AMENDMENT NO. 35 OFFERED BY MR. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 35 printed in part B of House Report 118–30.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Chair, I rise in support of the amendment and ask for its immediate consideration.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

SEC. 20115. OFFSHORE WIND ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW PROCESS STUDY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this section, the Comptroller General shall conduct a study to assess the sufficiency of the environmental review processes for offshore wind projects in place as of the date of the enactment of this section of the National Marine Fisheries Service, the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management, and any other relevant Federal agency.

(b) CONTENTS.—The study required under subsection (a) shall include consideration of the following:

(1) The impacts of offshore wind projects on—

(A) whales, finfish, and other marine mammals;

(B) benthic resources;

(C) commercial and recreational fishing;

(D) air quality;

(E) cultural, historical, and archaeological resources;

(F) invertebrates;

(G) essential fish habitat;

(H) military use and navigation and vessel traffic;

(I) recreation and tourism; and

(J) the sustainability of shoreline beaches and inlets.

(2) The impacts of hurricanes and other severe weather on offshore wind projects.

(3) How the agencies described in subsection (a) determine which stakeholders are consulted and if a timely, comprehensive comment period is provided for local representatives and other interested parties.

(4) The estimated cost and who pays for offshore wind projects.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 260, the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SMITH) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New Jersey.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Chair, like canaries in coal mines, the recent spate of tragic whale and dolphin deaths and a well-founded suspicion that geophysical surveys, including the use of sonar may be a contributing cause, has brought new light and increased scrutiny to the fast-tracking of approximately 3,400 offshore wind turbines covering 2.4 million acres by 2030, more after that by 2040—all embedded into the ocean floor by massive pile drivers—in the North Atlantic Planning Area that includes New Jersey's coast.

The offshore wind industrialization approval process has left unaddressed and unanswered numerous serious questions concerning the potentially harmful environmental impact on whales, marine life, and the ecosystems that currently allow all sea creatures great and small to thrive.

Cindy Zipf, executive director of Clean Ocean Action, pointed out in testimony at a field hearing chaired by my good friend and colleague, JEFF VAN DREW, that the National Marine Fisheries Service has said, “Offshore wind is a new use of our marine waters, requiring substantial scientific and regulatory review.”

So she asks: So, where is the substantial review?

My amendment, Mr. Chair, requires the U.S. Government Accountability Office, or GAO, to investigate the sufficiency of the environmental review process for offshore wind projects of the Marine Fisheries Service, the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management, and any other relevant Federal agency.

□ 1000

Among other concerns, GAO would be required to investigate and report to Congress on the impacts of offshore wind projects on whales, finfish, and marine mammals; commercial and recreational fishing; recreation and tourism; invertebrates; essential fish habitat; benthic resources; cultural, historical, and archeological resources; sustainability of shoreline beaches and inlets; military use and navigation/vessel traffic; and the impacts of hurricanes and other severe weather on offshore wind projects.

The GAO would also be tasked to reveal how the agencies determine which stakeholders are consulted, whether a timely and comprehensive comment period is provided for local representatives and interest parties, and the estimated costs and who pays for the offshore wind projects.

Mr. Chair, if and when the wind turbines go online, vessel navigation—including U.S. Navy ships, merchant and cargo ships, fishing boats, and search and rescue operations by the Coast Guard—may be significantly hampered due to radar interference.

The National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine released a report in 2022—a year ago—titled “Wind Turbine Generator Impacts to Marine Vessel Radar” and found that wind turbine generators “obfuscate the marine vessel radar for both magnetron-based and solid-state radar . . . and can cause significant interference and shadowing that suppress the detection of small contacts.”

The study also found that wind turbine mitigation techniques for marine vessel radar have not—I repeat, have not—been substantially investigated, implemented, matured, or deployed.

That study was from 1 year ago.

The vulnerability of massive structures the size of the Chrysler Building to hurricanes, nor'easters, and superstorms has not been adequately investigated and vetted.

Yet one study in 2012 found that there is very substantial risk that Category 3 and higher hurricanes can destroy one-half or more of the turbines at some locations.

