A BILL

To promote the strengthening of the private sector in Egypt and Tunisia.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. APPROPRIATE CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES

4 DEFINED.

5 In this Act, the term “appropriate congressional com-
6 mittees” means—

1 (1) the Committee on Foreign Relations of the
2 Senate;

3 (2) the Committee on Appropriations of the
4 Senate;

5 (3) the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the 6 House of Representatives; and

7 (4) the Committee on Appropriations of the 8 House of Representatives.

9 TITLE I—EGYPT-AMERICAN
10 ENTERPRISE FUND

11 SEC. 101. SHORT TITLE.

12 This title may be cited as the “~~Egyptian-American~~
13 Enterprise Fund Act”.

14 SEC. 102. PURPOSE AND FINDINGS.

15 (a) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this title is to support
16 a transition to democracy in Egypt that is successful, last-
17 ing, and reflective of the aspirations of the Egyptian peo-
18 ple for greater economic opportunity and political freedom
19 through the creation of an Egyptian-American Enterprise
20 Fund that will support economic prosperity through finan-
21 cial investment and technical assistance to small- and me-
22 dium-sized enterprises.

23 (b) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following find-
24 ings:

1 (1) The United States and Egypt have a
2 strong, long-standing bilateral relationship.

3 (2) Egypt—

4 (A) plays an important role in—

5 (i) global and regional politics; and

6 (ii) the broader Middle East and 7 North Africa; and

8 (B) has been an intellectual, economic, and
9 cultural center of the Arab world for many
10 years.

11 (3) On January 25, 2011, demonstrations
12 began throughout Egypt in which thousands of pro-
13 testers peacefully called for—

14 (A) a new government;

15 (B) free and fair elections;

16 (C) significant constitutional and political
17 reforms;

18 (D) greater economic opportunity; and

19 (E) an end to government corruption.

20 (4) The demonstrators' perseverance in the face
21 of violence and intimidation—

22 (A) culminated in the February 11, 2011
23 resignation of President Hosni Mubarak; and

24 (B) inspired democracy activists through-
25 out the region and around the world.

1 (5) The United States has a strong interest
2 in—

3 (A) an orderly and peaceful transition to
4 democracy in Egypt; and

5 (B) assisting the people of Egypt to form
6 a representative and democratic political and
7 economic system that respects universal values.

8 (6) Egypt—

9 (A) has a well-developed civil society and 10 governing institutions; and

11 (B) was well-served by—

12 (i) the extraordinary determination
13 shown by the people of Egypt in forcing
14 President Mubarak to abdicate; and

15 (ii) the restraint demonstrated by the
16 Egyptian military.

17 (7) In 2010—

18 (A) the inflation rate in Egypt was ap-
19 proximately 11 percent; and

20 (B) Egypt's foreign debt was equal to 16
21 percent of its $216,000,000,000 gross domestic
22 product (GDP).

23 (8) As a result of the dramatic events in Egypt
24 in February 2011—

1 (A) Egypt's economy was brought to a
2 near standstill and continues to experience lin-
3 gering effects;

4 (B) widespread strikes slowed down
5 Egypt's manufacturing output and banks closed
6 down for intermittent periods; and

7 (C) the value of the Egyptian stock market
8 fell by 16 percent in the 2 days before it was
9 closed on January 30, 2011.

10 (9) According to analyst estimates, as a result
11 of recent events in Egypt—

12 (A) forecasted growth for Egypt's GDP
13 has dropped from 6 percent to between 3.1 and 14 3.5 percent;

15 (B) the amount of workers' remittances
16 coming into Egypt will likely decline;

17 (C) the amount of regional securities pur-
18 chased by foreign investors will likely decrease,
19 which will require fiscal deficits to be financed
20 by domestic banks and reduce the availability of
21 credit for private sector borrowers;

22 (D) heightened political uncertainty will
23 likely lead to a downturn in tourism, which ac-
24 counts for 8.2 percent of Egypt's GDP and 7
25 percent of Egypt's direct employment; and

1 (E) foreign direct investment (FDI) in
2 Egypt is predicted to decrease.

