I. Relevant Statutory Requirements

Section 3652(e)(1) of title 39 of the United States Code requires the Commission to prescribe the content and form of the public reports that the Postal Service files with the Commission. 39 U.S.C. 3652(e)(1). In doing so, the Commission must attempt to provide the public with timely information that is adequate to allow it to assess the lawfulness of Postal Service rates, should attempt to avoid unnecessary or unwarranted Postal Service effort and expense, and must endeavor to protect the confidentiality of commercially sensitive information. See id. The Commission may initiate proceedings to improve the quality, accuracy, or completeness of Postal Service reporting whenever it determines that the service performance data have become significantly inadequate, could be significantly improved, or otherwise require revision as necessitated by the public interest. 39 U.S.C. 3652(e)(2).

Additionally, section 3692 directs the Postal Service to develop and maintain a publicly available online "dashboard" that provides weekly service performance data for Market Dominant products and mandates that the Commission provide reporting requirements for this Postal Service dashboard as well as "recommendations for any modifications to the Postal Service's measurement systems necessary to measure and publish the performance information" located on the dashboard. 39 U.S.C. 3692(b)(2), (c). The Postal Service is also authorized to provide certain nonpostal services to the public and other Governmental agencies and consequently required to periodically report the quality of service for these nonpostal services. See 39 U.S.C. 3703-3705.

II. Background

Pursuant to 39 U.S.C. 503, 3652, 3653, 3692 and 3705, the Commission initiated Docket No. RM2022-7 to update the service performance reporting requirements codified in 39 CFR part 3055 and make the aforementioned additions for dashboard and nonpostal product reporting. On April 26, 2022, the Commission issued Order No. 6160, proposing several modifications to the reporting requirements, providing an opportunity for interested persons to comment, and appointing a Public Representative.¹ Included among these suggested modifications were proposals to require the Postal Service to report average actual days to delivery and point impact data, information regarding the performance for each national operating plan target, and data about mail excluded from measurement. Order No. 6160 at 5-6. The Commission also solicited comments on how best to effectuate the statutes requiring the Postal Service to report on nonpostal products and implement a performance dashboard. Id. at 6-8.

The Commission received a wide range of comments in response to Order No. 6160, both discussing the suggested revisions and proposing additional amendments to the reporting requirements.

III. Basis and Purpose of Proposed Rules

After reviewing the commenters' suggestions and analysis, the Commission proposes the following rules.

¹ Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking to Revise Periodic Reporting of Service Performance, April 26, 2022 (Order No. 6160).

First, the Commission proposes a provision requiring the Postal Service to report average actual “delivery days”—i.e., days in which Market Dominant products are eligible for delivery—for each Market Dominant product. The Commission finds the metric of average actual delivery days an easier metric to understand for some mailers than the percentage of on-time delivery metric. Under this proposed provision, the Postal Service must also report the following information on dispersion around the average: percent delivered within +1 day of service standard, percent delivered within +2 days of service standard, and percent delivered within +3 days of service standard. These data must be reported for each Market Dominant product at the current District, Postal Administrative Area (Area), and National levels both quarterly in the Service Performance Measurement (SPM) reports and annually in the Annual Compliance Review (ACR) reports.

Second, the Commission proposes a provision requiring the Postal Service to report point impact data for the top 10 root causes of on-time performance failures for each Market Dominant product (except those included in Special Services) that did not meet its service performance goal pursuant to § 3055.2(d). Balancing the utility of the data with the burden to the Postal Service, the Commission notes that point impact data is useful for isolating significant drivers of delay for products that do not meet their service performance goals while avoiding the additional costs of reporting on products that do. For First-Class Mail products that do not meet their service performance goals, the Postal Service must report the top 10 root causes of failure at both the Area level and National level. For the remaining Market Dominant products that do not meet service performance targets, the Postal Service must report the top 10 root causes of failure at the National level. Reporting must occur annually in the ACR.

Third, the Commission proposes that the Postal Service report data related to its Site-Specific Operating Plans (SSOPs), by Region and Division (as identified in the SSOPs) and at the National level, both quarterly and annually. The Commission originally suggested that the Postal Service report the performance for each national operating plan target; however, because the Postal Service reported that it no longer uses such targets, the Commission determined that SSOP information should be utilized instead. While these new data do not specifically address the performance of the entire postal network, they do provide performance data (i.e., percent on-time performance for each SSOP measurement category, such as “Flat Sequencing System”) subdivided into Regions and Divisions as well as at the National total.

Fourth, the Commission proposes that Postal Service report the performance of each nonpostal product in the ACR, as required by 39 U.S.C. 3705. The Commission proposes that these performance data be disaggregated by District and Area as well as for the Nation on an annual and quarterly basis.

