

amending, or updating general licenses (GLs) authorizing the official business of the U.S. Government and the official business of certain international organizations and entities (87 FR 78470). OFAC's GLs can be found in Subpart E of each sanctions program in 31 CFR subtitle B, chapter V or on OFAC's website.

The U.S. Government, including USAID and its interagency partners, continue to monitor and assess whether and to what extent the U.S. Government is (1) facilitating the delivery of humanitarian and development assistance, and (2) preventing unanticipated and undesirable benefits to sanctioned individuals and entities.

USAID is considering whether and how to update provisions and contract clauses for USAID assistance and acquisition awards to include a new reporting mechanism for all humanitarian assistance and development work overseas conducted under a USAID award. This approach would (i) require USAID awardees to report on certain incidents involving sanctioned individuals and entities (e.g., payments or diversions) that take place under the awards; (ii) re-emphasize requirements for maintaining relevant records relating to transactions subject to OFAC's sanctions programs, including transactions conducted pursuant to GLs; (iii) emphasize that USAID recipients and contractors must exercise reasonable due diligence to minimize the accrual of any impermissible benefits (in the form of payments or diversions) to any sanctioned individuals or entities; and (iv) provide data to USAID to inform impact assessments and for use in dialogue with the U.S. Government interagency, as well as the UNSC. Some illustrative examples of proposed reporting requirements for USAID recipients and contractors include:

- Reporting itemized details regarding payments of funds under the award in the form of taxes, tolls, and fees to, or for the benefit of, sanctioned individuals or entities. For each payment, the awardee will make best efforts to include details about the amount paid, the approximate date and location of the payment, the name of the individual or entity receiving the payment, a description of how such payment facilitated the assistance activities, and remedial steps, if any, taken to address the issue.

- Reporting itemized details regarding diversions of funds, supplies, or services under the award by sanctioned individuals or entities. For each diversion, the awardee will make best efforts to include details about the circumstances of the diversion, the name of the individual or entity causing the diversion, estimated value diverted, the approximate date and location of the diversion, description and intended destination, and remedial steps, if any, taken to address the issue.

For USAID's assistance awards, updates could take the form of revisions to the mandatory standard provisions M12, M14, and M5 ("Preventing Transactions with, or the Provision of Resources or Support to, Sanctioned Groups and Individuals") found in ADS 303maa, ADS 303mab, ADS 303mat, respectively. For USAID's acquisition awards, a new Agency-specific clause may be required, such as to supplement FAR 52.225-13 ("Restrictions on Certain Foreign Purchases"). Additional updates may be required to 22 CFR 228 and/or ADS 310.

B. Request for Information

This RFI is intended to solicit feedback on the following:

(1) Considerations USAID should take into account when updating the sanctions-related provisions and contract clauses for its assistance and acquisition awards.

(2) Types of information and details that recipients and contractors can report under their award for activities that are subject to OFAC's sanctions, regarding (a) payments of funds to, or for the benefit of, sanctioned individuals or entities; and (b) diversions of funds, supplies, or services by sanctioned individuals or entities.

(3) Constraints that recipients and contractors may face in reporting information regarding (a) payments of funds to, or for the benefit of, sanctioned individuals or entities; and (b) diversions of funds, supplies, or services by sanctioned individuals or entities. Where possible, include specific examples.

(4) Estimates of the burden on individual recipients and contractors in complying with any reporting requirement.

(5) Considerations USAID should consider regarding the flowdown of requirements to subrecipients and subcontractors.

(6) Recommendations on ways USAID can obtain data from recipients and contractors in order to assess the impact of GLs on the delivery of legitimate humanitarian assistance and other development activities to the most vulnerable people, while achieving U.S. national security objectives, including how USAID can collect such information on an aggregated basis from recipients and contractors.

(7) Recommendations on the frequency and method of reporting.

Responses to this RFI are not limited to the items in the above list. Commenters may provide feedback on other factors they deem relevant to USAID's updating of sanctions-related award provisions and contract clauses.

Jami J. Rodgers,

Chief Acquisition Officer.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

The NACMCF was established in 1988, in response to a recommendation of the National Academy of Sciences for an interagency approach to microbiological criteria for foods, and in response to a recommendation of the U.S. House of Representatives Committee on Appropriations, as expressed in the Rural Development, Agriculture, and Related Agencies Appropriation Bill for fiscal year 1988. The NACMCF provides impartial scientific advice and recommendations to the Secretary of Agriculture and the Secretary of Health and Human Services on public health issues relative to the safety and wholesomeness of the U.S. food supply, including the development of microbiological criteria and review and evaluation of epidemiological and risk assessment data and methodologies for assessing microbiological hazards in foods. The Committee also provides scientific advice and recommendations to the Departments of Commerce and Defense. The Committee reports to the Secretary of Agriculture through the Under Secretary for Food Safety, the Committee's Chair, and to the Secretary of Health and Human Services through the Assistant Secretary for Health, the Committee's Vice-Chair. Currently, Dr. Emilio Esteban, Under Secretary for Food Safety, USDA, is the Committee Chair; Dr. Donald Prater, Acting Director of the Food and Drug Administration's
