The number of guests requires 300 bus escorts, which is 300% greater than the total bus escorts needed in all of the combined launches in 2019.

Bus escorts and additional site leads need to be recruited internally from NASA Kennedy Space Center's internal civil servants and contractors. Guest Operations is looking for GO TEAM bus escorts who "have the right stuff" to address and speak to NASA's highest level guests. As such those NSPIREHub (NASA Serves the Public to Inspire, Reach out, and Engage) staff applicants need to be screened to help assess if they can serve as high-caliber NASA Spokespeople.