3 (10) The most recent official estimates of the 4 unemployment rate in Egypt is 9.2 percent. Unoffi-
5 cial estimates of the current unemployment rate in 6 Egypt range between 15 and 20 percent. The unem-
7 ployment rate for Egyptian youth is estimated at 8 24.8 percent. Egyptian women, who are more af-
9 fected by spikes in unemployment, face an unem-
10 ployment rate of nearly 25 percent compared to the 11 6.7 percent unemployment rate for Egyptian men.

12 (11) An estimated 61 percent of the population
13 of Egypt is younger than 30 years of age.

14 (12) Private sector employment in Egypt in-
15 creased from 11,000,000 to 15,100,000 between
16 1999 and 2007.

17 (13) According to the International Finance
18 Corporation's 2009 "SME Banking Knowledge
19 Guide"—

20 (A) the small and medium enterprise
21 (SME) market in Egypt was estimated at 22 160,000;

23 (B) of these firms, about 98 percent em-
24 ployed fewer than 50 people;

1 (C) Egypt had an estimated 2,400,000
2 microenterprises; and

3 (D) 68 percent of the SMEs in Egypt have 4 bank accounts, but only 12 percent of those 5 with bank accounts had taken out loans.

6 (14) A challenge for SMEs is that they are not
7 always considered a significant customer base for 8 banks and services don't meet the unique needs of 9 this market segment.

10 (15) According to the Government of Egypt's
11 Small and Medium Enterprise Development Unit,
12 SMEs constitute nearly 75 percent of private sector
13 employment.

14 (16) According to the World Bank report enti-
15 tled "Access to Finance and Economic Growth in
16 Egypt"—

17 (A) even before the recent political events
18 in Egypt, private-sector credit to GDP in Egypt
19 was modest compared to other developing 20 economies;

21 (B) private credit as a share of total credit
22 has been declining;

23 (C) the distribution of bank financing is
24 uneven, with most loans going to large and 25 well-established enterprises; and

1 (D) as a consequence, family-owned firms
2 and SMEs, which represent the majority of
3 firms in Egypt, rely heavily on the informal
4 market.

5 (17) To help foster and support the fledgling
6 private sector after the fall of the Berlin Wall, Con-
7 gress, through enactment of the Support for East
8 European Democracy (SEED) Act of 1989 (22
9 U.S.C. 5401 et seq.) and the FREEDOM Support
10 Act (22 U.S.C. 5801 et seq.), authorized nearly 11 $1,200,000,000 for the United States Agency for
12 International Development (USAID) to establish 10
13 new investment funds (collectively known as the 14 “Enterprise Funds”) throughout Central and East-
15 ern Europe and the former Soviet Union.

16 (18) The Enterprise Funds—

17 (A) channeled funding into more than 500
18 enterprises in 19 countries;

19 (B) leveraged an additional
20 $5,000,000,000 in private investment capital
21 from outside the United States Government;

22 (C) provided substantial development cap-
23 ital where supply was limited;

1 (D) created or sustained more than
2 260,000 jobs through investment and develop-
3 ment activities;

4 (E) funded $74,000,000 in technical as-
5 sistance to strengthen the private sector; and

6 (F) are expected to recoup 137 percent of
7 the original USAID funding.

8 (19) Enterprise funds established in partner-
9 ship with United States partners, such as Poland,
10 Hungary, Albania, Russia, and other European 11 countries, have proven beneficial to the economies of 12 such countries.

13 (20) Creating a similar fund in close partner-
14 ship with the people of Egypt would help sustain
15 and expand reform efforts in Egypt and empower
16 Egyptian entrepreneurs with the resources required
17 to create urgently needed employment opportunities.

18 (21) Establishing an enterprise fund for Egypt
19 would—

20 (A) help reinforce financial institutions
21 within the country;

22 (B) provide debt and equity investment for
23 commercially viable SMEs; and

1 (C) make the investment environment
2 more attractive to domestic and international
3 investors.

