AGENCY: Consumer Product Safety Commission.

ACTION: Notice of availability and request for comment.

SUMMARY: The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission's (Commission or CPSC) mandatory rule, Safety Standard for Stationary Activity Centers, incorporates by reference ASTM F2012-18 <sup>epsiv</sup>;1, Standard Consumer Safety Performance Specification for Stationary Activity Centers. FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Bradley Gordon, Project Manager, Division of Mechanical and Combustion Engineering, U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, 5 Research Place, Rockville, MD 20850; telephone: (301) 987-2099; email: bgordon@cpsc.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 104(b) of the Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act of 2008 (CPSIA) requires the Commission to adopt mandatory standards for durable infant or toddler products. 15 U.S.C. 2056a(b)(1). Mandatory standards must be "substantially the same as" voluntary standards, or they may be "more stringent" than the applicable voluntary standards, if the Commission determines that more stringent requirements would further reduce the risk of injury associated with the products. Id. Mandatory standards may be based, in whole or in part, on a voluntary standard.

Section 104(b)(4)(B) of the CPSIA specifies the process for when a voluntary standards organization revises a standard that the Commission incorporated by reference under section 104(b)(1). First, the voluntary standards organization must notify the Commission of the revision. Once the Commission receives this notification, the Commission may reject or accept the revised standard. To reject a revised standard, the Commission must notify the voluntary standards organization within 90 days of receiving the notice of revision that the Commission has determined that the revised standard does not improve the safety of the consumer product and that CPSC is retaining the existing standard. If the Commission does not take this action, the revised voluntary standard will be considered a consumer product safety standard issued under section 9 of the Consumer Product Safety Act (CPSA) (15 U.S.C. 2058), effective 180 days after the Commission received notification of the revision (or a later date specified by the Commission in the Federal Register). 15 U.S.C. 2056a(b)(4)(B).

Under this authority, the Commission issued a mandatory safety rule that incorporates by reference ASTM F2012–18<sup>epsiv.1</sup>, Safety Standard for Stationary Activity Centers, codified at 16 CFR part 1238 (84 FR 28205, June 18, 2019). The ASTM standard incorporated by CPSC defines a stationary activity center as “a freestanding product intended to remain stationary that enables a sitting or standing occupant whose torso is completely surrounded by the product to walk, rock, play, spin or bounce, or all of these, within a limited range of motion.” 16 CFR 1238.2. This mandatory standard includes performance requirements and test methods, as well as requirements for warning labels and instructions, to address hazards to children.

On January 6, 2025, ASTM notified the Commission that it had approved and published another revised version of the voluntary standard, ASTM F2012–2024. CPSC is assessing the revised voluntary standard to determine, consistent with section 104(b)(4)(B) of the CPSIA, its effect on the safety of stationary activity centers subject to 16 CFR part 1238. The Commission invites public comment to inform CPSC staff’s assessment and subsequent Commission consideration of the revisions in ASTM F2012–2024.<sup>1</sup>

The currently incorporated voluntary standard (ASTM F2012–18<sup>e1</sup>) and the revised voluntary standard (ASTM F2012–24) are available for review in several ways. A read-only copy of the existing, incorporated standard is available for viewing, at no cost, on the ASTM website at: <https://www.astm.org/READINGLIBRARY/>. A read-only copy of the revised standard (ASTM F2012–24), including red-lined versions that identify the changes from the 2018 versions to the 2024 version, is available, at no cost, on ASTM’s website at: <https://www.astm.org/CPSC.htm>. Interested parties can also download copies of the standards by purchasing them from ASTM

International, 100 Barr Harbor Drive, P.O. Box C700, West Conshohocken, PA 19428–2959; phone: 610–832–9585; <https://www.astm.org>. Alternatively, interested parties can schedule an appointment to inspect copies of the standards at CPSC’s Office of the Secretary, U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, 4330 East-West Highway, Bethesda, MD 20814, telephone: 301–504–7479.

Comments must be received by February 4, 2025. Because of the short statutory time frame Congress established for the Commission to consider revised voluntary standards under section 104(b)(4) of the CPSIA, CPSC will not consider comments received after this date.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

1. Pursuant to section 215(d)(2) of the Federal Power Act (FPA),<sup>1</sup> the Commission proposes to approve the addition of the newly defined term “Ride-through” to the North American Electric Reliability Corporation (NERC) Glossary of Terms and to approve the proposed Protection and Control (PRC) Reliability Standards PRC–024–4 (Frequency and Voltage Protection Settings for Synchronous Generators, Type 1 and Type 2 Wind Resources, and Synchronous Condensers)<sup>2</sup> and PRC–029–1 (Frequency and Voltage Ride-through Requirements for Inverter-Based Resources (IBR)). We also propose to approve the associated violation risk factors, violation severity levels,

<sup>2</sup> Type 1 and type 2 wind resources are not inverter-based wind turbine generators. Rather, type 1 and type 2 wind resources rely on passive induction generators with limited ability to control active power, reactive power, or voltage.
