SEC. 2303. COMMUNITY FORESTS AND OPEN SPACE CONSERVATION PROGRAM.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The United States Forest Service projects that 44 million acres of privately owned forested land will be developed in the United States by 2030, including many of the most important remaining forested parcels within and adjacent to communities.

(2) There is an urgent need to assist local governments in raising the funds necessary to purchase the most important of these parcels of privately owned forested land as they come up for sale.

(3) The breakup of forested land into smaller parcels has resulted in an increasing number of owners of privately owned forested land, but many of these owners have little or no experience in forest stewardship.

(4) In fast growing communities of all sizes across the United States, the remaining parcels of privately owned forested land play an essential role in protecting public water supplies, which has led many local governments to purchase these lands for municipal or county ownership.

(5) Rising rates of obesity and other public health problems related to inactivity have been shown to be ameliorated by improving public access to safe and pleasing areas for outdoor recreation, which has led many local governments to purchase lands for recreational purposes under municipal or county ownership.

(6) Across the United States, many communities of diverse types and sizes are deriving significant financial benefit from owning and managing municipal or county forestlands as a source of local revenue that also contributes significantly to the health of the forest products economy at the local and national levels.

(7) The access to privately owned forested land for hunting, fishing, and trapping has declined, and the number of persons participating in these activities has likewise declined, as these lands are divided into smaller parcels and more owners of privately owned forested land post their land against public use, which has led many local governments to purchase forestlands to guarantee access for hunting, fishing, and trapping.

(8) There is a national interest and an urgent need to assist local governments in raising the funds necessary to purchase important privately owned forested land that will maintain the diverse public benefits of forestlands close to or within all manner of communities nationwide, from close-knit rural communities to fast growing suburban and exurban areas.

(b) ESTABLISHMENT OF PROGRAM.—The Cooperative Forestry Assistance Act of 1978 (16 U.S.C. 2101 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

“SEC. 21. FORESTS AND OPEN SPACE CONSERVATION PROGRAM.

“(a) ESTABLISHMENT AND PURPOSE.—The Secretary of Agriculture shall establish within the Forest Service a program to be known as the ‘Community Forests and Open Space Conservation Program’ (in this section referred to as the ‘Program’) for the purpose of assisting local governments in a State selected to participate in the Program to acquire forested land that—

“(1) is economically, culturally, and environmentally important to the locality in which the land is located;

“(2) is threatened by conversion to non-forest uses; and

“(3) will conserve public access to and benefit from the land for a wide variety of public purposes, including model forest stewardship, sustainable timber production, forest-based educational and cultural activities, wildlife habitat protection, watershed protection, or outdoor recreation, including hunting and fishing.

“(b) SELECTION OF PARTICIPATING STATES.—

“(1) SELECTION.—Not later than one year after the date of the enactment of this section, the Secretary shall select at least one State in each of the New England, Mid-Atlantic, Midwest, South, West, and Pacific Northwest regions of the United States to participate in the Program. “(c) ELIGIBILITY AND RANKING CRITERIA.—

“(1) STATE ASSESSMENT OF NEED.—Each participating State shall prepare an assessment of need that identifies the geographic areas within the State that will be the focus of land acquisition activities under the Program and priority objectives for conservation, based on conditions and public needs in the State. This requirement may be satisfied by inclusion of the assessment as part of an integrated State-wide forest planning process for application of Federal programs in the State.

“(2) ESTABLISHMENT OF CRITERIA.—Not later than one year after the date of the enactment of this section, the Secretary shall establish eligibility and ranking criteria for the selection of land acquisition proposals to receive funding under the Program. The Secretary shall establish the criteria in consultation with State Forest Stewardship Advisory Committees, State Urban and Community Forestry Advisory Committees, and similar organizations.

“(3) PRIORITIES.—In establishing the eligibility and ranking criteria under paragraph (2), the Secretary shall give priority to the acquisition of lands that—

“(A) meet identified local open space and natural resource needs, as expressed in town plans, regional plans, or other relevant local planning documents;

“(B) can be effectively managed to model good forest stewardship for private landowners and support forest-based educational programs, including vocational education in forestry;

“(C) provide significant protection of public water supplies or other waterways;

“(D) can offer long-term economic benefit to communities through forestry;

“(E) contain important wildlife habitat;

“(F) provide convenient public access for outdoor recreation, including hunting and fishing; and “(G) are most threatened with conversion to nonforest uses.

“(d) APPLICATION AND RANKING OF PROPOSALS.—

“(1) PREPARATION AND CONTENTS.—A local government in a participating State may prepare an application for assistance under the Program in the acquisition of forested land within the geographic program focus area in the State identified under subsection (c)(1). The application shall include certification by the appropriate unit or units of local government that the proposed land acquisition is consistent with any comprehensive plans for development adopted by the unit of local government and include such other information as the Secretary may prescribe.

“(2) SUBMISSION.—Participating States shall rank all applications according to priority and submit the applications to the Secretary at such times and in such form as the Secretary may prescribe.

“(2) NONPROFIT ORGANIZATION OWNERSHIP.—Upon the request of a participating State, designated nonprofit organizations operating within that State may also own land acquired using funds provided under the Program, subject to the condition that the land is open for public access consistent with the purposes and criteria of the Program.

“(3) EFFECT OF VIOLATION.—If the owner of land acquired in whole or in part using funds provided under the Program sells the land, the owner shall reimburse the Secretary for the full amount of the funds provided under the Program, plus a penalty equal to 50 percent of the sale price or appraised value of the land at the time of the sale, whichever is greater. The local government or designated nonprofit organization that sold the land shall no longer be eligible for assistance under the Program.

