

opportunities. The Commission notes that although the proposal will allow bids and offers for stock-option orders to be expressed in any decimal price the Exchange determines, the option component(s) of such an order will continue to be executed in $0.01 increments. In addition, the Exchange's rules will continue to protect Priority Customer interest by providing, among other things, that if any component of a complex strategy would be executed at a price that is equal to a Priority Customer bid or offer on the Simple Book, at least one other option component of the complex strategy must trade at a price that is better than the corresponding MBBO.⁴³ The proposal also protects investors by codifying in the Exchange's rules that a member that submits a cQCC order to the Exchange (with or without the stock component) represents that the order satisfies the requirements of a qualified contingent trade and agrees to provide information to the Exchange related to the execution of the stock component of the order. For these reasons, the Commission designates the proposal operative upon filing.⁴⁴

At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission summarily may temporarily suspend such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. If the Commission takes such action, the Commission shall institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule should be approved or disapproved.
