FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

Privacy Act of 1974; System of Records

AGENCY: Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

ACTION: Notice of a modified system of records.

SUMMARY: Pursuant to the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, notice is given that the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (Board) proposes to modify an existing system of records entitled BGRFS/OIG–1, “FRB—OIG Investigative Records.” These records are collected and maintained by the Office of Inspector General (OIG) in support of its inquiries, investigations, and reports relating to the programs and operations of the Board and the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau and to manage its investigations.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before February 24, 2025. This modified system of records will become effective February 24, 2025, without further notice, unless comments dictate otherwise.

The Office of Management and Budget (OMB), which has oversight responsibility under the Privacy Act, requires a 30-day period prior to publication in the Federal Register in which to review the system and to provide any comments to the agency. The public is then given a 30-day period in which to comment, in accordance with 5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(4) and (11).

ADDRESSES: You may submit comments, identified by BGFRS/OIG-1 “FRB—OIG Investigative Records”, by any of the following methods:

- Agency Website: <https://www.federalreserve.gov/apps/proposals/>. Follow the instructions for submitting comments, including attachments. Preferred Method.
- Mail: Ann E. Misback, Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, 20th Street and Constitution Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20551.
- Hand Delivery/Courier: Same as mailing address.
- Other Means: publiccomments@frb.gov. You must include the docket number in the subject line of the message.

Comments received are subject to public disclosure. In general, comments received will be made available on the Board’s website at <https://www.federalreserve.gov/apps/proposals/> without change and will not be modified to remove personal or business information including confidential, contact, or other identifying information. Comments should not include any information such as confidential information that would be not appropriate for public disclosure. Public comments may also be viewed electronically or in person in Room M-4365A, 2001 C St. NW, Washington, DC 20551, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. during Federal business weekdays.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Matthew C. Glover, Senior Counsel, (202) 736-1994 or matthew.c.glover@frb.gov; Legal Division, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, 20th Street and Constitution Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20551. For users of telephone systems via text telephone (TTY) or any TTY-based Telecommunications Relay Services, please call 711 from any telephone, anywhere in the United States.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Board is amending BGFRS/OIG-1 to reflect changes that have occurred since the system was last amended in 2008. These changes include the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act’s (Pub. L. 111-203) creation of the Consumer Financial Protection Board (CFPB) and amendment of § 8G(c) of the Inspector General Act of 1978 to make the Inspector General responsible for oversight of the Board and the CFPB’s programs and operations. Accordingly, the Board is amending the purpose of the system, the categories of individuals, and the record source categories to add the CFPB. The Board is also taking this opportunity to revise the category of individuals to clarify that the OIG collects information about the individuals to determine if they have been or are engaging in civil, criminal, or administrative wrongdoing or have information regarding such wrongdoing. In addition, the Board is adding “contractors” to the records source categories.

Further, in another change since 2008, to facilitate the OIG’s voluntary compliance with certain provisions of Executive Order (E.O.) 14074, Advancing Effective, Accountable Policing and Criminal Justice Practices to Enhance Public Trust and Public Safety, issued on May 25, 2022, the Board is updating the categories of records to include video and audio recordings that may be captured by OIG criminal investigators wearing body cameras during investigative operations. The Board is also updating the system location to indicate the storage of the video and audio recordings by a vendor, updating the system manager, and amending the authority for the system to include E.O. 14074 as additional authority. Moreover, the Board is modifying the category of records to refer to “investigative case files” rather than “individual investigations” as that better reflects the OIG’s investigative records.

The Board is also updating the access controls to reflect system management changes. In addition, the Board is revising the retention of the records to provide that files related to significant investigations will be retained permanently while files related to all other investigations will continue to be retained for ten years after cut-off.

Further, the Board is revising system-specific Routine Use 1, deleting the existing system-specific Routine Use 2, and renumbering system-specific Routine Use 3 to be Routine Use 2. The Board is deleting the current Routine Use 2 as disclosures contemplated under that use will now be incorporated into revised Routine Use 1. The Board is also revising system-specific Routine Use 1 regarding the audit or review of the OIG’s investigatory program by outside entities or persons to permit the release of individually identifiable information. The Board is making this change because, for the audit or review to be effective, the OIG needs to be able to share identifiable information as necessary for the audit or review. In its current form, the Routine Use 1 limits disclosure to information that is not individually identifiable information; however, release of information that is not individually identifiable is not a disclosure of Privacy Act information and therefore the Board is revising Routine Use 1 to remove this language. Finally, the revision to system-specific Routine Use 1 also accounts for the technical amendments to the Inspector General Act of 1978, which replaced the Executive Council on Integrity and Efficiency and the President’s Council on Integrity and Efficiency with the Council of the Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency.

In order to permit information sharing contemplated under E.O. 14074, the Board is amending the system to add a new routine use, which will be Routine Use 3. The new routine use will permit the OIG to disclose information to federal, state, or local agencies maintaining civil, criminal, or other relevant investigative information for purposes of data collection on OIG law enforcement activities. This proposed routine use will allow the OIG to share information with various government-wide databases, such as the FBI National Use-of-Force Data Database, to enhance public trust and public safety.

The Board is also making technical changes to BGFRS/OIG-1 consistent with the template laid out in OMB Circular No. A-108. Accordingly, the Board has made technical corrections and non-substantive language revisions to the following categories: “Policies and Practices for Storage of Records,” “Policies and Practices for Retrieval of Records,” “Policies and Practices for Retention and Disposal of Records,” “Administrative, Technical and Physical Safeguards,” “Record Access Procedures,” “Contesting Record Procedures” and “Notification Procedures.” The Board is adding the following new fields: “Security Classification” and “History.” The Board is also adding a link to its general routine uses.

Access to the system is restricted to authorized users within the Board who require access for official business purposes. Users are classified into different roles and common access and usage rights are established for each role. User roles are used to delineate between the different types of access requirements such that users are restricted to data that is required in the performance of their duties. Periodic assessments and reviews are conducted to determine whether users still require access, have the appropriate role, and whether there have been any unauthorized changes.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Board is amending BGFRS/OIG-2 to reflect changes that have occurred since this system of records was last amended in 2008.

The Board is updating the categories of records to include video and audio recordings and facilitate the Board OIG's voluntary compliance with certain provisions of Executive Order 14074, Advancing Effective, Accountable Policing and Criminal Justice Practices to Enhance Public Trust and Public Safety, issued May 25, 2022. Video and audio recordings of individuals may be captured by OIG criminal investigators wearing body cameras during investigative operations and may be relevant to the OIG's personnel determinations. While such video and audio recordings will generally be stored in BGFRS/OIG-1, "FRB—OIG Investigative Records," they may be duplicated and stored in this OIG Personnel records system to the extent necessary to assist the OIG in making determinations related to hiring, retention, promotion, performance evaluations, recognition, or training of OIG personnel. Accordingly, the Board is also adding E.O. 14074 to the list of authorities for this system.

The Board is also updating the categories of records included in the system to add ethics related records. Consistent with this addition, the Board is revising the purpose of the system to reflect the OIG's use of the records to respond to ethics inquiries and provide related advice. The Board is also revising system-specific Routine Use 4 regarding the audit or review of the OIG's