“(f) DUTIES OF OWNERS.—

“(1) USE AND PROHIBITION ON CONVERSION.—The owner of land acquired in whole or in part using funds provided under the Program shall manage the land in a manner that is consistent with the purposes for which the land was purchased under the Program and shall not convert the property to other non-forest uses. Public access for compatible recreational uses, as determined by the owner, shall be required.

“(2) MANAGEMENT PLAN.—Not later than two years after the closing date on the purchase of land using funds under the Program, the owner of the land shall complete a management plan for the land, which shall be subject to the approval of the responsible State agency. Management plans shall be created through a public process that allows for community participation and input.

“(g) COST SHARING REQUIREMENTS.—

“(1) COST SHARING.—In accordance with such terms and conditions as the Secretary may prescribe, costs for the acquisition of land under the Program, and other costs associated with the Program, shall be shared among participating entities, including State, county, municipal, and other governmental units, landowners, corporations, or private organizations. Such costs may include costs associated with planning, administration, property acquisition, and property management. The Secretary may authorize in-kind contributions.

“(2) FEDERAL COST SHARE.—The Federal share of the cost to acquire land under the Program shall not exceed 50 percent of the total cost to acquire the land. Payments under this section shall be made in accordance with Federal appraisal and acquisition standards and procedures.

“(3) ADMINISTRATION AND TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE.—In order to assist local governments in achieving model stewardship of land acquired under the Program, 10 percent of all funds appropriated for a fiscal year for the Program shall be allocated to the responsible State agencies in participating States to administer the Program and to provide technical assistance to local governments for forest stewardship, including development and implementation of management plans required by subsection (f)(2).

“(1) IN GENERAL.—During any crop year or portion thereof for which marketing allotments have been established, no processor of sugar beets or sugarcane shall market for domestic human consumption a quantity of sugar in excess of the allocation established for such processor, except to enable another processor to fulfill an allocation established for such other processor or to facilitate the exportation of such sugar.

“(2) CIVIL PENALTY.—Any processor who knowingly violates paragraph (1) shall be liable to the Commodity Credit Corporation for a civil penalty in an amount equal to 3 times the United States market value, at the time of the commission of the violation, of that quantity of sugar involved in the violation.

“(3) DEFINITION OF MARKET.—For purposes of this part, the term ‘market’ shall mean to sell or otherwise dispose of in commerce in the United States, including—

“(A) the forfeiture of sugar under the loan program for sugar under section 156 of the Federal Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act of 1996 (7 U.S.C. 7272) and such forfeited sugar shall be deemed to have been marketed during the crop year in which the loan was made;

“(b) OVERALL ALLOTMENT QUANTITY.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall establish the overall quantity of sugar to be allotted for the crop year (in this part referred to as the ‘overall allotment quantity’) at a level sufficient to maintain raw and refined sugar prices above forfeiture levels to avoid the forfeiture of sugar to the Commodity Credit Corporation.

“(2) MINIMUM.—The overall allotment quantity established under paragraph (1) may not be less than 85 percent of the estimated quantity of sugar for domestic human consumption for the crop year.

“(3) ADJUSTMENT.—Subject to paragraphs (1) and (2), the Secretary shall adjust the overall allotment quantity—

“(A) to maintain raw and refined sugar prices above forfeiture levels to avoid the forfeiture of sugar to the Commodity Credit Corporation; and

“(I) assign an allocation for beet sugar to the New Entrant that provides a fair and equitable distribution of the allocations for beet sugar in order to enable the New Entrant to achieve a factory utilization rate comparable to the factory utilization rates of other similarly situated processors; and “(II) reduce the allocations for beet sugar of all other processors on a pro rata basis to reflect the allocation to the New Entrant.

“(ii) ALLOCATION FOR A NEW ENTRANT THAT HAS ACQUIRED AN EXISTING FACTORY WITH A PRODUCTION HISTORY.—If a New Entrant acquires an existing factory that has processed sugar beets from the 1998 or later crop years and has a production history, then, upon the mutual agreement of the New Entrant and the company currently holding the allocation associated with the factory, the Secretary shall transfer to the New Entrant a portion of allocation of the current allocation holder to reflect the historical contribution of the production of the acquired factory to the total allocation of the current allocation holder. In the absence of mutual agreement, the new entrant shall be ineligible for a beet sugar allocation.

“(iii) APPEALS.—Any decision made under this subsection may be appealed to the Secretary pursuant to section 359i.

“(iv) DEFINITION.—In this subparagraph, the term ‘New Entrant’ means an individual, corporation, or other entity that does not have an allocation of the beet sugar allot-

“(B) ADDITIONAL ADJUSTMENT.—If, after adjustment under subparagraph (A), there is still a shortage of sugar in the United States market, and marketings of domestic sugar have been maximized, the Secretary may increase the tariff-rate quota for refined sugars sufficient to accommodate the supply increase, if such further increase will not threaten to result in the forfeiture of sugar pledged as collateral for a loan under section 156 of the Federal Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act of 1996 (7 U.S.C. 7272).

“(2) ON OR AFTER APRIL 1.—

“(A) INITIAL ADJUSTMENT AUTHORIZED.—On or after April 1 of a fiscal year, the Secretary may take action to increase supply as provided under sections 359c(b)(2) and 359e(b), including an increase in the tariff-rate quota for raw cane sugar to accommodate the reassignment to imports.

SEC. 2407. PROMOTION OF MARKET-BASED APPROACHES TO CONSERVATION.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) Many of the conservation and environmental benefits produced on farms, ranches, and private forest lands in the United States do not have an assigned value in the market place or lack a private market altogether.