4 SEC. 103. PURPOSES OF EGYPTIAN-AMERICAN ENTERPRISE
5 FUND.

6 The purposes of the Egyptian-American Enterprise
7 Fund are—

8 (1) to promote the private sector in Egypt,
9 while considering the development impact of invest-
10 ments and profitability of those investments, par-
11 ticularly in small- and medium-sized enterprises, and 12 joint ventures with participants from the United 13 States and Egypt;

14 (2) to promote policies and practices conducive
15 to strengthening the private sector in Egypt through 16 measures including loans, microloans, equity invest-
17 ments, insurance, guarantees, grants, feasibility
18 studies, technical assistance, training for businesses
19 receiving investment capital, and other measures;

20 (3) to promote good corporate governance and 21 transparency in Egypt, foster competition, catalyze
22 productivity improvements in existing businesses,
23 and strengthen local capital markets; and

8 TITLE II—TUNISIAN-AMERICAN
 9 ENTERPRISE FUND

10 SEC. 201. SHORT TITLE.

11 This title may be cited as the “Tunisian-American
 12 Enterprise Fund Act”.

13 SEC. 202. PURPOSE AND FINDINGS.

14 (a) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this title is to support
 15 a transition to democracy in Tunisia that is successful,
 16 lasting, and reflective of the aspirations of the Tunisian
 17 people for greater economic opportunity and political free-
 18 dom through the creation of a Tunisian-American Enter-
 19 prise Fund that will support economic prosperity through 20 financial investment and technical assistance to small- and
 21 medium-sized enterprises.

22 (b) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following find-
 23 ings:

24 (1) The United States and Tunisia have a
 25 strong, long-standing bilateral relationship.

1 (2) Tunisia—

2 (A) plays an important strategic role in
3 promoting peace and security in North Africa,
4 the broader Middle East, and elsewhere; and

5 (B) has been, and continues to be, a re-
6 gional center for foreign investment and tour-
7 ism.

8 (3) On December 18, 2010, after the self-immo-
9 lation of a young street vendor, Mohamed Bouazizi,
10 protests broke out in Sidi Bouzid, Tunisia.

11 (4) The protests, which quickly spread across
12 Tunisia, involved peaceful demonstrators calling 13 for—

14 (A) a new government;

15 (B) free and fair elections;

16 (C) significant political reforms;

17 (D) greater economic opportunity; and

18 (E) an end to government corruption.

19 (5) The protests culminated in the ouster of
20 President Zine el-Abidine Ben Ali on January 14,
21 2011, inspiring democracy activists throughout the 22 region and around the world.

23 (6) The United States has a strong interest
24 in—

1 (A) an orderly and peaceful transition to
2 democracy in Tunisia; and

3 (B) assisting the people of Tunisia to form
4 a representative and democratic political and
5 economic system that respects universal values.

6 (7) Tunisia—

7 (A) has a well-educated and secular popu-
8 lation that displayed extraordinary determina-
9 tion in forcing President Ben Ali to abdicate;
10 and

11 (B) is well-positioned to make a successful
12 democratic transition.

13 (8) In 2010—

14 (A) the inflation rate in Tunisia was ap-
15 proximately 4.4 percent;

16 (B) Tunisia's foreign debt was equal to 46
17 percent of its $44,000,000,000 gross domestic
18 product (GDP); and

19 (C) according to The Peterson Institute of
20 Economics, Tunisia was the only country in the
21 region in which per capita incomes have gradu-
22 ally converged with the industrial democracies
23 of the Organization of Economic Cooperation
24 and Development (OECD).

1 (9) According to the World Economic Forum's
2 2010–2011 Global Competitiveness Report—

3 (A) Tunisia ranks first in competitiveness
4 among African nations; and

5 (B) Tunisia's most problematic factor for
6 doing business is lack of access to financing.

7 (10) According to the International Monetary
8 Fund (IMF), Tunisia had weathered the global eco-
9 nomic crisis well, having entered the crisis with 10 strong fundamentals.

11 (11) As a result of the dramatic events in Tuni-
12 sia during January 2011—

13 (A) Tunisia's economy was brought to a
14 near standstill and continues to feel lingering
15 effects;

16 (B) Tunisia's debt rating was downgraded;

17 (C) tourism revenues, which are respon-
18 sible for an estimated 8.6 percent of direct con-
19 tribution to Tunisia's GDP, have dropped an 20 estimated 40 percent compared to the previous 21 year;

22 (D) industrial output and investment activ-
23 ity in Tunisia are experiencing significant
24 short-term reductions; and

1 (E) the value of the Tunisian stock market
2 fell by 14 percent.

