

such as pasture estimates into native pasture and improved pasture due to large price differences and input costs associated with each type of pasture.

A data request highlighted this limit: A data user (landlord) was trying to renegotiate the rental rate with their lessee on a large amount of Bermuda grass pastureland. They were given the pasture rate from the USDA–NASS 2017 Cash Rents Survey for the county ($10/ac), district ($12/ac), and the State ($13/ac). The data user was able to find the OSU–DAE pasture rates for 2016/2017 for Bermuda (Improved Pasture) in his Region ($24.55) and at the State level ($22.79). The data user would have lost $12 to $14/per acre if used only the USDA–NASS Cash Rents Survey data alone.

Description of Respondents: Farmers and ranchers in Oklahoma.

Number of Respondents: 2,700.

Frequency of Responses: Reporting: One a year.

Total Burden Hours: 1,022.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Pursuant to the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a), notice is given that the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is proposing to add a new system of records, entitled USDA/APHIS–21, Smuggling Interdiction and Trade Compliance (SITC) National Information Communication Activity System (SNICAS), to maintain a record of activities conducted by the agency pursuant to its mission and responsibilities authorized by the Plant Protection Act (7 U.S.C. 7701 et seq.); the Animal Health Protection Act (7 U.S.C. 8301 et seq.); and the Honey Bee Act (7 U.S.C. 281 et seq.). The purpose of the system is to record data and information about APHIS' SITC activities nationwide. SITC is within APHIS' Plant Protection and Quarantine program.

SNICAS supports the mission of SITC programs by providing, to SITC and other agency personnel, information that can be used to assist with detecting and preventing the unlawful entry and distribution into the United States of prohibited and/or non-compliant products that may harbor exotic plant and animal pests, diseases, or invasive species. SITC focuses on anti-smuggling and trade compliance efforts at ports of entry in the United States and in commerce to prevent the establishment of plant and animal pests and diseases, while maintaining the safety of U.S. ecosystems and natural resources. SITC is responsible for collecting, maintaining, and reviewing information to successfully and efficiently meet its mission.

SNICAS consists of a web-based system and paper records and contains information related to commodities that have been physically inspected and/or surveyed by SITC. The system contains records pertaining to U.S. ports of entry and commerce locations that are inspected or surveyed during daily operations. SNICAS also maintains and communicates information associated with SITC operational and administrative activities.

SITC officials use the information in SNICAS to identify and close pathways used for the introduction of prohibited commodities and those regulated commodities that lack the necessary certificates and permits to enter into U.S. commerce. SITC officials also use SNICAS to perform activities such as legal and regulatory actions; scientific research; risk, trend, pathway and targeting analyses; trade support; administrative and budgetary support; supervision and program management; and overall decision support services. Additionally, SITC officials use SNICAS to generate reports to evaluate the risk status of the commercial sites where regulated commodities are seized, the effectiveness of the program, and quality control of the data.

APHIS will share information from the system pursuant to the requirements of the Privacy Act and, in the case of its routine uses, when the disclosure is compatible with the purpose for which the information was compiled. However, APHIS proposes to exempt some records in the system from certain Privacy Act requirements in accordance with 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(2). APHIS proposes to exempt the system from Privacy Act requirements including subsections (c)(3); (d); (e)(1); (e)(4)(G), (H), and (I); and (f). A proposed rule has been promulgated in accordance with the requirements of 5 U.S.C. 553(b), (c), and (d) and has been published in today's Federal Register¹. An individual who is the subject of a record in this system may seek access to those records that are not exempt from the access provisions. A determination whether a record may be accessed will be made at the time a request is received.

A report on the new system of records, required by 5 U.S.C. 552a(r), as implemented by Office of Management and Budget Circular A-108, was sent to the Chairman, Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs, United States Senate; the Chairwoman, Committee on Oversight and Reform, House of Representatives; and the Administrator, Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget.

Done in Washington, DC, this 21st day of June 2022.

Anthony Shea,

Administrator, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR STORAGE OF RECORDS:

Electronic and paper records are stored at locations listed under "System Location" above. All documentation that exists in paper form is maintained by PPQ SITC officials nationwide, while electronic data are stored on hard disks within their work units or on the Azure cloud hosted by APHIS.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR RETRIEVAL OF RECORDS:

SNICAS users can query and retrieve records on the following fields: Permit or emergency action notification form serial number, name of individual or business, address, and telephone number. Users can also search for records using a global search engine, quick list drop-down menu, or using the reports section of the system.

Records cannot be retrieved by Social Security number, birthdate, vehicle identification number, and tax identification numbers. However, this information may be contained in attached documents. These attached documents can only be accessed through associated parent records, and these documents can only be viewed by authorized SITC officials.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR RETENTION AND DISPOSAL OF RECORDS:

APHIS is in the process of requesting records disposition authority from NARA, and these records will be retained until appropriate disposition authority is obtained from NARA.

ADMINISTRATIVE, TECHNICAL, AND PHYSICAL SAFEGUARDS:

SNICAS is a web-based system that can be accessed by individuals authorized by PPQ on a need-to-know basis. Authorized users can gain access to SNICAS records via a secure government network, which is only accessible after a user is added to the system by a system administrator and when the user logs onto the password-protected network. If the end user is away from their designated workstation, they can connect through the internet via a secure virtual private network connection. Security measures are in place to prevent outsiders from entering the system. Integrated Network Authentication is required for access to the system. The access control list for the database validates against the network identification of the user creating a 2-layer authentication scheme. PPQ SITC personnel have access to all of the data in the system but are limited to certain actions based on their assigned role. Non-SITC personnel within the agency may be provided "read-only" access allowing users to view all data within SNICAS but restricts editing or downloading data. These accounts use integrated network authentication to validate the end user and restrict access.

Electronic records are stored on secure file servers. SNICAS users gain access to the system through the system administrator with designated user-defined roles and level of access. SNICAS users obtain user -identification accounts that allow password-protected access through the intranet. Access is only available to computers logged onto the APHIS network. Domain network logon credentials are used to validate a user's access against a list of allowed SNICAS logons kept within the database, creating a 2-tier validation strategy. The web-based service identifies and validates USDA customers before they can access SNICAS.

Paper files are maintained in a safeguarded environment with controlled access only by authorized personnel. SITC officers, analysts, and supervisors are in positions of public trust that require background investigations and security clearances. Employees are also required to complete appropriate training to learn requirements for safeguarding records maintained under the Privacy Act.

SNICAS safeguards records and ensures that privacy requirements are met in accordance with Federal cyber security mandates. SNICAS provides continuous storage management, security administration, regular dataset backups, and contingency planning/ disaster recovery.