(2) While private markets for environmental goods and services are emerging, their viability has been hampered by several barriers.

(3) The Federal Government can help overcome these barriers and promote the establishment of markets for agricultural and forestry conservation activities.

(4) Generating substantial private-sector demand for environmental goods and services hinges on the ability to use environmental credits generated by agricultural and forest conservation activities.

(b) MARKET-BASED APPROACHES.—Subtitle E of title XII of the Food Security Act of 1985 is amended by inserting after section 1244 (16 U.S.C. 3844) the following new section:

“(a) IMPLEMENTATION.—To facilitate the development and effective operation of private sector market-based approaches for environmental goods and services produced by farmers, ranchers, and owners of private forest land, the Secretary may conduct research and analysis, enter into contracts and cooperative agreements, and award grants for the purpose of—

“(1) promoting the development of consistent standards and processes for quantifying environmental benefits, including the creation of performance standards or baselines;

“(2) promoting the establishment of reporting and credit registries, including third-party verification and certification; and

“(3) promoting actions that facilitate the development and functioning of private-sector market-based approaches for environmental goods and services involving agriculture and forestry.

“(b) ENVIRONMENTAL SERVICES STANDARDS BOARD.—

“(1) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is to be established an Environmental Services Standards Board to develop consistent performance standards for quantifying environmental services from land management and agricultural activities in order to facilitate the development of credit markets for conservation and land management activities that are agriculture or forest based.

“(2) CHAIRPERSON.—The Secretary of Agriculture shall serve as chair of the Environmental Services Standards Board.

“(3) MEMBERSHIP.—The Environmental Services Standards Board shall be comprised of the Secretary of Agriculture, the Secretary of the Interior, the Secretary of Energy, the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Transportation, the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, the Commander of the Army Corps of Engineers, and such other representatives as determined by the President.

“(4) SUBCOMMITTEES.—The Environmental Services Standards Board may form subcommittees to address specific issues.

“(c) DISSEMINATION OF PERFORMANCE STANDARDS.—Federal agencies are authorized to adopt performance standards developed by the Environmental Services Standards Board for quantifying environmental services that establish credits to meet requirements of environmental and conservation programs.

“(d) FUNDING.—There is authorized to be appropriated $50,000,000 to carry out this section. Amounts so appropriated shall remain available until expended.

“(e) DEFINITIONS.—In this section

“(1) BASELINE.—The term ‘baseline’ means a level of effort or performance that is expected to be met before an entity can generate marketable credits.

“(2) PERFORMANCE STANDARD.—The term ‘performance standard’ means a defined level of environmental performance, expressed as a narrative or measurable number, which specifies the minimum acceptable environmental performance of an operation or practice.”.

SEC. 9006. BIOMASS RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT ACT OF 2000.

(a) RESTATEMENT OF ACT.—Section 9008 of the Farm Security and Rural Investment Act of 2002 (116 Stat. 486) is amended to read as follows:

“SEC. 9008. BIOMASS RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT ACT OF 2000.

“(a) SHORT TITLE.—This section may be cited as the ‘Biomass Research and Development Act of 2000’.

“(b) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

“(1) conversion of biomass into biobased industrial products offers outstanding potential for benefit to the national interest through—

“(A) improved strategic security and balance of payments;

“(B) healthier rural economies;

“(C) improved environmental quality;

“(D) near-zero net greenhouse gas emissions;

“(E) technology export; and

“(F) sustainable resource supply;

“(2) the key technical challenges to be overcome in order for biobased industrial products to be cost-competitive are finding new technology and reducing the cost of technology for converting biomass into desired biobased industrial products;

“(3) biobased fuels have the clear potential to be sustainable, low cost, and high performance fuels that are compatible with both current and future transportation systems and provide near-zero net greenhouse gas emissions;

“(4) biobased chemicals have the clear potential for environmentally benign product life cycles;

“(5) biobased power can—

“(A) provide environmental benefits;

“(B) promote rural economic development; and

“(C) diversify energy resource options;

“(6) many biomass feedstocks suitable for industrial processing show the clear potential for sustainable production, in some cases resulting in improved soil fertility and carbon sequestration;

“(7)(A) grain processing mills are biorefineries that produce a diversity of useful food, chemical, feed, and fuel products; and

“(B) technologies that result in further diversification of the range of value-added biobased industrial products can meet a key need for the grain processing industry;

“(8)(A) cellulosic feedstocks are attractive because of their low cost and widespread availability; and

“(B) research resulting in cost-effective technology to overcome the recalcitrance of cellulosic biomass would allow biorefineries to produce fuels and bulk chemicals on a very large scale, with a commensurately large realization of the benefit described in paragraph (1);

“(9) research into the fundamentals to understand important mechanisms of biomass conversion can be expected to accelerate the application and advancement of biomass processing technology by—

“(A) increasing the confidence and speed with which new technologies can be scaled up; and

“(B) giving rise to processing innovations based on new knowledge;

“(10) the added utility of biobased industrial products developed through improvements in processing technology would encourage the design of feedstocks that would meet future needs more effectively;

“(11) the creation of value-added biobased industrial products would create new jobs in construction, manufacturing, and distribution, as well as new higher-valued exports of products and technology;

“(12)(A) because of the relatively short-term time horizon characteristic of private sector investments, and because many benefits of biomass processing are in the national interest, it is appropriate for the Federal Government to provide precommercial investment in fundamental research and research-driven innovation in the biomass processing area; and

“(B) such an investment would provide a valuable complement to ongoing and past governmental support in the biomass processing area; and

“(13) several prominent studies, including studies by the President’s Committee of Advisors on Science and Technology and the National Research Council—

“(A) support the potential for large research-driven advances in technologies for production of biobased industrial products as well as associated benefits; and

“(B) document the need for a focused, integrated, and innovation-driven research effort to provide the appropriate progress in a timely manner.

