

margin models used to calculate margin requirements for each Clearing Member account and how OCC monitors the sufficiency of the margin collateral it collects to cover losses that may arise from the default of a Clearing Member. OCC does not believe that these changes would unfairly inhibit access to OCC's services or disadvantage or favor any particular user in relationship to another user.

With respect to the proposed Resource Backtesting Margin Charge, whether a particular Clearing Member would be charged and the amount it would be charged would depend on the Clearing Member's activity and the performance of OCC's margin models. OCC has designed the Resource Backtesting Margin Charge to ensure its compliance with regulations that require OCC to calculate margin resources sufficient to cover each Clearing Member's maximum exposure estimated to occur at a future point in time with an established single-tailed confidence level of at least 99 percent with respect to the estimated distribution of future exposure in the interval between the last margin collection and the close out of positions following a participant default.⁸⁷ To the extent a Clearing Member's margin coverage falls below OCC's coverage target, a Resource Backtesting Margin Charge would be applied. Accordingly, OCC believes that the proposed rule change would not impose any burden on competition not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the Act.

Submission for OMB Review; Comment Request; Extension: Interagency Statement on Sound Practices

Upon Written Request, Copies Available From: Securities and Exchange Commission, Office of FOIA Services, 100 F Street NE, Washington, DC 20549-2736.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 ("PRA") (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.) the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") has submitted to the Office of Management and Budget ("OMB") a request for approval of extension of the previously approved collection of information provided for in the Interagency Statement on Sound Practices Concerning Elevated Risk Complex Structured Finance Activities ("Statement") under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (15 U.S.C. 78a et seq.) and the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80b et seq.).

The Statement was issued by the Commission, together with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and the Office of Thrift Supervision (together, the "Agencies"), in May 2006. The Statement describes the types of internal controls and risk management procedures that the Agencies believe are particularly effective in assisting financial institutions to identify and address the reputational, legal, and other risks associated with elevated risk complex structured finance transactions.

The primary purpose of the Statement is to ensure that these transactions receive enhanced scrutiny by the institution and to ensure that the institution does not participate in illegal or inappropriate transactions.

The Commission estimates that approximately 5 registered broker-dealers or investment advisers will spend an average of approximately 25 hours per year complying with the Statement. Thus, the total time burden is estimated to be approximately 125 hours per year.

An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information under the PRA unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number.
