

December 27, 2021 (86 FR 73131). The information collection associated with UCMR 5 does not require respondents to disclose confidential information.

Form Numbers: None.

Respondents/affected entities: Data associated with this ICR will be collected and maintained by PWSs subject to the rule. UCMR is a federally-implemented program; however, States, territories, and Tribes (herein after referred to as “States” for simplicity) can choose to participate in UCMR 5 implementation through a Partnership Agreement with EPA. These States will sometimes choose to collect samples and maintain records on behalf of PWSs.

Respondent's obligation to respond: Mandatory (section 1445(a) of SDWA).

Estimated number of respondents: Approximately 3,493 respondents (total among PWSs and States) participate in UCMR 5 sample collection during the ICR years 2025–2027. There are approximately 10,367 respondents to UCMR 5 during the five-year program period.

Frequency of response: The frequency and number of responses varies across respondents. PWSs that rely on surface water and ground water under the direct influence of surface water will sample quarterly (four sampling events), and PWSs that rely on ground water will sample twice (at 6-month intervals). All sample collection will take place during a continuous 12-month period during the sampling timeframe. UCMR 5 sampling takes place at the entry point to the distribution system (EPTDS). The number of samples collected by PWSs also differs based on the size of the PWS, and the number of entry points within each PWS. Over the three ICR years of 2025 through 2027, the total number of responses per respondent averages 3.0, or an average of 1.0 responses per respondent per year.

Total estimated burden: EPA estimates the labor burden at 21,275 hours (per year) during the ICR renewal years of 2025 through 2027 for States and PWSs. Burden is defined at 5 CFR 1320.03(b).

Total estimated cost: During the ICR renewal years of 2025 through 2027, EPA estimates the total cost for States and PWSs at $5,633,415 (per year), which includes $4,702,003 annualized capital or operation & maintenance costs. The total costs include labor costs and laboratory analysis (non-labor) costs. EPA pays for the analytical and sample shipping costs for small PWSs (i.e., serving 10,000 or fewer people).

Changes in the Estimates: There is a decrease of 27,193 hours in the total estimated respondent burden for PWSs and States during the ICR renewal years of 2025 through 2027 compared with the original UCMR 5 ICR currently approved by OMB. This decrease is due to:

- Fewer PWSs participate during the ICR renewal period of 2025–2027 than in 2022–2024 period addressed by the original ICR. Only one-third of PWSs monitor for UCMR 5 contaminants in 2025–2027; two-thirds of PWS will have monitored for UCMR 5 contaminants in 2023 or 2024.

- Some initial, pre-monitoring activities were conducted by all systems during the original ICR period. These activities will not take place during 2025–2027.

- States are expected to incur less burden during 2025–2027, since their support is associated with monitoring and less monitoring is occurring during the renewal period.

Abstract: EPA will use this generic ICR to survey chemical users, processors, distributors, manufacturers (including importers), and recyclers, chemical waste handlers, consumers of chemical-containing products, employees exposed to the chemical evaluated (including unions), state and local regulators, non-governmental organizations, industry experts, and knowledgeable members of the public (including potentially exposed or susceptible subpopulations) who may have relevant information and are not covered by current information collection requests. The Agency will use the information collected to inform the development of any future regulatory efforts and to integrate consistent, meaningful, and transparent information into risk evaluation and risk management actions. This information is critical for adequately identifying conditions of use, conducting hazard and exposure assessments, characterizing risks, ascertaining benefits of and substitutes for each substance, estimating the economic consequences of regulation, and developing appropriate regulatory actions. Surveys are important information-gathering tools that will allow EPA to collect information that is necessary to inform the risk evaluation and management efforts and support unreasonable risk determinations from existing chemicals under TSCA.

Form number(s): None.

Respondents/affected entities: Entities potentially affected by this include chemical manufacturers (including importers), chemical users (including government agencies), processors, distributors, product manufacturers, recyclers, chemical waste handlers, consumers, employees, and others with important information about the chemical being evaluated or considered for risk evaluation and management under TSCA. North American Industrial Classification System (NAICS) codes identified in question 12 of the ICR.

Respondent's obligation to respond: Voluntary.

Estimated number of potential respondents: 2,400.

Frequency of response: On occasion.

Total estimated burden: 22,080 hours. Burden is defined at 5 CFR 1320.3(b).

Total estimated costs: $1,960,086, includes $0 annualized capital investment or maintenance and operational costs.

Changes in the estimates: There are adjustments to the burden hours and responses currently approved by OMB. There is an increase in 20,880 burden hours and an increase in 1,800 responses. There changes are corrections to reflect three-year totals.
