

4. Agencies provide public access to legal materials in different ways. Agencies make some materials available to the general public on their own initiative without having received a request from a member of the public (i.e., proactive disclosure). Other materials are provided to members of the public on request. What types of legal materials should agencies proactively disclose to the general public? What types of legal materials may or should agencies disclose only in response to a request from a member of the public?

5. For agency legal materials that should be proactively disclosed, where or how should agencies make them publicly available (on agency websites, in the Federal Register, or elsewhere)?

6. Are there certain types of agency legal materials, or certain types of information contained in agency legal materials, that agencies should not make publicly available? When there is public interest in these types of materials or information, how should agencies balance the public interest in disclosure with any private or governmental interests in nondisclosure?

7. Some statutes governing the public availability of agency legal materials apply to most or all agencies (e.g., Federal Register Act), whereas others apply to only one or a small number of agencies (e.g., Food and Drug Administration Modernization Act of 1997). When should Congress create disclosure requirements that apply to most or all agencies, and when should Congress create disclosure requirements that apply to only one or a small number of agencies?

8. Are there certain best practices regarding disclosure of legal materials on agency websites that should be required by statute (e.g., indexing of legal materials, search functions to help find legal materials)? If so, should these practices be required for all legal materials or only certain types of legal materials?

9. What inconsistencies, ambiguities, and overlaps exist in the main statutes governing disclosure of agency legal materials (e.g., FOIA, Federal Register Act, E-Government Act of 2002, Federal Records Act) that Congress should remedy?

10. What other statutory reforms might be warranted to ensure adequate public availability of agency legal materials?

Dated: May 13, 2022.

Shawne McGibbon,
General Counsel.

Food Safety and Inspection Service

Title: Importation and Transportation of Meat, Poultry and Egg Products.

OMB Control Number: 0583–0094.

Summary of Collection: The Food Safety and Inspection Service (FSIS) has been delegated the authority to exercise the functions of the Secretary as provided in the Federal Meat Inspection Act (FMIA) (21 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) and the Poultry Products Inspection Act (PPIA) (21 U.S.C. 451 et seq.), and the Egg Products Inspection Act (EPIA) (21 U.S.C. 1031, et seq.) These statutes mandate that FSIS protect the public by ensuring that meat, poultry, and egg products are safe, wholesome, unadulterated, and properly labeled and packaged. Meat and poultry products not marked with the mark of inspection and shipped from one official establishment to another for further processing must be transported under FSIS seal to prevent such unmarked product from entering commerce. To track product shipped under seal, FSIS requires shipping establishments to complete a form that identifies the type, amount, and weight of the product.

Need and Use of the Information: FSIS will collect information using form 7350–1, Request and Notice of Shipment of Sealed Meat/Poultry. FSIS will collect the name, number, method of shipping, and destination of product, type, and description of product to be shipped, reason for shipping product, and a signature. Foreign countries that wish to export meat, poultry, and egg products to the United States must establish eligibility to do so by putting in place inspection systems that are “equivalent to” the U.S. inspection system (9 CFR 327.2 and 381.196) and by annually certifying that they continue to do so. Meat, poultry, and egg products intended for importation into the U.S. must be accompanied by an inspection certificate signed by an official of the foreign government responsible for the inspection and certification of the product.

Description of Respondents: Business or other for-profit.

Number of Respondents: 56.

Frequency of Responses: Recordkeeping; Reporting; On occasion.

Total Burden Hours: 3,679.