(a) SHORT TITLE.—This section may be cited as the “Pollinator Protection Act of 2007”.

(b) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(1) many of the crops that humans and livestock consume rely on pollinators for healthy growth;

(2) pollination by honey and native bees adds more than $18,000,000,000 annually to the value of United States crops;

(3) ½ of the food supply of the United States depends on bee pollination, which makes the management and protection of pollinators an issue of paramount importance to the security of the United States food supply system;

(4) colony collapse disorder is the name that has been given to the latest die-off of honey bee colonies, exacerbating the continual decline of pollinators in North America;

(5) honey bee colonies in more than 23 states have been affected by colony collapse disorder;

(6) if the current rate of decline continues, the United States will be forced to rely more heavily on imported foods, which will destabilize the food security of the United States through adverse effects on the availability, price, and quality of the many fruits, vegetables, and other products that depend on animal pollination; and

(7) enhanced funding for research on honey bees, native bees, parasites, pathogens, toxins, and other environmental factors affecting bees and pollination of cultivated and wild plants will result in methods of response to colony collapse disorder and other factors causing the decline of pollinators in North America.

(c) AUTHORIZATIONS OF APPROPRIATIONS.—

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(1) the United States' over-reliance on fossil fuel energy has placed undue strain on the nation by compromising our economy and national security;

(2) the United States' over-reliance on fossil fuel energy has also created new strains on our natural systems, including carbon emissions that contribute to climate change;

(3) transportation of energy, such as heating oil, adds to carbon emissions associated with meeting our community energy needs and therefore further feeds climate change;

(4) it is in the national interest to conserve energy and support adoption of new local, sustainable, efficient, and carbon neutral energy sources, such as wood energy, for community energy needs;

(5) communities can save as much as 50 percent over natural gas, 80 percent over propane, 80 percent over electric heat, and 50 percent over oil heat by switching to wood energy for heating schools and other public buildings;

(6) in fast growing communities of all sizes across the United States, municipal and country-owned forest land is playing an essential role in meeting many public needs and could also be used to help support sustainable forestry and local wood energy applications; and

(7) the rapidly expanding base of private forest land owners nationwide includes many individuals with no experience in forest stewardship who could be given technical assistance to provide locally sourced wood supply through sustainable forest management for local wood energy applications.

(b) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this section is to provide grants for community wood energy systems that are intended to—

(1) meet community energy needs with reduced carbon intensity versus fossil fuel systems;

(2) promote energy conservation and development of new renewable energy sources;

(3) aid local budgets by reducing municipal and county energy costs;

(4) increase utilization of low value wood supplies and waste, thereby strengthening the forest products economy for the benefit of forest workers and private forest land owners; and

(5) increase awareness of energy conservation and consumption and the multiple-use values of forests among community members, especially young people.

(c) GRANT PROGRAM.—The Secretary of Agriculture, acting through the Forest Service, shall establish a program to be known as the Community Wood Energy Program to provide grants to State and local governments to acquire community wood energy systems for public buildings and to implement a community wood energy plan.

(d) USE IN PUBLIC BUILDINGS.—A State or local government receiving a grant under subsection (c) shall use a community wood energy system acquired in whole or in part with the use of grant funds for primary use in a public facility owned by such State or local government.

(e) LIMITATION.—A community wood energy system acquired with grant funds provided under subsection (c) shall not exceed an output of—

(1) 50,000,000 BTU per hour for heating; and

(2) 2 megawatts for electric power production.

(f) COMMUNITY WOOD ENERGY PLAN.—Within 18 months of receiving assistance under this section, communities shall utilize the technical assistance of the State forester to create a community wood energy plan identifying how local forests can be accessed in a sustainable manner to help meet the wood supply needs of systems purchased under this section.

(g) MATCHING FUNDS.—A State or local government receiving a grant under subsection (c) shall contribute an amount of non-Federal funds towards the acquisition of community wood energy systems that is at least equal to the amount of grant funds received by such State or local government.

(h) COMMUNITY WOOD ENERGY SYSTEM DEFINED.—The term “community wood energy system” includes single facility central heating, district heating, combined heat and energy systems, and other related biomass energy systems that service schools, town halls, libraries, and other public buildings.

(i) APPROPRIATION.—There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary to carry out this section.

In section 404 of the Agricultural Credit Act of 1978, as added by section 8102, insert after subsection (c) the following new subsection (and redesignate subsequent subsections):

“(d) INSECT AND DISEASE THREATS.—Notwithstanding subsection (c)(1), non-industrial private forest lands are eligible under this section if the Secretary determines that the lands are under an imminent threat of loss or damage by insect or disease and immediate action would help to avoid the loss or damage.

At the end of title IX add the following new section:

SEC. 11310. PREVENTION AND INVESTIGATION OF PAYMENT AND FRAUD AND ERROR.

Section 1113(k) of the Right to Financial Privacy Act of 1978 (12 U.S.C. 3413(k)) is amended to read as follows:

“(k) DISCLOSURE NECESSARY FOR PROPER ADMINISTRATION OF PROGRAMS OF CERTAIN GOVERNMENT AUTHORITIES.—

“(1) DISCLOSURE TO GOVERNMENT AUTHORITIES.—Nothing in this title shall apply to the disclosure by the financial institution of the financial records of any customer to the Department of the Treasury, the Social Security Administration, the Railroad Retirement Board, or any other Government authority that certifies, disburses, or collects payments, when the disclosure of such information is necessary to, and such information is used solely for the purposes of—

“(C) the proper administration of the Railroad Retirement Act of 1974 (45 U.S.C. 231 et seq.);

“(D) the verification of the identify of any person in connection with the issuance of a Federal payment or collection of funds by a Government authority; or “(E) the investigation or recovery of an improper Federal payment or collection of funds, or an improperly negotiated Treasury check.

