

or copies of all written communications sent, by such municipal advisor relating to municipal advisory activities.⁶⁶

The MSRB estimates that the annual costs for fulfilling the requirements associated with the use of testimonials in advertisements would be no more than $400 per municipal advisor per year, assuming each municipal advisor would use approximately five testimonials per year, based on the SEC's 2019 estimated ongoing costs for investment advisers using testimonials and endorsements.⁶⁷ The MSRB does not expect any of the cost components to be a major burden for municipal advisors. Furthermore, individual municipal advisory firms may decide whether it is cost-effective to use testimonials in advertising when weighing against the associated requirements and the compliance costs, as the usage of testimonials is optional. It is expected that municipal advisors would only choose to include testimonials in their advertisements if the expected benefits exceed the expected costs of doing so.

Effect on Competition, Efficiency and Capital Formation

The proposed amendments to MSRB Rule G-40 and MSRB Rule G-8 would be applicable to all municipal advisors and would help ensure that all regulated entities dually registered as a dealer and as a municipal advisor, or as an investment adviser with the SEC and as a municipal advisor, are subject to consistent standards on the use of testimonials in advertisements. The proposed amendments to MSRB Rule G-40 and MSRB Rule G-8 would therefore promote efficiency in the marketplace.

The MSRB believes that proposed amended MSRB Rule G-40 and MSRB Rule G-8 would not impose an unnecessary or inappropriate regulatory burden on small municipal advisory firms, as the potential benefits from using testimonials in advertising would be applicable to all municipal advisors and should be proportionate to each municipal advisory firm's business activities. The proposed amendments to MSRB Rule G-40 and MSRB Rule G-8 therefore should not negatively affect competition and capital formation; it may improve competition among municipal advisors by allowing another method for advertising. The MSRB believes that permitting municipal advisors to use a testimonial in an advertisement would be particularly helpful for small municipal advisors to highlight the services provided to other municipal advisory clients.