Fifth, the Commission proposes that the Postal Service report: (a) mail excluded from measurement, disaggregated by reason(s) for exclusion; and (b) mail volumes measured and unmeasured by Full Service Intelligent Mail barcode (IMb). With respect to reporting such mail volumes disaggregated by reason for exclusion, the Commission proposes that the current quarterly report (filed as a spreadsheet attachment to the Postal Service’s quarterly reports on service performance) be modified to include the number of mailpieces excluded from measurement for each exclusion category as well as the percentage of the total exclusions represented by that exclusion category. This additional reporting is warranted because the percentage calculations alone without the supporting volume data do not allow for the evaluation of performance trends over time. The Postal Service must report these data both on a quarterly basis on the same schedule as its Quarterly Reports pursuant to 39 CFR part 3055, subpart B (in other words, 40 days after the close of the quarter) and annually in the ACR. Regarding the report on mail volume measured and unmeasured by IMb, for each field in the current form (filed as a spreadsheet attachment to the Postal Service’s quarterly reports on service performance), the Postal Service should also present the same data point from the same period in the previous year. In addition, the Postal Service should present for each product category: (1) the percentage of mailpieces in measurement compared to total mailpieces; (2) the percentage of mailpieces not in measurement compared to total mailpieces; (3) the percentage of Full-Service IMb mailpieces in measurement compared to total IMb Full-Service mailpieces; and (4) the percentage of Full-Service IMb mailpieces not in measurement compared to total IMb Full-Service mailpieces. These additional data points will be valuable for mailers and the Commission to evaluate measured and unmeasured mail volumes over time. The Postal Service should report these data on a quarterly basis, 60 days after the close of each quarter, and annually in the ACR. The Commission also proposes codifying the existing requirement that the Postal Service must provide descriptions of the current methodologies used to verify the accuracy, reliability, and representativeness of service performance data for each service performance measurement system 90 days after the close of each fiscal year.²

Sixth, pursuant to 39 U.S.C. 3692(b)(2) and (c), the Commission proposes the specific requirements for the Postal Service’s online dashboard of service performance data for each Market Dominant product. The Commission proposes requiring the Postal Service to present service performance results for each ZIP Code, District, and Area, as well as at the National level, updated on a weekly basis. The dashboard should include a 5-Digit ZIP Code lookup feature that allows the user to see the service performance results for their ZIP Code and match their ZIP Codes with the corresponding District and Area. With respect to the specific service performance information available on the dashboard, it must provide the following data (at a minimum): (1) service performance (measured as a percent on-time delivery and average delivery days) by each Market Dominant mail class, product, and applicable service standard by District, Area, Nation, and 5-Digit ZIP Code; (2) service performance (measured as a percent on-time delivery and average delivery days) by Market Dominant mail class, product, and applicable service standard, by time period of the user’s selection, along with the previous two fiscal years; and (3) service performance (measured as a percent on-time delivery and average delivery days) by Market Dominant mail class, product, and applicable service standard based on a selected pair of origin/destination 3-Digit or 5-Digit ZIP Code that a user would choose. The dashboard should improve transparency, promote accountability, provide actionable data, and thus lead to improved service performance. The Commission also proposes that the Postal Service report several other categories of mail on the dashboard: (1) political and election mail; (2) Reply Mail within the First-Class Single-Piece Mail category; and (3) nonprofit mail (specifically USPS Marketing Mail mailpieces that qualify for reduced rates pursuant to 39 U.S.C. 3626(a)(6) and the regulations promulgated thereunder and Periodicals mailpieces that qualify for reduced rates pursuant to 39 U.S.C. 3626(a)(4) and the regulations promulgated thereunder).

Seventh, the Commission proposes to formally codify requirements that will ensure the continuation of the existing auditing program³ and to consolidate the existing requirements (which are dispersed in multiple orders).⁴ Therefore, consistent with the existing auditing program, the Commission proposes to require that: (1) the Postal Service shall continue with its program to provide third-party audits of its service performance measurement systems; (2) for any measure deemed by the auditor to be not achieved or partially achieved, the Postal Service shall continue to include its response explaining the Postal Service's mitigation plan; (3) the Postal Service shall file each audit report (and its response) with the Commission no later than 60 days after each applicable reporting quarter; and (4) the audit reports shall continue to specifically include inbound and outbound single-piece First-Class Mail International and the Green Card option of the Return Receipt as well as the metrics used to perform the audits and analysis specific to these types of services.

Finally, the Commission proposes several typographical changes to the existing regulations, including updates to terminology and deleting unnecessary references.