“(2) LIMITATIONS ON SUBSEQUENT DISCLOSURE.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any request authorized by paragraph (1), and the information contained therein, may be used by the financial institution and its agents solely for the purpose of providing the customer's financial records to the Government authority requesting the information and shall be barred from redisclosure by the financial institution or its agents. Any Government authority receiving information pursuant to paragraph (1) may not disclose or use the information except for the purposes set forth in such paragraph.”

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States (referred to in this section as the “9/11 Commission”) conducted a lengthy review of the facts and circumstances relating to the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, including those relating to the intelligence community, law enforcement agencies, and the role of congressional oversight and resource allocation.

(2) In its final report, the 9/11 Commission found that—

(A) congressional oversight of the intelligence activities of the United States is dysfunctional;

(B) under the rules of the Senate and the House of Representatives in effect at the time the report was completed, the committees of Congress charged with oversight of the intelligence activities lacked the power, influence, and sustained capability to meet the daunting challenges faced by the intelligence community of the United States;

(C) as long as such oversight is governed by such rules of the Senate and the House of Representatives, the people of the United States will not get the security they want and need;

(D) a strong, stable, and capable congressional committee structure is needed to give the intelligence community of the United States appropriate oversight, support, and leadership; and

(E) the reforms recommended by the 9/11 Commission in its final report will not succeed if congressional oversight of the intelligence community in the United States is not changed.

(3) The 9/11 Commission recommended structural changes to Congress to improve the oversight of intelligence activities.

(4) Congress has enacted some of the recommendations made by the 9/11 Commission and is considering implementing additional recommendations of the 9/11 Commission.

(5) The Senate adopted Senate Resolution 445 in the 108th Congress to address some of the intelligence oversight recommendations of the 9/11 Commission by abolishing term limits for the members of the Select Committee on Intelligence, clarifying jurisdiction for intelligence-related nominations, and streamlining procedures for the referral of intelligence-related legislation, but other aspects of the 9/11 Commission recommendations regarding intelligence oversight have not been implemented.

(b) SENSE OF THE SENATE.—It is the sense of the Senate that the Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs and the Select Committee on Intelligence of the Senate each, or jointly, should—

(1) undertake a review of the recommendations made in the final report of the 9/11 Commission with respect to intelligence reform and congressional intelligence oversight reform;

(2) review and consider any other suggestions, options, or recommendations for improving intelligence oversight; and

(3) not later than December 21, 2007, submit to the Senate a report that includes the recommendations of the committees, if any, for carrying out such reforms.

“(b) FINDINGS.—Consistent with the report of the National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States, Congress makes the following findings:

“(1) In conducting the war on terrorism, the Government may need additional powers and may need to enhance the use of its existing powers.

“(3) The National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States correctly concluded that ‘The choice between security and liberty is a false choice, as nothing is more likely to endanger America’s liberties than the success of a terrorist attack at home. Our history has shown us that insecurity threatens liberty. Yet, if our liberties are curtailed, we lose the values that we are struggling to defend.’.

“(c) PURPOSE.—The Board shall—

(1) analyze and review actions the executive branch takes to protect the Nation from terrorism, ensuring that the need for such actions is balanced with the need to protect privacy and civil liberties; and

“(2) Under paragraph (1)(B)(ii) of this subsection, an employee’s apprehension of serious injury is reasonable only if a reasonable individual in the circumstances then confronting the employee would conclude that the hazardous safety or security condition establishes a real danger of accident, injury, or serious impairment to health. To qualify for protection, the employee must have sought from the employer, and been unable to obtain, correction of the hazardous safety or security condition.

“(B) Not later than 30 days after the notice under subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, the complainant and the person alleged to have committed the violation may file objections to the findings or preliminary order, or both, and request a hearing on the record. The filing of objections does not stay a reinstatement ordered in the preliminary order. If a hearing is not requested within the 30 days, the preliminary order is final and not subject to judicial review.

“(C) A hearing shall be conducted expeditiously. Not later than 120 days after the end of the hearing, the Secretary of Labor shall issue a final order. and decided expeditiously. An order of the Secretary of Labor subject to review under this subsection is not subject to judicial review in a criminal or other civil proceeding.

(2) A number of investigations remain ongoing by countries that are close United States allies in the war on terrorism regarding the conduct of officials, employees, and agents of the United States and of other countries related to conduct regarding detainees.

(3) The Secretary of State has launched an initiative to try to address the differences between the United States and many of its allies regarding the treatment of detainees.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that the Secretary, acting through the Legal Adviser of the Department of State, should continue to build on the Secretary’s efforts to engage United States allies to develop a common coalition approach, in compliance with Common Article 3 of the Geneva Conventions and other applicable legal principles, toward the detention and humane treatment of individuals

Subtitle D—Strategy for the United States Relationship With Afghanistan, Pakistan, and Saudi Arabia

SEC. 2041. AFGHANISTAN.

(a) CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) A democratic, stable, and prosperous Afghanistan is vital to the national security of the United States and to combating international terrorism.