Remember, Mr. Chairman, these are about 1,000 feet tall. They could topple like dominoes.

Any surface appeal argument made by the industry or by the government comparing it to the survivability of ocean wind turbines on the East Coast of the United States to the U.K. or Norway fails because Europe doesn't get hurricanes. They get remnants of our hurricanes. They get bad weather, but they don't get hurricanes.

In like manner, the devastating impact on commercial and recreational fishing has been largely ignored. One expert, Meghan Lapp, gave tremendous testimony at Mr. VAN DREW's hearing. She said: “We are facing the annihilation of our industry at the hands of the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management.”

New Jersey's amazing shore tourism industry is also being put at grave risk.

Mr. Chairman, with so much at stake and out of an abundance of caution and concern, support my amendment to require a comprehensive and independent review by the GAO. It is absolutely warranted.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. GRIJALVA. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

The Acting CHAIR (Mr. WEBER of Texas). The gentleman from Arizona is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. GRIJALVA. Mr. Chairman, this amendment requires the Government Accountability Office to study the sufficiency of the current environmental review process for offshore wind projects.

I think we can all agree that offshore energy projects, including offshore wind projects, need to be studied thoroughly before being built, and the National Environmental Policy Act helps us do that review. However, H.R. 1, the polluters over people act, guts the National Environmental Policy Act.

If I lived in a coastal community, I would be pretty nervous about how H.R. 1 makes it harder for stakeholders to weigh in on projects that might affect my community. This amendment scrutinizes the environmental review process for renewable energy development, but the underlying bill guts the review process for all offshore development.

As we have seen in the Gulf, the infrastructure needed for oil and gas drilling has decimated wetlands, and oil spills like the BP disaster close beaches and kill wildlife.

Scientists have found that seismic surveys for offshore oil exploration are far more damaging to marine mammals than surveys for offshore wind.

A couple-page GAO study on whether environmental reviews of offshore wind are strong enough doesn't make up for the cuts to those reviews in H.R. 1. A better path forward is to reject the polluters over people act and, instead, make sure Federal agencies have the tools, capacity, and resources they need to complete reviews in a timely fashion.

Mr. Chairman, I urge my colleagues to reject this amendment, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SMITH).

The question was taken; and the Acting Chair announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. GRIJALVA. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to clause 6 of rule XVIII, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from New Jersey will be postponed.

AMENDMENT NO. 36 OFFERED BY MR. VAN DREW

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 36 printed in part B of House Report 118-30.

Mr. VAN DREW. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

After section 20114, add the following:

SEC. 20115. GAO REPORT ON WIND ENERGY IMPACTS.

The Comptroller General of the United States shall publish a report on all potential adverse effects of wind energy development in the North Atlantic Planning Area (as described in the 2017-2022 Outer Continental Shelf Oil and Gas Leasing Proposed Final Program (November 2016)), including associated infrastructure and vessel traffic, on—

(1) maritime safety, including the operation of radar systems;

(2) economic impacts related to commercial fishing activities; and

(3) marine environment and ecology, including species listed as endangered or threatened under the Endangered Species Act of 1973 (16 U.S.C. 1531 et seq.) or designated as depleted under the Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972 (16 U.S.C. 1361 et seq.) in the North Atlantic Planning Area.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 260, the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. VAN DREW) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New Jersey.

Mr. VAN DREW. Mr. Chairman, again, I thank the chairman for his help and his support. I thank the Congressman, Dr. ANDY HARRIS, for traveling the great distance to New Jersey to be at the hearing that we had in the field. I thank Congressman CHRIS SMITH for his support and traveling, as well, and I thank Congressman SCOTT PERRY. They were all there.

Mr. Chairman, I rise today in support of my amendment and to clear up the misconceptions that continue to float around amongst the mainstream media, this administration, and pro-wind advocacy groups, and highlight what is nothing less than an existential threat to our coastlines and the millions of people and communities who rely upon them.

Proponents of offshore wind claim that it is a necessary step in order to transition the United States to clean energy. Yet, oddly enough, BOEM's own environmental impact statement admits that offshore wind will have no impact of any substance on combating climate change and will, in fact, increase greenhouse gas emissions.