3 (12) The Fitch Rating Agency concluded, “Al-
4 though the transition to democracy could well im-
5 prove confidence in the long-term, political upheaval
6 has worsened the short-term outlook for the econ-
7 omy, public finances and financial system”.

8 (13) Analysts estimate that the recent events in
9 Tunisia—

10 (A) will increase government deficits in 11 Tunisia for the next 2 years, due in part to new 12 government spending; and

13 (B) has shaken the Tunisian economy, al-
14 though Tunisia’s medium-term growth outlook
15 remains relatively good.

16 (14) According to IMF’s Middle East and Cen-
17 tral Asia Department—

18 (A) Tunisia’s tourism and foreign direct
19 investment (FDI) inflows will continue to de-
20 cline, which will negatively impact the rest of 21 the Tunisian economy;

22 (B) recent events in Tunisia have illus-
23 trated the need for more inclusive growth and
24 better governance in Tunisia; and

1 (C) it is important to recognize that the
2 Tunisian society has enduring strengths.

3 (15) The World Bank estimates that Tunisian
4 banks may face stress as second round effects of the
5 slowdown in businesses and investment permeate.

6 (16) Foreign direct investment, which is a cru-
7 cial component of Tunisia's economic health, created
8 24 percent of the new jobs in 2009, according to
9 Tunisia's Ministry of Planning and International
10 Cooperation.

11 (17) According to the African Development
12 Bank—

13 (A) Tunisia has pursued governance re-
14 forms in an effort to increase FDI and boost
15 local enterprises; and

16 (B) Small- and medium-sized enterprises
17 in Tunisia require support to access finance
18 outside of the traditional lines of credit because 19 sources of finance for enterprises in Tunisia are 20 weak.

21 (18) According to the most recent official esti-
22 mates—

23 (A) the unemployment rate in Tunisia is
24 13 percent;

1 (B) the youth unemployment rate is 30.7
2 percent; and

3 (C) 51 percent of the population of Tunisia
4 is younger than 30 years of age.

5 (19) To help foster and support the fledgling
6 private sector after the fall of the Berlin Wall, Con-
7 gress, through enactment of the Support for East
8 European Democracy (SEED) Act of 1989 (22
9 U.S.C. 5401 et seq.) and the FREEDOM Support
10 Act (22 U.S.C. 5801 et seq.), authorized nearly
11 $1,200,000,000 for the United States Agency for
12 International Development (USAID) to establish 10
13 new investment funds (collectively known as the
14 “Enterprise Funds”) throughout Central and East-
15 ern Europe and the former Soviet Union.

16 (20) The Enterprise Funds—

 21 ENTERPRISE FUND

22 SEC. 101. SHORT TITLE.

23 This title may be cited as the “Egyptian-American
 24 Enterprise Fund Act”.

1 SEC. 102. PURPOSE AND FINDINGS.

10 (b) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

12 long-standing bilateral relationship.

13 (2) Egypt—

14 (A) plays an important role in—

15 (i) global and regional politics; and

16 (ii) the broader Middle East and North
17 Africa; and

18 (B) has been an intellectual, economic, and
19 cultural center of the Arab world for many
20 years.

21 (3) On January 25, 2011, demonstrations began
22 throughout Egypt in which thousands of protesters
23 peacefully called for—

24 (A) a new government;

25 (B) free and fair elections;

1 (C) significant constitutional and political
2 reforms;

8 resignation of President Hosni Mubarak; and

9 (B) inspired democracy activists throughout
10 the region and around the world.

11 (5) The United States has a strong interest in—

16 nomie system that respects universal values.

17 (6) Egypt—

18 (A) has a well-developed civil society and

22 shown by the people of Egypt in forcing
23 President Mubarak to abdicate; and

24 (ii) the restraint demonstrated by the
25 Egyptian military.

1 (7) In 2010—

2 (A) the inflation rate in Egypt was ap-
3 proximately 11 percent; and

4 (B) Egypt's foreign debt was equal to 16
5 percent of its $216,000,000,000 gross domestic
6 product (GDP).