(2) Following the ouster of the Taliban regime in 2001, the Government of Afghanistan, with assistance from the United States and the international community, has achieved some notable successes, including—

(A) adopting a constitution;

(B) holding presidential, parliamentary, and provincial council elections;

(C) improving the protection of human rights, including women’s rights; and

(D) expanding educational opportunities.

(3) The following factors pose a serious and immediate threat to the stability of Afghanistan:

(A) Taliban and anti-government forces, al Qaeda, and criminal networks.

(B) Drug trafficking and corruption.

(C) Weak institutions of administration, security, and justice, including pervasive lack of the rule of law.

(D) Poverty, unemployment, and lack of provision of basic services.

(4) The United States and the international community must significantly increase political, economic, and military support to Afghanistan to ensure its long-term stability and prosperity, and to deny violent extremist groups such as al Qaeda sanctuary in Afghanistan.

(b) STATEMENTS OF POLICY.—The following shall be the policies of the United States:

(1) The United States shall vigorously support the people and Government of Afghanistan as they continue to commit to the path toward a government representing and protecting the rights of all Afghans, and shall maintain its long-term commitment to the people of Afghanistan by increased assistance and the continued deployment of United States troops in Afghanistan as long as the Government of Afghanistan supports such United States involvement.

(2) In order to reduce the ability of the Taliban and al Qaeda to finance their operations through the opium trade, the President shall engage aggressively with the Government of Afghanistan, countries in the region or otherwise influenced by the trade and transit of narcotics, as well as North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) partners of the United States, and in consultation with Congress, to assess the success of the current Afghan counter-narcotics strategy and to explore additional options for addressing the narcotics crisis in Afghanistan, including possible changes in rules of engagement for NATO and Coalition forces for participation in actions against narcotics trafficking and kingpins, and the provision of comprehensive assistance to farmers who rely on opium for their livelihood, including through the promotion of alternative crops and livelihoods.

(3) The United States shall continue to work with and provide assistance to the Government of Afghanistan to strengthen local and national government institutions and the rule of law, including the training of judges and prosecutors, and to train and equip the Afghan National Security Forces.

(4) The United States shall continue to call on NATO members participating in operations in Afghanistan to meet their commitments to provide forces and equipment, and to lift restrictions on how such forces can be deployed.

(5) The United States shall continue to foster greater understanding and cooperation between the Governments of Afghanistan and Pakistan by taking the following actions:

(A) Facilitating greater communication, including through official mechanisms such as the Tripartite Commission and the Joint Intelligence Operations Center, and by promoting other forms of exchange between the parliaments and civil society of the two countries.

(B) Urging the Government of Afghanistan to enter into a political dialogue with Pakistan with respect to all issues relating to the border between the two countries, with the aim of establishing a mutually-recognized and monitored border, open to human and economic exchange, and with both countries fully responsible for border security.

(c) STATEMENT OF CONGRESS.—Congress strongly urges that the Afghanistan Freedom Support Act of 2002 (22 U.S.C. 7501 et seq.) be reauthorized and updated to take into account new developments in Afghanistan and in the region so as to demonstrate the continued support by the United States for the people and Government of Afghanistan.

(d) EMERGENCY INCREASE IN EFFECTIVE POLICE TRAINING AND POLICING OPERATIONS.—

(1) CONGRESSIONAL FINDING.—Congress finds that police training programs in Afghanistan have achieved far less return on substantial investment to date and require a substantive review and justification of the means and purposes of such assistance, consequent to any provision of additional resources.

(2) ASSISTANCE AUTHORIZED.—The President shall make increased efforts, on an urgent basis, to—

(A) dramatically improve the capability and effectiveness of United States and international police trainers, mentors, and police personnel for police training programs in Afghanistan, as well as develop a pretraining screening program;

(B) increase the numbers of such trainers, mentors, and personnel only if such increase is determined to improve the performance and capabilities of the Afghanistan civil security forces; and

(C) assist the Government of Afghanistan, in conjunction with the Afghanistan civil security forces and their leadership, in addressing the corruption crisis that is threatening to undermine Afghanistan’s future.

(3) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, and every six months thereafter until September 30, 2010, the President shall transmit to the appropriate congressional committees a report on United States efforts to fulfill the requirements of this subsection. The report required by this paragraph may be transmitted concurrently with any similar report required by the Afghanistan Freedom Support Act of 2002.

SEC. 2042. PAKISTAN.

(a) CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) A democratic, stable, and prosperous Pakistan that is a full and reliable partner in the struggle against the Taliban, al Qaeda, and other terrorist groups, and is a responsible steward of its nuclear weapons and technology, is vital to the national security of the United States.

(2) Since September 11, 2001, the Government of Pakistan has been a critical ally and an important partner in removing the Taliban regime in Afghanistan and combating al Qaeda.

(3) Pakistan has made great sacrifices in the shared struggle against al Qaeda-affiliated terrorist groups, engaging in military operations that have led to the deaths of hundreds of Pakistani security personnel and enduring acts of terrorism that have killed hundreds of Pakistani civilians.

(4) Publicly-stated goals of the Government of Pakistan and the national interests of the United States are in close agreement in many areas, including—

(A) curbing the proliferation of nuclear weapons technology;

(B) combating poverty and corruption;

(G) securing the borders of Pakistan to prevent the movement of militants and terrorists into other countries and territories; and

(H) effectively dealing with violent extremism.