Proponents say that it will stimulate economic activity and create thousands of U.S. jobs. Yet, offshore wind turbines are being constructed in Europe and China and not in the United States, and offshore wind companies are attempting to circumvent the Jones Act so they can use cheaper foreign vessels and cheaper crews.

Plus, BOEM has admitted that commercial fisheries will have to—this is important—completely abandon their fishing grounds as a result of offshore wind. Destroying one job to create another is not job creation.

Let's talk about the offshore wind companies themselves.

Orsted, which is building offshore wind farms off of New Jersey's coast, is based in Denmark and used to go by the name Danish Oil and Natural Gas.

Equinor, which is building offshore wind farms off of New York, is based in Norway and is a self-described petroleum refining company.

British Petroleum, BP, which is building offshore wind farms off of New York and Massachusetts, is based in England.

Avangrid, which is building offshore wind farms off Connecticut, has its parent company based in Spain.

These are foreign-owned companies that have bought millions—not thousands, I am not exaggerating here—millions of acres of our ocean, our American ocean, in the Atlantic and intend to expand into the Gulf, Pacific Ocean, and our Great Lakes, as well.

Every great body of water this country is blessed with will now be at the mercy of foreign-owned energy companies, thanks to the Biden administration.

More than 50 percent of our energy, if this plan were to go to fruition, would come from foreign countries. We would rely upon them, and they would not be under our control. That is shameful.

They say that the surveying and construction of these offshore wind farms are not resulting in marine mammal deaths. Well, Mr. Chairman, I have lived there, and I see it.

That begs the question: Why is BOEM offering incidental take authorizations to these companies? For those who don't know what that means, for those who don't understand it, it is the accidental harming or killing of marine species. It is not just whales. It is dolphins and others.

Wind companies need these ITAs because these industrial wind grids are leased right on top of the foraging grounds and the migration routes for the critically endangered North Atlantic right whale. NOAA's own scientists have sounded the alarms on how these projects will affect right whales not just now but for many decades to come.

I beg to differ. I beg to differ with the proponents who claim that offshore wind will boost our ecotourism along the coast. Would you choose to go to a shore that consisted of thousands of industrialized wind turbines that rise to nearly 1,000 feet tall?

Realize, Mr. Chairman, there is no casino in Atlantic City that is this tall.

Orsted themselves conducted a survey in my home county, Cape May, which is a tourist county, on whether tourists would return after these wind grids are built. Fifteen percent said they wouldn't even think about returning, and Orsted considered this a good thing. Perhaps they forgot to look into what exactly a 15 percent reduction in tourism would do. It would be a loss of $1 billion.

Mr. Chairman, I could talk about defense and standing up for my constituents. Please vote for this bill.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. GRIJALVA. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Arizona is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. GRIJALVA. Mr. Chairman, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from New York (Mr. NADLER), who is our leader in the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. NADLER. Mr. Chairman, I thank Ranking Member GRIJALVA for yielding and for his leadership in opposition to the polluters over people act.

I must say that the concern of the gentleman from New Jersey—we just heard about ocean animals—is touching, considering the effect that climate change will have on all wildlife and all of us, for that matter.

Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to this bad faith amendment aimed at slowing our Nation's transition to the affordable clean energy economy we need to address the climate crisis and create good-paying American jobs. With nearly 164,000 New Yorkers already working in the clean energy industry, the State is expected to create more than 10,000 additional jobs through its commitment to developing 9,000 megawatts of offshore wind energy in the coming years.

Mr. Chairman, if you are worried about the potential adverse effects of wind energy development, you will be pleased to know that the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management is already required to perform substantial environmental reviews. The Bureau of Ocean Energy Management's Renewable Energy Program subject matter experts are best equipped to analyze potential environmental and industry impacts of offshore wind.

Considering this, it is strange that my colleague from New Jersey is supporting an appropriations request to defund the Renewable Energy Program.

It is also strange that my colleagues on the other side of the aisle claim to worry about the industry's impact on whales when most of them oppose the North Atlantic right whale vessel strike reduction rule. The data shows that most whale killings are attributed to vessel strikes.

