To promote long-term economic recovery and job creation in underserved communities by providing for investment in catalytic local predevelopment projects for resilient climate infrastructure innovation and to provide assistance to support State and local project development, and for other purposes.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

DECEMBER 21, 2022

Mr. CARTER of Louisiana introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, and in addition to the Committee on Financial Services, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned

A BILL

To promote long-term economic recovery and job creation in underserved communities by providing for investment in catalytic local predevelopment projects for resilient climate infrastructure innovation and to provide assistance to support State and local project development, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

2 This Act may be cited as the “Local Infrastructure
3 Funding & Technical assistance Act” or the “LIFT Act”.

4 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

5 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

6 (1) infrastructure systems in the United States
7 are in a period of significant disrepair and are in-
8 creasingly vulnerable;

9 (2) aging infrastructure, new technologies, in-
10 creasing complexity, and increasing incidents of se-11 vere weather pose new challenges to the resilience of 12 those infrastructure systems;

13 (3) the climate resilience challenge is most 14 acute in underserved communities in the United 15 States, which face a chronic underinvestment in in-16 frastructure systems and require restorative invest-
17 ments to rebuild with equity;

18 (4) in purchasing infrastructure, the Federal 19 Government typically accepts a low-cost capital bid
20 without a plan for maintaining an asset that is de-21 signed to last 30 to 40 years, such that investing in 22 local best practices and capacity for better procure-
23 ment, asset management, design, lifecycle finance,
24 and innovative data and sensor systems will partially 25 address the resilient infrastructure funding crisis in 26 the United States;

1 (5) experts have determined that predevelop-
2 ment funding at the local and project levels is the 3 critical gap in accelerating efforts of the Federal 4 Government—

5 (A) to support climate-resilient infrastruc-
6 ture systems and regional economies; and

7 (B) to create a steady stream of “shovel-
8 worthy” and well-maintained community
9 projects;

10 (6) economic analyses have determined that ex-
11 isting Federal and State predevelopment programs
12 generate as much as $16 to $20 in economic activity
13 for every $1 of public funds expended;

14 (7) studies demonstrate that the development of 15 stronger lifecycle infrastructure methods by State
16 and local project sponsors will likely help local gov-
17 ernments better leverage current and future Federal 18 taxpayer investment in public infrastructure through 19 partnerships with impact investors;

20 (8) well-managed and resilient regional, State,
21 and local infrastructure assets will lower future Fed-
22 eral taxpayer costs for recovery and restoration ef-
23 forts;

24 (9) States and regions have unique infrastruc-
25 ture systems and challenges, such as—

1 (A) hurricanes and flooding along the 2 coasts;

3 (B) wildfires and droughts in the West;

4 (C) failing dams and levees in the Midwest
5 and Mississippi regions;

6 (D) stormwater management issues in the 7 East; and

8 (E) broadband connectivity in the Inter-
9 mountain region;

10 (10) the interconnected nature of energy, water,
11 building stock, transportation, and communication
12 systems demands new investments and innova-
13 tions—

14 (A) to prepare for mitigating risks and 15 cyberattacks; and

16 (B) to carry out integrated deployment
17 strategies;

18 (11) the basic infrastructure needs of many 19 communities are changing during the COVID–19
20 era to emphasize distance learning and public 21 health, while much of the infrastructure stock of the 22 United States created in the 1950s, 1960s, and 23 1970s is aging;

24 (12) $\frac{2}{3}$ of United States infrastructure is fund-
25 ed at the State and local levels;

1 (13) the Federal Government, in the role of a 2 long-term strategic infrastructure partner, should 3 focus on making catalytic investments that—

4 (A) promote local best practices in resilient 5 infrastructure through performance-based in-
6 vestments in States and communities;

7 (B) encourage regional innovation, innova-
8 tive partnerships, and economic resilience strat-
9 egies and outcomes that fund long-term capac-
10 ity building and economic recovery; and

11 (C) provide strategic capacity building re-
12 sources, technical assistance, and flexible
13 predevelopment support for resilient infrastruc-
14 ture project development that allows States and 15 communities to accelerate the most critical
16 State and community infrastructure needs; and

17 (14) grantees and applicants of the Assistance
18 for Coal Communities program of the Economic De-19 velopment Administration have expressed financial 20 hardship with meeting all project predevelopment
21 costs needed to be eligible for that program and to 22 transition away from fossil fuel infrastructure.

23 (b) PURPOSE.—Recognizing that pressing climate in-24 frastructure needs differ by State and region, and that 25 Federal program support for project predevelopment is

1 limited or inflexible due to programmatic silos, the pur-
2 pose of this Act is to establish new, flexible funding
3 streams and expedited processes—

4 (1) to accelerate timely, resilient infrastructure
5 deployment, specifically in underserved communities;

6 (2) to reduce taxpayer costs in response to dis-
7 asters involving infrastructure; and

8 (3) to preserve existing jobs and to create new 9 jobs.
