

Brussels November 7, 1995 and March 29, 1996, entered into force April 12, 1996 (“U.S.-Euratom 123 Agreement”).

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Ms. Andrea Ferkile, Director, Office of Nonproliferation Policy, National Nuclear Security Administration, Department of Energy, 1000 Independence Avenue SW, Washington, DC 20585, telephone: (202) 586–8868 or email: andrea.ferkile@nnsa.doe.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Article 8.1(C)(i) of the U.S.-Euratom 123 Agreement permits retransfers of the following to third countries: low enriched uranium, non-nuclear material, equipment, and source material transferred pursuant to the U.S.-Euratom 123 Agreement or of low enriched uranium produced through the use of nuclear material or equipment transferred pursuant to the U.S.-Euratom 123 Agreement, for nuclear fuel cycle activities other than the production of high enriched uranium. Paragraph B.2 of the Agreed Minute to the U.S.-Euratom 123 Agreement requires the United States and Euratom to exchange lists of third countries to which retransfers pursuant to Article 8.1(C)(i) of the Agreement may be made (“advance consent lists”). To be eligible for inclusion on the advance consent lists, third countries must have made effective non-proliferation commitments and, for countries on the U.S. advance consent list, must be a party to a civil nuclear cooperation agreement with the United States. Such agreements are entered into under the authority of section 123 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (“123 Agreement”). Paragraph B.4 of the Agreed Minute provides that either the United States or Euratom may delete third countries from its lists following consultations with the other Party.

The Agreement for Cooperation between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the Arab Republic of Egypt Concerning Peaceful Uses of Nuclear Energy (with annex and agreed minute), signed at Washington June 29, 1981, expired December 29, 2021. The Agreement for Cooperation between the United States of America and the Republic of South Africa Concerning Peaceful Uses of Nuclear Energy, done at Pretoria August 25, 1995, entered into force December 4, 1997, expired December 4, 2022. In the absence of 123 agreements with Egypt and South Africa, these countries are being deleted from the advance consent list of countries eligible to receive retransfers from Euratom of low enriched uranium, non-nuclear material, equipment, and source material transferred, and low enriched uranium produced through the use of nuclear material or equipment transferred for nuclear fuel cycle activities other than the production of high enriched uranium.

National Nuclear Security Administration

Notice of Update to Advance Consent List

AGENCY: National Nuclear Security Administration, Department of Energy.

ACTION: Notice of update to advance consent list.

SUMMARY: The Department of Energy’s National Nuclear Security Administration is providing notice of an update to the advance consent list of countries or destinations eligible to receive retransfers from the Republic of Korea (ROK) of unirradiated low enriched uranium, unirradiated source material, equipment, and components subject to paragraph 2 of Article 10 of the Agreement for Cooperation between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the Republic of Korea Concerning Peaceful Uses of Nuclear Energy, done at Washington June 15, 2015, entered into force November 25, 2015 (“U.S.-ROK 123 Agreement”).

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Ms. Andrea Ferkile, Director, Office of Nonproliferation Policy, National Nuclear Security Administration, Department of Energy, 1000 Independence Avenue SW, Washington, DC 20585, telephone: (202) 586–8868 or email: andrea.ferkile@nnsa.doe.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Paragraph 2 of Article 10 of the U.S.-ROK 123 Agreement permits retransfers of the following to areas beyond the territorial jurisdiction of the receiving party if the United States and the ROK agree: nuclear material, moderator material, equipment, and components transferred pursuant to the U.S.-ROK 123 Agreement, and any special fissionable material produced through the use of any such nuclear material, moderator material, or equipment. Subsection 1.a. of Section 3 of the Agreed Minute to the U.S.-ROK 123 Agreement permits the United States and the ROK to retransfer unirradiated low enriched uranium, unirradiated source material, equipment, and components subject to paragraph 2 of Article 10 of the U.S.-ROK 123 Agreement to third countries or destinations. The United States and ROK exchanged lists of third countries or destinations for which retransfers of unirradiated low enriched uranium, unirradiated source material, equipment, and components subject to paragraph 2 of Article 10 of the U.S.-ROK 123 Agreement could be made by the other Party (“advance consent lists”). Subsection 1.a. of Section 3 permits either the United States or the ROK to delete third countries or destinations from either list temporarily or permanently following consultations with and written notice to the other Party.

The Agreement for Cooperation between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the Arab Republic of Egypt Concerning Peaceful Uses of Nuclear Energy, signed at Washington June 29, 1981, expired December 29, 2021. The Agreement for Cooperation between the United States of America and the Republic of South Africa Concerning Peaceful Uses of Nuclear Energy, done at Pretoria August 25, 1995, entered into force December 4, 1997, expired December 4, 2022. In the absence of 123 agreements with Egypt and South Africa, these countries are being deleted from the advance consent list of countries or destinations eligible to receive retransfers from the ROK of unirradiated low enriched uranium, unirradiated source material, equipment, and components subject to paragraph 2 of Article 10 of the U.S.-ROK 123 Agreement.

Notice of Update to Advance Consent List

AGENCY: National Nuclear Security Administration, Department of Energy.

ACTION: Notice of update to advance consent list.

SUMMARY: The Department of Energy's National Nuclear Security Administration is providing notice of an update to the advance consent list of countries or destinations eligible to receive retransfers from the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland of byproduct material, non-nuclear material, unirradiated low enriched uranium, unirradiated source material, and equipment subject to Article 6 of the Agreement between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland for Cooperation in Peaceful Uses of Nuclear Energy, done at Washington May 4, 2018, entered into force December 31, 2020 ("U.S.-UK 123 Agreement").

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Ms. Andrea Ferkile, Director, Office of Nonproliferation Policy, National

Nuclear Security Administration, Department of Energy, 1000 Independence Avenue SW, Washington, DC 20585, telephone: (202) 586-8868 or email: andrea.ferkile@nnsa.doe.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Article 6 of the U.S.-UK 123 Agreement permits retransfers of the following beyond the territory, jurisdiction, or control of the recipient party if the U.S. and the UK agree in writing: material, equipment, sensitive nuclear facilities, or major critical components transferred pursuant to the U.S.-UK 123 Agreement, and special fissionable material produced through the use of nuclear material, non-nuclear material, equipment, sensitive nuclear facilities, or major critical components so transferred. Subsection A of Section 4 of the Agreed Minute of the U.S.-UK 123 Agreement permits the United States and the UK to retransfer material, other than irradiated nuclear material, and equipment subject to Article 6 of the Agreement to third countries or destinations identified in advance ("advance consent lists"). To be eligible for inclusion on the advance consent lists, third countries or destinations must have made effective non-proliferation commitments and, for countries on the U.S. advance consent list, must be a party to a civil nuclear cooperation agreement with the United States. Such agreements are entered into under the authority of section 123 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended ("123 agreement"). Subsection C of Section 4 permits either the United States or the UK to delete third countries or destinations from either list temporarily or permanently following consultations with the other Party.

The Agreement for Cooperation between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the Arab Republic of Egypt Concerning Peaceful Uses of Nuclear Energy, signed at Washington June 29, 1981, expired December 29, 2021. The Agreement for Cooperation between the United States of America and the Republic of South Africa Concerning Peaceful Uses of Nuclear Energy, done at Pretoria August 25, 1995, entered into force December 4, 1997, expired December 4, 2022. In the absence of 123 agreements with Egypt and South Africa, these countries are being deleted from the advance consent list of countries or destinations eligible to receive retransfers from the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland of byproduct material, non-nuclear material, unirradiated low enriched uranium, unirradiated source material, and equipment subject to Article 6 of the U.S.-UK 123 Agreement.