Again, Mr. Chairman, this is a bad faith attack on offshore wind, and I urge my colleagues to oppose it.

Mr. GRIJALVA. Mr. Chairman, as we finish the amendment process under the jurisdiction of the Natural Resources Committee, let me just close by saying that the polluters over people act, H.R. 1, has one distinct and sole purpose, and that is to dismantle, weaken, and eliminate basic laws and legal protections that have been in place for over 50 years around important issues of public health and environment.

What we have heard today is rationale regarding permitting reform, rationale regarding energy independence and dominance, but the sole purpose of these concepts is dog whistles. They are dog whistles for climate denial and no action. They are dog whistles for having corporate dominance, not public interest, in charge of the most vital natural resource, and that is our people.

□ 1015

H.R. 1, the polluters over people act, is a basic assault on public health, public interest, and it prevents us from dealing with the reality of climate change and the need to take action now.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. VAN DREW).

The question was taken; and the Acting Chair announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. GRIJALVA. Mr. Chair, I demand a recorded vote.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to clause 6 of rule XVIII, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from New Jersey will be postponed.

AMENDMENT NO. 37 OFFERED BY MR. GRAVES OF LOUISIANA

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 37 printed in part B of House Report 118-30.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Mr. Chair, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Add at the end the following:

SEC. 30003. FEDERAL GENERAL PERMITS.

Section 402(a) of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1342(a)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(6)(A) The Administrator is authorized to issue general permits under this section for discharges of similar types from similar sources.

“(B) The Administrator may require submission of a notice of intent to be covered under a general permit issued under this section, including additional information that the Administrator determines necessary.

“(C) If a general permit issued under this section will expire and the Administrator decides not to issue a new general permit for discharges similar to those covered by the expiring general permit, the Administrator shall publish in the Federal Register a notice of such decision at least two years prior to the expiration of the general permit.

“(D) If a general permit issued under this section expires and the Administrator has not published a notice in accordance with subparagraph (C), until such time as the Administrator issues a new general permit for discharges similar to those covered by the expired general permit, the Administrator shall—

“(i) continue to apply the terms, conditions, and requirements of the expired general permit to any discharge that was covered by the expired general permit; and

“(ii) apply such terms, conditions, and requirements to any discharge that would have been covered by the expired general permit (in accordance with any relevant requirements for such coverage) if the discharge had occurred before such expiration.”.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 260, the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. GRAVES) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Louisiana.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Mr. Chairman, this amendment has a very simple objective. All it is designed to do is provide certainty.

They have discharge permits that are granted often to ports, to vessels large and small and different operators that are required to discharge, making sure that what they are discharging is properly evaluated to ensure that it doesn't cause adverse impact to the environment.

These permits are normally granted for a 5-year period of time, but what we found is that upon expiration of the permits, we have seen gaps of months and months and months, creating uncertainty for those operators.

What this amendment does is it very simply says that if a permit expires, you just get a continuance, you get a continuance of the existing permit conditions until the agency works to re-certify or to re-up the permit.

The second thing that it does is it says that if you have a continuing operation, and if there are some changes that the agency wants in regard to the operations of the permit, then that is fine, but you have to begin that process 2 years ahead of time, giving the operators ample time to adjust or adapt to the new conditions.

Mr. Chairman, I urge adoption of the amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GRIJALVA. Mr. Chairman, I claim the time in opposition to the amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Arizona is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. GRIJALVA. Mr. Chair, I oppose this amendment. While I recognize the amendment's underlying goal is to make it easier to obtain a Clean Water Act permit, not all permits have the same potential impacts on water quality.

We need to take care to distinguish between those permits that can be expedited because of their minimal impact on the environment and those that need additional attention and scrutiny.

The Clean Water Act already authorizes the use of general permits to allow a more expedited process for activities in the wetlands that will cause only minimal adverse environmental effects when performed separately and will have only minimal cumulative adverse effects on the environment.

