Extensions of Time Limits

Parties may request an extension of time limits before the expiration of a time limit established under 19 CFR 351.301, or as otherwise specified by Commerce. In general, an extension request will be considered untimely if it is filed after the expiration of the time limit established under 19 CFR 351.301.⁵² For submissions that are due from multiple parties simultaneously, an extension request will be considered untimely if it is filed after 10:00 a.m. ET on the due date. Under certain circumstances, Commerce may elect to specify a different time limit by which extension requests will be considered untimely for submissions which are due from multiple parties simultaneously. In such a case, we will inform parties in a letter or memorandum of the deadline (including a specified time) by which extension requests must be filed to be considered timely. An extension request must be made in a separate, standalone submission; under limited circumstances we will grant untimely filed requests for the extension of time limits, where we determine, based on 19 CFR 351.302, that extraordinary circumstances exist. Parties should review Commerce's regulations concerning the extension of time limits and the Time Limits Final Rule prior to submitting factual information in these investigations.⁵³

Certification Requirements

Any party submitting factual information in an AD or CVD proceeding must certify to the accuracy and completeness of that information.⁵⁴ Parties must use the certification formats provided in 19 CFR 351.303(g).⁵⁵ Commerce intends to reject factual submissions if the submitting party does not comply with the applicable certification requirements.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

In accordance with section 315 of the Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972, as amended (16 U.S.C. 1461), and its implementing regulations (15 CFR part 921), and the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, as amended (42 U.S.C. 4321), and its implementing regulations (40 CFR part 1500), NOAA and the State intend to prepare a draft environmental impact statement for the proposed Bay of Green Bay National Estuarine Research Reserve. Early in the development of this document, NOAA and the State are required to hold a scoping meeting to solicit public and government comments on significant issues related to this proposed action. (15 CFR 921.13(c)).

NOAA received the State's nomination of the proposed multicomponent site on December 29, 2022. NOAA evaluated the nomination package and found that the proposed site met the research reserve system's requirements. NOAA informed the State in early 2024 that it was approving the nomination and that the next step would be to prepare a draft environmental impact statement and draft management plan. The draft environmental impact statement will assess the potential environmental and socioeconomic impacts of designating the State's proposed site as a National Estuarine Research Reserve System site, and identify and assess the impacts of boundary alternatives. The draft management plan will set a course for operating the Bay of Green Bay National Estuarine Research Reserve once approved, and will include plans for administration, research, education, and facilities for the proposed site. (See 15 CFR 921.13.)

The State's proposed site consists of three components, including all or portions of the following State, university, county, local government, or land trust-owned properties: the Peshtigo Harbor State Wildlife Area, Bloch Oxbow State Natural Area, and Badger Gift Lands; the Peats Lake, Sensiba, Tibbet-Suamico, and Long Tail Units within the Green Bay West Shores Wildlife Area; the Suamico River State Habitat Area; Barkhausen Waterfowl Preserve; Fort Howard Wildlife Area; Gordon Nauman Conservation Area; Ken Euers Nature Area; Point au Sable and Wequiock Creek Natural Areas; Crossroads at Big Creek; the Strawberry Creek Chinook Facility, and Sturgeon Bay Ship Canal Nature Preserve.

The proposed site resulted from the State's comprehensive evaluation process that sought input from the public, affected landowners, and other interested parties. The State held public kickoff meetings in April 2021 to describe the research reserve system, explain the rationale for establishing a reserve in the Bay of Green Bay, and outline a process for selecting and nominating a site to NOAA. The State assembled committees composed of State and Federal agency representatives, Tribal Nations, academia, non-governmental organizations, members of the public, and local units of government. These committees conducted preliminary screening, developed and applied site selection criteria, scored those sites that showed the most potential, and ultimately recommended a site for the future reserve. The State and NOAA held public hearings on September 7 and 8, 2022, to solicit comments on the proposed site. For more detailed information on the site selection process and the proposed site, see the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay's research reserve website: uwgb.edu/national-estuarine-research-reserves.