7 (8) As a result of the dramatic events in Egypt
8 in February 2011—

9 (A) Egypt's economy was brought to a near
10 standstill and continues to experience lingering
11 effects;

12 (B) widespread strikes slowed down Egypt's
13 manufacturing output and banks closed down for 14 intermittent periods; and

15 (C) the value of the Egyptian stock market
16 fell by 16 percent in the 2 days before it was
17 closed on January 30, 2011.

18 (9) According to analyst estimates, as a result of 19 recent events in Egypt—

20 (A) forecasted growth for Egypt's GDP has 21 dropped from 6 percent to between 3.1 and 3.5
22 percent;

23 (B) the amount of workers' remittances
24 coming into Egypt will likely decline;

1 (C) the amount of regional securities pur-
2 chased by foreign investors will likely decrease,
3 which will require fiscal deficits to be financed
4 by domestic banks and reduce the availability of
5 credit for private sector borrowers;

6 (D) heightened political uncertainty will
7 likely lead to a downturn in tourism, which ac-
8 counts for 8.2 percent of Egypt's GDP and 7
9 percent of Egypt's direct employment; and

10 (E) foreign direct investment (FDI) in
11 Egypt is predicted to decrease.

12 (10) The most recent official estimates of the un-
13 employment rate in Egypt is 9.2 percent. Unofficial
14 estimates of the current unemployment rate in Egypt
15 range between 15 and 20 percent. The unemployment
16 rate for Egyptian youth is estimated at 24.8 percent.
17 Egyptian women, who are more affected by spikes in 18 unemployment, face an unemployment rate of nearly 19 25 percent compared to the 6.7 percent unemployment
20 rate for Egyptian men.

21 (11) An estimated 61 percent of the population
22 of Egypt is younger than 30 years of age.

23 (12) Private sector employment in Egypt in-
24 creased from 11,000,000 to 15,100,000 between 1999
25 and 2007.

1 (13) According to the International Finance Cor-
2 poration’s 2009 “SME Banking Knowledge Guide”—

3 (A) the small and medium enterprise
4 (SME) market in Egypt was estimated at 5 160,000;

6 (B) of these firms, about 98 percent em-
7 ployed fewer than 50 people;

8 (C) Egypt had an estimated 2,400,000
9 microenterprises; and

10 (D) 68 percent of the SMEs in Egypt have 11 bank accounts, but only 12 percent of those with 12 bank accounts had taken out loans.

13 (14) A challenge for SMEs is that they are not
14 always considered a significant customer base for
15 banks and services don’t meet the unique needs of this 16 market segment.

17 (15) According to the Government of Egypt’s
18 Small and Medium Enterprise Development Unit,
19 SMEs constitute nearly 75 percent of private sector
20 employment.

21 (16) According to the World Bank report entitled 22 “Access to Finance and Economic Growth in 23 Egypt”—

24 (A) even before the recent political events in 25 Egypt, private-sector credit to GDP in Egypt

1 was modest compared to other developing econo-
2 mies;

3 (B) private credit as a share of total credit
4 has been declining;

5 (C) the distribution of bank financing is
6 uneven, with most loans going to large and well-
7 established enterprises; and

8 (D) as a consequence, family-owned firms
9 and SMEs, which represent the majority of firms
10 in Egypt, rely heavily on the informal market.

11 (17) To help foster and support the fledgling pri-
12 vate sector after the fall of the Berlin Wall, Congress,
13 through enactment of the Support for East European
14 Democracy (SEED) Act of 1989 (22 U.S.C. 5401 et
15 seq.) and the FREEDOM Support Act (22 U.S.C.
16 5801 et seq.), authorized nearly $1,200,000,000 for the
17 United States Agency for International Development
18 (USAID) to establish 10 new investment funds (collec-
19 tively known as the “Enterprise Funds”) throughout
20 Central and Eastern Europe and the former Soviet
21 Union.

22 (18) The Enterprise Funds—

23 (A) channeled funding into more than 500
24 enterprises in 19 countries;

1 (B) leveraged an additional $5,000,000,000
2 in private investment capital from outside the
3 United States Government;

4 (C) provided substantial development cap-
5 ital where supply was limited;

6 (D) created or sustained more than 260,000
7 jobs through investment and development activi-
8 ties;

9 (E) funded $74,000,000 in technical assist-
10 ance to strengthen the private sector; and

11 (F) are expected to recoup 137 percent of
12 the original USAID funding.