Current EPA regulations also allow the issuance of general permits for point source discharges that involve the same or substantially similar types of operations, such as construction-related activities, urban stormwater, and the western and central Gulf of Mexico offshore oil and gas activities.

The amendment attempts to codify existing EPA regulations on general use permits for point source discharges without the safeguard that the activities have only a minimal impact on the environment. The amendment does not prescribe how these new requirements will interact with existing general permit authority.

Conflicting standards may have the opposite effect that the Representative intends. It may restrict EPA's authority to determine which activities are eligible to use the more streamlined process of obtaining general permit coverage and those activities more appropriately reviewed under a more rigorous individual permit authority. Boggling down the EPA with layers of rules will not make obtaining a permit easier.

The amendment also expands who can apply an expired general use permit onto new projects. Under current law, current permittees who file a notice of intent to be covered under a general use permit scheduled for reissuance remain covered by the previous permit, even if there should be a lapse between expiration and reissuance.

The amendment requires the new applicant also be allowed to use an expired permit regardless of whether or not the permit is likely to be renewed. Allowing automatic expansion of permits that have not been renewed for legitimate concerns will not improve water quality.

I stand ready to work with Representative GRAVES or any other colleague who seeks to achieve sensible permitting reform while continuing to uphold our Nation's water quality. However, this amendment does not uphold our Nation's water quality, and that is why I will oppose it.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Mr. Chairman, thankfully, the amendment described by the ranking member is not the amendment that we are offering today.

Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. CARL), a member of the Natural Resources Committee.

Mr. CARL. Mr. Chairman, I appreciate our colleagues on the other side of the aisle pointing out all these different rules and regulations that we have to go through for a vessel to simply come in and out.

This amendment is very simple. It says if you have a permit today and it expires today, that permit is good until the new permit is issued. It has nothing to do with further checking of water quality because that is already set up in the first permit. The layers of government bureaucracy are already put in place.

All this amendment very simply says is you can continue running your business until we have time to do our job. It is hard to run a business based on the Federal Government's time clock because the government gets in no hurry. The slower they get, the more important they feel. The business community cannot handle this. We have got to give the business community some help, and this is help.

Again, all this is simply saying is you carry on the way that you have agreed to carry on for the last 5 years, and we will get to you as quick as we can. I think it is a great amendment, and I am here to support it.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume. Let me again clarify. The ranking member's comments, while clearly concerning, do not apply to this amendment.

Mr. Chairman, let me read from the amendment. "The Administrator is authorized," it doesn't say, "they shall." It says, "is authorized." The second section says, "The Administrator may require."

These are discretionary terms. There is nothing in here that is mandatory. It creates the ability of the Administrator to offer a general permit.

Most importantly, let's keep in mind, this doesn't waive any environmental laws or anything along those lines. What this does is, it simply says that if a permit has been issued and the agency is not fast enough in re-upping the permit, then what happens is that you continue operating under the previously approved permit.

Now, if the agency wants to reject a permit, if they want to take an action, all of that discretion is still retained by the Administrator.

Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. SCALISE), the distinguished majority leader and the sponsor of this legislation.

Mr. SCALISE. Mr. Chairman, I thank my friend from Louisiana (Mr. GRAVES) for yielding, for his leadership on introducing this amendment, which I support, and especially introducing this bill.

Mr. Chairman, we all ought to be focused on helping low-income families who are struggling. Families all across America are struggling under the weight of high inflation, all the spending that has come out of Washington under President Biden, but especially led and driven by this anti-American energy policy that we have seen from President Biden that has dramatically increased costs on American families.

How are people getting hit by all of President Biden's anti-American energy policies?

You can see it right here. Gas prices, every time you go to the pump, people are paying 50 percent more. That takes money out of families' paychecks every single week when they go to fill up their vehicle.

You look at the utility bills people are paying. They are paying 40 percent more, 25 percent more on their utility bills in some areas of the country, making it harder for them to heat their homes during a cold winter. As we approach summer, people want to turn on their air conditioner. They are going to be paying a lot more. That takes money out of their pocket.

Oh, by the way, when you look at what President Biden passed last year, he passed a $6 billion tax increase on natural gas, which is one of the drivers of higher electricity bills.

