Availability and Summary of Material Incorporated by Reference

The material incorporated by reference is publicly available as listed in the ADDRESSES section.

The material incorporated by reference describes SIAPS, Takeoff Minimums and/or ODPs as identified in the amendatory language for part 97 of this final rule.

The Rule

This amendment to 14 CFR part 97 is effective upon publication of each separate SIAP, Takeoff Minimums and ODP as amended in the transmittal. Some SIAP and Takeoff Minimums and textual ODP amendments may have been issued previously by the FAA in a Flight Data Center (FDC) Notice to Air Missions (NOTAM) as an emergency action of immediate flights safety relating directly to published aeronautical charts.

The circumstances that created the need for some SIAP and Takeoff Minimums and ODP amendments may require making them effective in less than 30 days. For the remaining SIAPs and Takeoff Minimums and ODPs, an effective date at least 30 days after publication is provided.

Further, the SIAPs and Takeoff Minimums and ODPs contained in this amendment are based on the criteria contained in the U.S. Standard for Terminal Instrument Procedures (TERPS). In developing these SIAPs and Takeoff Minimums and ODPs, the TERPS criteria were applied to the conditions existing or anticipated at the affected airports. Because of the close and immediate relationship between these SIAPs, Takeoff Minimums and ODPs, and safety in air commerce, I find that notice and public procedure under 5 U.S.C. 553(b) are impracticable and contrary to the public interest and, where applicable, under 5 U.S.C. 553(d), good cause exists for making some SIAPs effective in less than 30 days.

The FAA has determined that this regulation only involves an established body of technical regulations for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current. It, therefore—(1) is not a “significant regulatory action” under Executive Order 12866; (2) is not a “significant rule” under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) does not warrant preparation of a regulatory evaluation as the anticipated impact is so minimal. For the same reason, the FAA certifies that this amendment will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

Update to the Public Utility Exemption Under the Beneficial Ownership Information Reporting Rule

AGENCY: Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN), Treasury.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: FinCEN is publishing this final rule to clarify an exemption under the beneficial ownership information reporting rule that FinCEN published on September 30, 2022. This rule modifies the language exempting certain public utilities from the definition of “reporting company” in the beneficial ownership information reporting rule to more clearly implement the language of the exemption found in the Corporate Transparency Act.

DATES: This rule is October 18, 2024.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: The FinCEN Regulatory Support Section at 1-800-767-2825 or electronically at frc@fincen.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

On September 30, 2022, FinCEN issued the beneficial ownership information (BOI) reporting rule (“Reporting Rule”).¹ That rule implemented the reporting requirements of section 6403 of the Corporate Transparency Act (CTA), enacted into law as part of the National Defense Authorization Act of Fiscal Year 2021 (NDAA).² The CTA requires certain types of domestic and foreign entities, called “reporting companies,” to submit information about “beneficial owners” to FinCEN.³ The CTA generally defines a reporting company as a corporation, limited liability company, or other similar entity that is created or registered to do business in the United States by the filing of a document with a secretary of state or similar office under the law of a State or Indian Tribe.⁴ The CTA exempts twenty-three categories of entities from that definition.⁵ One such exemption is for “a public utility that provides telecommunications services, electrical power, natural gas, or water and sewer services within the United States.”⁶

In the Reporting Rule, FinCEN gave precision to the CTA’s public utility exemption by making a reference to the Internal Revenue Code, which defines a regulated public utility for tax purposes. The Reporting Rule states that the exemption applies to “[a]ny entity that is a regulated public utility as defined in 26 U.S.C. 7701(a)(33)(A) that provides telecommunications services, electrical power, natural gas, or water

² The CTA is Title LXIV of the William M. (Mac) Thornberry National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2021, Public Law 116-283 (Jan. 1, 2021). Division F of the NDAA is the Anti-Money Laundering Act of 2020, which includes the CTA. Section 6403 of the CTA, among other things, amends the Bank Secrecy Act (BSA) by adding a new section 5336, Beneficial Ownership Information Reporting Requirements, to subchapter II of chapter 53 of title 31, United States Code.

³ 31 U.S.C. 5336(b)(1).

⁵ 31 U.S.C. 5336(a)(11)(B).

⁶ 31 U.S.C. 5336(a)(11)(B)(xvi).

and sewer services within the United States.”⁷

While the CTA’s public utility exemption mentions four types of public utilities (telecommunications services, electrical power, natural gas, and water and sewer services), questions have arisen about the application of the exemption to providers of telecommunications services because the specific provision cross-referenced in the Internal Revenue Code definition—subparagraph (A) of 26 U.S.C. 7701(a)(33)—is only part of the definition of a regulated public utility that provides telecommunications services. Unlike covered providers of electrical power, natural gas, and water and sewer services, which are defined in subparagraph (A), covered providers of telecommunications services are defined by operation of subparagraphs (D) and (A) together. Subparagraph (D) specifies that a regulated public utility includes “a corporation engaged in the furnishing or sale of telephone or telegraph service, if the rates for such furnishing or sale meet the requirements of subparagraph (A),” and subparagraph (A) sets forth those requirements with regard to rates. FinCEN intended to cross-reference both of these provisions in the Reporting Rule’s public utility exemption but inadvertently omitted a reference to subparagraph (D) in the final rule.⁸

On June 10, 2024, FinCEN issued guidance in the form of a Frequently Asked Question clarifying that the CTA’s exemption for public utilities includes a corporation engaged in the furnishing or sale of telephone or telegraph services if the rates for such furnishing or sale meet the requirements of 26 U.S.C. 7701(a)(33)(A), as specified in 26 U.S.C. 7701(a)(33)(D).⁹

II. The Final Rule

In this final rule, FinCEN is amending its regulations, consistent with its June 10, 2024 guidance, to make clear that certain telecommunications services providers are exempt from reporting requirements under the CTA. To avoid any confusion arising from the cross-reference to subparagraph (A), FinCEN is adding a cross-reference to subparagraph (D). As amended, the regulation will provide as follows (new language in bold italics): “(xvi) Public utility. Any entity that is a regulated public utility as defined in 26 U.S.C. 7701(a)(33)(A) or (D) that provides ⁷ 31 CFR 1010.380(c)(2)(xvi).

⁸ FinCEN had cross-referenced both (A) and (D) in the proposed rule. 86 FR 69920 (Dec. 8, 2021).
