Mr. REID. Reserving the right to object, I have waited around this afternoon, this evening, to have an opportunity to direct a few comments to the Senator from Alaska. I say to my friend from Alaska, I remember about a year ago at this time the Senator from Alaska gave me as a token of recognition a Tasmanian devil tie.

Now, coming from Senator STEVENS, who has such a record in the Senate, that meant a lot to me. In celebration of our ending the session today, I wore this tie. I say this because in all sincerity it meant a lot to me when Senator STEVENS gave me this tie. You have been a role model for me since I came to Washington almost 20 years ago. You have a record that is unsurpassed for doing good things for your State as well as being an effective leader. I have served with the Senator from Alaska my entire time in the Senate on the Appropriations Committee, and I have admired the work done. I respected the tenacity shown, often for the people of the State of Alaska and other causes for which he believes.

I wish to publicly state how appreciative I am of this token, this honor the Senator gave me.

Mr. STEVENS. I am overwhelmed by that statement and my good friend. I noticed the Tasmanian devil tie. I enjoy those ties, and I hope the Senator enjoys his. I certainly enjoy our association.

I served as whip for 8 years. I know the distinguished Senator from Nevada has the same job I had. I was the minority whip for a while and the majority whip for a while; he has, too, served in the capacity. We have a great deal in common, and I am delighted to have him as a friend.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection to the previous request made by the Senator from Alaska?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, on behalf of the leader, I now ask for its second reading, and I object to that.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The objection is heard.

The bill will be read the second time on the next legislative day.

THANKING MARSHALL DOVE

Mr. STEVENS. I think we are getting down to the end. Today is not only the last day of the 106th Congress, but it is also the last day of Marshall Dove, who served in the Senate on the Republican Cloakroom staff.

She has been here, now, for close to 3 years and will now change careers. I have asked for this opportunity to wish her the best in all the new challenges she may face. We thank her for her dedication and service in the Senate.

SEC. 5. EFFECTIVE DATE.

This Act and the amendments made by this Act shall take effect 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act.

Ms. COLLINS. Mr. President, I am pleased that the Senate will today give final approval to legislation I introduced to curb the availability of false identification via the Internet.

Let me thank my many colleagues in both the House and Senate for their hard work in moving this measure quickly through the legislative process. In particular, I appreciate the support and assistance of Chairman HENRY HYDE of the House Judiciary Committee, as well as the work of Congressman HOWARD COBLE, Congressman HOWARD BERMAN, Congressman JOHN CONYERS, and Congressman BILL MCCOLLUM. In addition to their efforts, I want to praise the strong support of Congressman MARK GREEN, who introduced a similar bill in the House. Enactment of this bill would not have been possible without the consistent support of the chairman of the Judiciary Committee, Senator HATCH, as well as the assistance of Senators KYL, LEAHY, FEINSTEIN, and DURBIN.

The bill before the Senate today will make important improvements in our laws against the distribution and use of false identification. As I found during a lengthy investigation of the availability of false identification on the Internet, our current laws have done little to stop a growing Internet market in every imaginable type of false identification. Whether via e-mail or from a Web site with a name such as thefakeidshop.com, everything from birth certificates, to Social Security cards, to driver's licenses, are being sold or traded through the ease of cyberspace.

Testimony before the Subcommittee on Investigations demonstrated that the availability of false identification documents from the Internet is a growing problem. Special Agent David Myers, Identification Fraud Coordinator of the State of Florida's Division of Alcoholic Beverages and Tobacco, testified that two years ago only one percent of false identification documents came from the Internet. Last year, he testified, a little less than five percent came from the Internet. Now he estimates that about 30 percent of the false identification documents he seizes comes from the Internet. He predicts that by next year his unit will find at least 60 to 70 percent of the false identification documents they seize will come from the Internet.

S. 2924 will put a stop to this widespread distribution of false identification, which can be used to commit identity theft, to facilitate serious financial crimes, and to facilitate the underage purchase of alcohol and tobacco. The new law will make clear that it is a crime to transfer false identification documents by electronic
