

organizing this Special Order, and for his extraordinary leadership.

Madam Speaker, I join him in rising today in support of Washington State's law enforcement community.

Each and every day, law enforcement officers in every corner of the district I have the honor of representing—and the communities all around our State and all around our country—go to work with one goal in mind: to serve and to protect. That includes officers like Pierce County Sheriff Deputy Dom Calata, who tragically gave his life serving his community last month.

Deputy Calata admirably served his country and our community. I had the honor of attending his celebration of life in Tacoma. It was clear from the hundreds of emergency vehicles and the thousands of Washingtonians who showed up, first, that he was just a really good person; second, that our communities value the work of our law enforcement officers.

Hearing the stories about how he supported other people, how he encouraged others, how he brought smiles to people's faces, how he had just a zeal for service, it was a reminder of the best of us.

Our communities enjoy safety and security because of the commitment of our law enforcement officers and our first responders. That is a commitment that we should return as we continue to support and ensure the safety of those who have dedicated their lives to serve and protect.

The Federal Government has to have their backs. That certainly means what we are doing here, offering our words of support. It means our prayers. It means our gratitude. But it has to mean more than that.

Having their backs means making sure they have the tools and the training that they need to keep us safe and to strengthen the bonds of trust with the communities in which they serve.

Having their backs means giving communities the resources they need to hire and train new officers. It means that when we had a pandemic that led to the cratering of local government revenues, Congress passed the American Rescue Plan because none of us wanted to see cities, counties, and Tribes issue a bunch of pink slips to law enforcement officers.

Having their backs means funding for the COPS Hiring Program and funding for effective, accountable community policing and programs that build trust, save lives, and reduce crime.

Having their backs means dealing with some of the underlying problems that make their lives more difficult. I can't tell you how many law enforcement officers I have spoken to in recent years who have bemoaned the fact that the largest provider of mental health services in nearly every county I represent is the county jail.

If we can address the challenges posed by mental health, posed by addiction, we can help better people's lives, but we can also help our law enforcement officers by getting at some of the root causes of crime in our communities.

Our Nation asks a lot of our first responders. In return, we have to keep working to ensure Congress and the Federal Government do all they can to help these men and women do their jobs to ensure the safety of all Americans and ensure their safety while they are doing those jobs.

Former President Obama wrote a letter to the law enforcement community following some tragic events nearly 6 years ago. In it, he spoke of the importance of being united and not divided. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman for organizing this Special Order because you saw Democrats and Republicans united tonight in the importance of celebrating and thanking our law enforcement officers.

President Obama also spoke of acknowledging that any violence against law enforcement officers is an unjustified attack on all of us as a community. Perhaps, most importantly, he said thank you. He said, "Every day, you confront danger so it does not find our families, carry burdens so they do not fall to us, and courageously meet test after test to keep us safe. . . . We recognize it; we respect it; we appreciate it; and we depend on you."

That is why tonight's discussion matters, and it is why the work of every person in law enforcement matters. It is why I am grateful to my friend, Mr. NEWHOUSE, for organizing tonight's discussion.

Mr. NEWHOUSE. Madam Speaker, I thank Mr. KILMER for his great words and for putting some specifics around what we can do to help the men and women in blue and green and brown keep our communities safe.

Madam Speaker, the cost, as you know, of keeping our communities safe, keeping us safe, is great. The people who pay the price of that cost are very dedicated, special people. It truly is a solemn honor for all of us to be able to pay tribute to, and to thank, the men and women who work every day to do just that, keep us safe.

As Mr. KILMER just said, we should be committed to doing all we can to provide all they need for them to be able to do their jobs.

Madam Speaker, I thank all of my colleagues from the State of Washington, and I thank the men and women who do their jobs without thinking twice, who are dedicated to protecting us, to keeping our families and communities safe. We owe them a great deal.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.