(5) The opportunity exists for shared effort in helping to achieve correlative goals with the Government of Pakistan, particularly—

(A) increased United States assistance to Pakistan, as appropriate, to achieve progress in meeting the goals of subparagraphs (A) through (C) of paragraph (4);

(B) increased commitment on the part of the Government of Pakistan to achieve the goals of paragraph (4)(D), particularly given continued concerns, based on the conduct of previous elections, regarding whether parliamentary elections scheduled for 2007 will be free, fair, and inclusive of all political parties and carried out in full accordance with internationally-recognized democratic norms; and

(C) increased commitment on the part of the Government of Pakistan to take actions described in paragraph (4)(E), particularly given—

(i) the continued operation of the Taliban’s Quetta shura, as noted by then-North Atlantic Treaty Organization Supreme Allied Commander General James Jones in testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on September 21, 2006; and

(ii) the continued operation of al Qaeda affiliates Lashkar-e Taiba and Jaish-e Muhammad, sometimes under different names, as demonstrated by the lack of meaningful action taken against Hafiz Muhammad Saeed, Maulana Masood Azhar, and other known leaders and members of such terrorist organizations; and

(D) increased commitment on the part of the Government of the United States in regard to working with all elements of Pakistan society in helping to achieve the correlative goals described in subparagraphs (A) through (H) of paragraph (4).

(b) STATEMENTS OF POLICY.—The following shall be the policy of the United States:

(1) To maintain and deepen its friendship and long-term strategic relationship with Pakistan.

(2) To work with the Government of Pakistan to combat international terrorism, especially in the frontier provinces of Pakistan, and to end the use of Pakistan as a safe haven for terrorist groups, including those associated with al Qaeda or the Taliban.

(3) To support robust funding for programs of the United States Agency for International Development and the Department of State that assist the Government of Pakistan in working toward the goals described in subsection (a)(4), as the Government of Pakistan demonstrates a clear commitment to building a moderate, democratic state.

(4) To work with the international community to secure additional financial and political support to effectively implement the policies set forth in this subsection.

(5) To facilitate a just resolution of the dispute over the territory of Kashmir, to the extent that such facilitation is invited and welcomed by the Governments of Pakistan and India and by the people of Kashmir.

(6) To facilitate greater communication and cooperation between the Governments of Afghanistan and Pakistan for the improvement of bilateral relations and cooperation in combating terrorism in both countries.

(7) To work with the Government of Pakistan to dismantle existing proliferation networks and prevent the proliferation of nuclear technology.

(c) STRATEGY RELATING TO PAKISTAN.—

(1) REQUIREMENT FOR REPORT ON STRATEGY.—Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall transmit to the appropriate congressional committees a report that describes the long-term strategy of the United States to engage with the Government of Pakistan to achieve the goals described in subparagraphs (A) through (H) of subsection (a)(4) and to carry out the policies described in subsection (b).

(2) FORM.—The report required by paragraph (1) shall be transmitted in unclassified form, but may include a classified annex, if necessary.

(d) LIMITATION ON UNITED STATES SECURITY ASSISTANCE TO PAKISTAN.—

(1) LIMITATION.—For fiscal year 2008, United States assistance under chapter 2 of part II of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2311 et seq.) or section 23 of the Arms Export Control Act (22 U.S.C. 2763) may not be provided to, and a license for any item controlled under the Arms Export Control Act (22 U.S.C. 2751 et seq.) may not be approved for, Pakistan until the President transmits to the appropriate congressional committees a report that contains a determination of the President that the Government of Pakistan—

(B) is undertaking a comprehensive military, legal, economic, and political campaign to achieving the goal described in subparagraph (A); and

(3) FORM.—The report required by paragraph (1) and the memorandum of justification required by paragraph (2) shall be transmitted in unclassified form, but may include a classified annex, if necessary.

(e) NUCLEAR PROLIFERATION.—

(1) CONGRESSIONAL FINDING.—Congress finds that the maintenance by any country of a procurement or supply network for the illicit proliferation of nuclear and missile technologies would be inconsistent with that country being considered an ally of the United States.

(2) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that the national security interest of the United States will best be served if the United States develops and implements a long-term strategy to improve the United States relationship with Pakistan and works with the Government of Pakistan to stop nuclear proliferation.

(f) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—There is authorized to be appropriated to the President such sums as may be necessary to provide assistance described in subsection (d)(1) for Pakistan for fiscal year 2008 in accordance with the requirements of subsection (d)(1).

(2) OTHER FUNDS.—Amounts authorized to be appropriated under this subsection are in addition to amounts otherwise available for such purposes.

(3) DECLARATION OF POLICY.—Congress declares that the amount of funds appropriated pursuant to the authorization of appropriations under paragraph (1) and for subsequent fiscal years shall be determined by the extent to which the Government of Pakistan displays demonstrable progress in—

(A) preventing al Qaeda and other terrorist organizations from operating in the territory of Pakistan, including eliminating terrorist training camps or facilities, arresting members and leaders of terrorist organizations, and countering recruitment efforts;

(B) preventing the Taliban from using the territory of Pakistan as a sanctuary from which to launch attacks within Afghanistan, including by arresting Taliban leaders, stopping cross-border incursions, and countering recruitment efforts; and

(C) implementing democratic reforms, including allowing free, fair, and inclusive elections at all levels of government in accordance with internationally-recognized democratic norms, and respecting the independence of the press and judiciary.

(4) BIENNIAL REPORTS TO CONGRESS.—

SEC. 2043. SAUDI ARABIA.

(a) CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.—Congress finds that:

(1) The National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States concluded that the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia has “been a problematic ally in combating Islamic extremism. At the level of high policy, Saudi Arabia’s leaders cooperated with American diplomatic initiatives aimed at the Taliban or Pakistan before 9/11. At the same time, Saudi Arabia’s society was a place where al Qaeda raised money directly from individuals and through charities. It was the society that produced 15 of the 19 hijackers.”.