The good news is, Mr. Chairman, Republicans have answered the pleas that so many families have been raising by bringing H.R. 1, the Lower Energy Costs Act, to the floor.

This is a bill focused on helping those families who have been struggling, who have been saying for the last 2 years: Is anybody in Washington looking out for the families who are living paycheck to paycheck, who cannot make ends meet, who are sick and tired of runaway inflation and higher costs?

The answer is yes. House Republicans are here with an answer to this problem.

I think it is important to understand how we got here. It wasn't by accident. President Biden as a candidate said he was going to go and try to destroy the energy industry, stop drilling in America.

Day one, the day President Biden took office, he started taking immediate action to attack American energy. He canceled the Keystone pipeline. He started putting his bureaucrats in place to put red tape in the way of American production of oil and natural gas.

Now, you may think that is because the President is against pipelines and the President is against oil and natural gas. He is not. In fact, while President Biden was canceling the Keystone pipeline from Canada to the United States, he green-lighted a pipeline from Russia to Germany. He bailed out Putin while he was sticking it to families in America, and they paid a higher price for it here at home.

Then, at the same time, he was making it harder to produce energy in America: Getting agencies to stop issuing permits and canceling lease sales. It wasn't because he was against oil and gas. No.

During the time that he was making it harder to get oil and gas in America, he was calling Vladimir Putin—again there is that name—calling Russia, asking them to produce more oil for America. Putin said no.

Then he got on Air Force One and begged the Saudis to produce more oil. The Saudis said no, because the Saudis want a high price for gasoline.

Who pays for that? Hardworking families.

All these climate justice warriors who fly all around the world on their private jets, they take jet fuel. The last time I checked, there are no solar panels on the wings of Air Force One.

Again, the President is not against oil. He is just against American oil.

Why don't we ask this question? If the President is not against oil, he is just against American oil, where are we getting our energy from?

Where are we getting our critical minerals from?

They talk about electric vehicles as if everybody is driving electric cars. One day, maybe that is where the world goes. Technology still needs to advance a lot to get to that point. Today, maybe 5–10 percent of the cars on the road are electric.

If you are going to advance it, like, California says they are going to ban fossil fuel cars in California. Of course, ironically, days after the Governor said he was going to ban fossil fuel cars, he told people they cannot plug their electric car into the socket because they are about to have power outages because the grid can't handle it.

Again, where does the energy come from?

You don't plug that electric car into a tree. You have got to actually use baseload energy.

Where does the battery come from, by the way, that you are charging?

We know right now the batteries are coming from China.

President Biden has made it very clear, he wants to make it harder to produce in America, but he is not against the production. He is going to countries like Russia, China, and Venezuela.

Look at the list. Are these the people we want to become dependent on?

The question is no longer do we or do we not get oil. It is where we get it from.

Now, what Republicans have said and what H.R. 1 gets us back to is why don't we get our energy from America?

It is a pretty straightforward answer.

President Biden said no to America. But, again, he was begging Russia, Saudi Arabia, and Venezuela. He is trying to ease sanctions on Venezuela right now to get more of their oil.

If it is all about carbon emissions and saving the planet, why don't we use the facts?

Let's talk science for a moment.

Where is the cleanest place to make things in the world?

Who has the highest standards?

I know some on the left wake up every day, and they just want to trash America. We have the best standards in the world. If you want to make oil anywhere in the world—and, again, they are not against oil; they just don't want it made in America.

However, look at the countries they are begging to make more oil, countries that emit more carbon to make the same oil. Then they put that oil on a tanker and send it to the United States. Think of the lunacy of that policy.

We would love to make it here and put it in a pipeline, which is the safest way to transport it. They don't even want you to be able to build the pipelines. We eased that in the bill so we can actually build real infrastructure in America.

If you are worried about carbon emissions, there is good news for you: the Lower Energy Costs Act solves that problem because by making it in America, you make it in the best place in the world.

We also address critical minerals.

You want to make computer chips? You want to make electric car batteries?

They are going to be made somewhere in the world.

Where are they going to be made?

