V. Executive Orders 12866 and 13563

Executive Orders (E.O.s) 12866 and 13563 direct agencies to assess all costs and benefits of available regulatory alternatives and, if regulation is necessary, to select regulatory approaches that maximize net benefits (including potential economic, environmental, public health and safety effects, distributive impacts, and equity). E.O. 13563 emphasizes the importance of quantifying both costs and benefits, of reducing costs, of harmonizing rules, and of promoting flexibility. This is not a significant regulatory action and, therefore, was not subject to review under section 6(b) of E.O. 12866, Regulatory Planning and Review, as amended.

VI. Congressional Review Act

As required by the Congressional Review Act (5 U.S.C. 801–808) before an interim or final rule takes effect, DoD will submit a copy of the interim or final rule with the form, Submission of Federal Rules under the Congressional Review Act, to the U.S. Senate, the U.S. House of Representatives, and the Comptroller General of the United States. A major rule under the Congressional Review Act cannot take effect until 60 days after it is published in the Federal Register. The Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs has determined that this rule is not a major rule as defined by 5 U.S.C. 804.

VII. Regulatory Flexibility Act

A final regulatory flexibility analysis has been prepared consistent with the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601, et seq. and is summarized as follows:

This final rule is necessary to implement section 808 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year (FY) 2023 (Pub. L. 117–263). Section 808 modifies section 818 of Public Law 109–364 to limit the number of low-rate initial production lots associated with a major defense acquisition program to be procured to no more than one when the milestone decision authority authorizes the use of a fixed-price type contract at the time of Milestone B approval and the scope of the fixed-price contract includes both development and low-rate initial production.

No comments were received in response to the initial regulatory flexibility analysis.

Data is not available on the number of fixed-price type contracts for major defense acquisition programs that contain both development and low-rate initial production; therefore, data was obtained for contracts that include DFARS clause 252.234–7004, Cost and Software Data Reporting System, or its alternate I clause. This DFARS clause is required to be included in solicitations and contracts for major defense acquisition programs that exceed $50 million, and its alternate I clause is required to be included in solicitations and contracts for major defense acquisition programs that are greater than $20 million but less than or equal to $50 million under certain circumstances. According to the Procurement Business Intelligence Service, DoD awarded contracts for major defense acquisition programs to 130 unique small entities in FY 2021, 99 in FY 2022, and 109 in FY 2023. The average over the three-year period is 112 per fiscal year. Therefore, the number of small entities to which this rule may apply is 112.

This final rule does not impose any new reporting, recordkeeping, or other compliance requirements for small entities.

There are no known alternatives that would accomplish the stated objectives of the applicable statute.

VIII. Paperwork Reduction Act

This final rule does not contain any information collection requirements that require the approval of the Office of Management and Budget under the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. chapter 35).