13 (19) Enterprise funds established in partnership
14 with United States partners, such as Poland, Hun-
15 gary, Albania, Russia, and other European countries,
16 have proven beneficial to the economies of such coun-
17 tries.

18 (20) Creating a similar fund in close partner-
19 ship with the people of Egypt would help sustain and 20 expand reform efforts in Egypt and empower Egyp-
21 tian entrepreneurs with the resources required to cre-
22 ate urgently needed employment opportunities.

23 (21) Establishing an enterprise fund for Egypt
24 would—

1 (A) help reinforce financial institutions
2 within the country;

3 (B) provide debt and equity investment for
4 commercially viable SMEs; and

5 (C) make the investment environment more
6 attractive to domestic and international inves-
7 tors.

4 TITLE II—TUNISIAN-AMERICAN
5 ENTERPRISE FUND

6 SEC. 201. SHORT TITLE.

7 This title may be cited as the “Tunisian-American En-
8 terprise Fund Act”.

9 SEC. 202. PURPOSE AND FINDINGS.

10 (a) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this title is to support
11 a transition to democracy in Tunisia that is successful,
12 lasting, and reflective of the aspirations of the Tunisian
13 people for greater economic opportunity and political free-
14 dom through the creation of a Tunisian-American Enter-
15 prise Fund that will support economic prosperity through
16 financial investment and technical assistance to small- and
17 medium-sized enterprises.

18 (b) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

19 (1) The United States and Tunisia have a
20 strong, long-standing bilateral relationship.

21 (2) Tunisia—

22 (A) plays an important strategic role in
23 promoting peace and security in North Africa,
24 the broader Middle East, and elsewhere; and

1 (B) has been, and continues to be, a re-
2 gional center for foreign investment and tourism.

3 (3) On December 18, 2010, after the self-immola-
4 tion of a young street vendor, Mohamed Bouazizi,
5 protests broke out in Sidi Bouzid, Tunisia.

6 (4) The protests, which quickly spread across Tu-
7 nisia, involved peaceful demonstrators calling for—

8 (A) a new government;

9 (B) free and fair elections;

10 (C) significant political reforms;

11 (D) greater economic opportunity; and

12 (E) an end to government corruption.

13 (5) The protests culminated in the ouster of
14 President Zine el-Abidine Ben Ali on January 14,
15 2011, inspiring democracy activists throughout the re-
16 gion and around the world.

17 (6) The United States has a strong interest in—

18 (A) an orderly and peaceful transition to
19 democracy in Tunisia; and

20 (B) assisting the people of Tunisia to form
21 a representative and democratic political and
22 economic system that respects universal values.

23 (7) Tunisia—

24 (A) has a well-educated and secular popu-
25 lation that displayed extraordinary determina-

1 tion in forcing President Ben Ali to abdicate;
2 and

3 (B) is well-positioned to make a successful
4 democratic transition.

5 (8) In 2010—

6 (A) the inflation rate in Tunisia was ap-
7 proximately 4.4 percent;

8 (B) Tunisia's foreign debt was equal to 46
9 percent of its $44,000,000,000 gross domestic
10 product (GDP); and

11 (C) according to The Peterson Institute of
12 Economics, Tunisia was the only country in the
13 region in which per capita incomes have gradu-
14 ally converged with the industrial democracies of 15 the Organization of Economic Cooperation and 16 Development (OECD).

17 (9) According to the World Economic Forum's
18 2010–2011 Global Competitiveness Report—

19 (A) Tunisia ranks first in competitiveness
20 among African nations; and

21 (B) Tunisia's most problematic factor for
22 doing business is lack of access to financing.

23 (10) According to the International Monetary
24 Fund (IMF), Tunisia had weathered the global eco-

1 nomie crisis well, having entered the crisis with
2 strong fundamentals.