(2) Saudi Arabia has an uneven record in the fight against terrorism, especially with respect to terrorist financing, support for radical madrassas, a lack of political outlets for its citizens, and restrictions on religious pluralism, that poses a threat to the security of the United States, the international community, and Saudi Arabia itself.

(3) The National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States concluded that the “problems in the U.S.-Saudi relationship must be confronted, openly”. It recommended that the two countries build a relationship that includes a “shared commitment to political and economic reform . . . and a shared interest in greater tolerance and cultural respect, translating into a commitment to fight the violent extremists who foment hatred”.

(4) The United States has a national security interest in working with the Government of Saudi Arabia to combat international terrorists that operate within that country or that operate outside Saudi Arabia with the support of citizens of Saudi Arabia.

(5) The United States and Saudi Arabia established a Strategic Dialogue in 2005, which provides a framework for the two countries to discuss a range of bilateral issues at high levels, including counterterrorism policy and political and economic reforms.

(6) It is in the national security interest of the United States to support the Government of Saudi Arabia in undertaking a number of political and economic reforms, including increasing anti-terrorism operations conducted by law enforcement agencies, providing more political and religious rights to its citizens, increasing the rights of women, engaging in comprehensive educational reform, enhancing monitoring of charitable organizations, and promulgating and enforcing domestic laws and regulation on terrorist financing.

(b) STATEMENT OF POLICY.—It is the policy of the United States—

(1) to engage with the Government of Saudi Arabia to openly confront the issue of terrorism, as well as other problematic issues such as the lack of political freedoms;

(2) to enhance counterterrorism cooperation with the Government of Saudi Arabia; and

(3) to support the efforts of the Government of Saudi Arabia to make political, economic, and social reforms, including greater religious freedom, throughout the country.

(c) PROGRESS IN COUNTERTERRORISM AND OTHER COOPERATION.—

(1) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall transmit to the appropriate congressional committees a report that—

(A) describes the long-term strategy of the United States—

(i) to engage with the Government of Saudi Arabia to facilitate political, economic, and social reforms, including greater religious freedom, that will enhance the ability of the Government of Saudi Arabia to combat international terrorism; and

(ii) to work with the Government of Saudi Arabia to combat terrorism, including through effective measures to prevent and prohibit the financing of terrorists by Saudi institutions and citizens; and

(B) provides an assessment of the progress made by Saudi Arabia since 2001 on the matters described in subparagraph (A), including—

(i) whether Saudi Arabia has become a party to the International Convention for the Suppression of the Financing of Terrorism; and

(ii) the activities and authority of the Saudi Nongovernmental National Commission for Relief and Charity Work Abroad.

(2) FORM.—The report required by paragraph (1) shall be transmitted in unclassified form, but may include a classified annex, if necessary.

TITLE XXI—ADVANCING DEMOCRATIC VALUES

SEC. 2101. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “Advance Democratic Values, Address Nondemocratic Countries, and Enhance Democracy Act of 2007” or the “ADVANCE Democracy Act of 2007”.

SEC. 2102. FINDINGS.

Congress finds the following:

(1) The United States Declaration of Independence, the United States Constitution, and the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights declare that all human beings are created equal and possess certain rights and freedoms, including the fundamental right to participate in the political life and government of their respective countries.

(2) The development of democracy constitutes a long-term challenge that goes through unique phases and paces in individual countries as such countries develop democratic institutions such as a thriving civil society, a free media, and an independent judiciary, and must be led from within such countries, including by nongovernmental and governmental reformers.

(3) Individuals, nongovernmental organizations, and movements that support democratic principles, practices, and values are under increasing pressure from some governments of nondemocratic countries (as well as, in some cases, from governments of democratic transition countries), including by using administrative and regulatory mechanisms to undermine the activities of such individuals, organizations, and movements.

(4) Democratic countries have a number of instruments available for supporting democratic reformers who are committed to promoting effective, nonviolent change in nondemocratic countries and who are committed to keeping their countries on the path to democracy.

(5) United States efforts to promote democracy and protect human rights can be strengthened to improve assistance for such reformers, including through an enhanced role for United States diplomats when properly trained and given the right incentives.

(6) The promotion of democracy requires a broad-based effort with cooperation between all democratic countries, including through the Community of Democracies.

SEC. 2103. STATEMENT OF POLICY.

It is the policy of the United States—

(1) to promote freedom and democracy in foreign countries as a fundamental component of United States foreign policy, along with other key foreign policy goals;

(2) to affirm fundamental freedoms and internationally recognized human rights in foreign countries, as reflected in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, and to condemn offenses against those freedoms and rights as a fundamental component of United States foreign policy, along with other key foreign policy goals;

(3) to protect and promote such fundamental freedoms and rights, including the freedoms of association, of expression, of the press, and of religion, and the right to own private property;

(4) to commit to the long-term challenge of promoting universal democracy by promoting democratic institutions, including institutions that support the rule of law (such as an independent judiciary), an independent and professional media, strong legislatures, a thriving civil society, transparent and professional independent governmental auditing agencies, civilian control of the military, and institutions that promote the rights of minorities and women;

(5) to use instruments of United States influence to support, promote, and strengthen democratic principles, practices, and values, including the right to free, fair, and open elections, secret balloting, and universal suffrage, including by—

(A) providing appropriate support to individuals, nongovernmental organizations, and movements located in nondemocratic countries that aspire to live in freedom and establish full democracy in such countries; and

(B) providing political, economic, and other support to foreign countries and individuals, nongovernmental organizations, and movements that are willingly undertaking a transition to democracy; and

(6) to strengthen cooperation with other democratic countries in order to better promote and defend shared values and ideals.