3 (11) As a result of the dramatic events in Tuni-
4 sia during January 2011—

5 (A) Tunisia’s economy was brought to a
6 near standstill and continues to feel lingering ef-
7 fects;

8 (B) Tunisia’s debt rating was downgraded;

9 (C) tourism revenues, which are responsible
10 for an estimated 8.6 percent of direct contribu-
11 tion to Tunisia’s GDP, have dropped an esti-
12 mated 40 percent compared to the previous year;

13 (D) industrial output and investment activ-
14 ity in Tunisia are experiencing significant
15 short-term reductions; and

16 (E) the value of the Tunisian stock market
17 fell by 14 percent.

18 (12) The Fitch Rating Agency concluded, “Al-
19 though the transition to democracy could well im-
20 prove confidence in the long-term, political upheaval
21 has worsened the short-term outlook for the economy,
22 public finances and financial system”.

23 (13) Analysts estimate that the recent events in
24 Tunisia—

1 (A) will increase government deficits in Tu-
2 nisia for the next 2 years, due in part to new
3 government spending; and

4 (B) has shaken the Tunisian economy, al-
5 though Tunisia's medium-term growth outlook
6 remains relatively good.

7 (14) According to IMF's Middle East and Cen-
8 tral Asia Department—

9 (A) Tunisia's tourism and foreign direct in-
10 vestment (FDI) inflows will continue to decline,
11 which will negatively impact the rest of the Tu-
12 nisian economy;

13 (B) recent events in Tunisia have illus-
14 trated the need for more inclusive growth and
15 better governance in Tunisia; and

16 (C) it is important to recognize that the Tu-
17 nisian society has enduring strengths.

18 (15) The World Bank estimates that Tunisian
19 banks may face stress as second round effects of the 20 slowdown in businesses and investment permeate.

21 (16) Foreign direct investment, which is a cru-
22 cial component of Tunisia's economic health, created
23 24 percent of the new jobs in 2009, according to
24 Tunisia's Ministry of Planning and International
25 Cooperation.

1 (17) According to the African Development
2 Bank—

3 (A) Tunisia has pursued governance re-
4 forms in an effort to increase FDI and boost
5 local enterprises; and

6 (B) Small- and medium-sized enterprises in
7 Tunisia require support to access finance outside
8 of the traditional lines of credit because sources
9 of finance for enterprises in Tunisia are weak.

10 (18) According to the most recent official esti-
11 mates—

12 (A) the unemployment rate in Tunisia is 13
13 percent;

14 (B) the youth unemployment rate is 30.7
15 percent; and

16 (C) 51 percent of the population of Tunisia
17 is younger than 30 years of age.

18 (19) To help foster and support the fledgling pri-
19 vate sector after the fall of the Berlin Wall, Congress,
20 through enactment of the Support for East European
21 Democracy (SEED) Act of 1989 (22 U.S.C. 5401 et
22 seq.) and the FREEDOM Support Act (22 U.S.C.
23 5801 et seq.), authorized nearly $1,200,000,000 for the
24 United States Agency for International Development
25 (USAID) to establish 10 new investment funds (collec-

1 tively known as the “Enterprise Funds”) throughout
2 Central and Eastern Europe and the former Soviet
3 Union.

4 (20) The Enterprise Funds—

5 (A) channeled funding into more than 500
6 enterprises in 19 countries;

7 (B) leveraged an additional $5,000,000,000
8 in private investment capital from outside the
9 United States Government;

10 (C) provided substantial development cap-
11 ital where supply was limited;

12 (D) created or sustained more than 260,000
13 jobs through investment and development activi-
14 ties;

15 (E) funded $74,000,000 in technical assist-
16 ance to strengthen the private sector; and

17 (F) are expected to recoup 137 percent of
18 the original USAID funding.

19 (21) Enterprise Funds established in partnership
20 with United States partners, such as Poland, Hun-
21 gary, Albania, Russia, and other European countries,
22 have proven beneficial to the economies of such coun-
23 tries.

24 (22) Creating a similar fund in close partner-
25 ship with the people of Tunisia would—

1 (A) help sustain and expand reform efforts
2 in Tunisia;

3 (B) empower Tunisian entrepreneurs with
4 the resources required to create urgently needed
5 employment opportunities;

6 (C) help reinforce financial institutions
7 within the country;

8 (D) provide debt and equity investment for
9 commercially viable SMEs; and

10 (E) make the investment environment more
11 attractive to domestic and international inves-
12 tors.