Right now, under President Biden's policies, it is almost impossible to get permits to mine for those minerals in America.

They are getting made. The problem is, they are getting made in countries like China. Go look at the environmental standards of China. I know the President's Energy Secretary said, just a few days ago, that we can learn something from China on clean energy.

I am not sure if she has been traveling around America. I know she is traveling around to other countries.

How could you possibly say we could learn from China?

No one does it cleaner than America. Many would argue no one does it dirtier than China.

□ 1030

Why would you want to be making our country more dependent on China? In our bill, we actually say we can make those things in America again. We have them here.

Look at the plaque right above the Speaker's rostrum. "Let us develop the resources of our land. . . ."

Well, Mr. Speaker, we actually do fulfill that promise in this bill by letting us develop the resources in our land, not in China.

They can go make stuff in China. We shouldn't be addicted to those products because President Biden shut off our ability to make things in America.

These policies make nothing but common sense. The good thing about it is you don't just get the advantages of lower carbon emissions globally by passing this bill.

For families across America who are sick and tired of the lunacy and hypocrisy of the left's policies, it lowers costs for families.

There is only one free market country in the world that has abundant resources. That is America. If you look at the other countries that we have become dependent on, they want a higher price. They are part of cartels like OPEC.

We can make OPEC irrelevant if we make more energy in America. We have got the resources.

You can go to Port Fourchon in south Louisiana, my district, and see areas where we can produce hundreds of thousands of barrels a day that are being closed off, where it is almost impossible for them to get permits. They can't even move pipelines.

Go to Pennsylvania where they can produce oil and natural gas, but they can't even get it to their neighbors in New York and the New England States because they are abusing Federal laws in all of these different agencies to stop the building of the infrastructure for pipelines.

Their argument is that they don't want oil and natural gas. Well, they are getting the oil and natural gas. They are just getting it from other countries, from tankers coming into the New England States instead of pipelines made in America.

None of this makes any sense. There is an answer. The answer is let's stand up for those families who are sick and tired of paying more when they know we have the ability here to do it ourselves. We can become energy independent again.

It is a national security issue, but it is a bread and butter, kitchen table issue for those families who are struggling.

Stop being dependent on foreign countries like President Biden has made us. Let's get back to the sound principles that have been proven to work, again, in the cleanest place to make things in the world—the United States of America.

Let's stand up for those families who are sick and tired of paying too much. Let's actually get good policy put into law that fights for those families who have been left behind for far too long.

Let's pass the Lower Energy Costs Act. Let's get this country back on track, and let's lower prices for those families who are struggling.

Mr. Chair, I urge passage of this amendment.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. GRAVES).

The amendment was agreed to.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE ACTING CHAIR

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to clause 6 of rule XVIII, proceedings will now resume on those amendments printed in part B of House Report 118–30 on which further proceedings were postponed, in the following order:

Amendment No. 20 by Mr. WESTERMAN of Arkansas.

Amendment No. 25 by Ms. LEGER FERNANDEZ of New Mexico.

Amendment No. 26 by Mr. LEVIN of California.

Amendment No. 31 by Mr. OGLES of Tennessee.

Amendment No. 34 by Mr. PERRY of Pennsylvania.

Amendment No. 35 by Mr. SMITH of New Jersey.

Amendment No. 36 by Mr. VAN DREW of New Jersey.

The Chair will reduce to 2 minutes the minimum time for any electronic vote after the first vote in this series.

So the amendment was agreed to.
The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

The Acting CHAIR (Ms. MALLIOTAKIS). There being no further amendments under the rule, the Committee rises.

Accordingly, the Committee rose; and the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. WEBER of Texas) having assumed the chair, Ms. MALLIOTAKIS, Acting Chair of the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union, reported that that Committee, having had under consideration the bill (H.R. 1) to lower energy costs by increasing American energy production, exports, infrastructure, and critical minerals processing, by promoting transparency, accountability, permitting, and production of American resources, and by improving water quality certification and energy projects, and for other purposes, and, pursuant to House Resolution 260, she reported the bill, as amended by that resolution, back to the House with sundry further amendments adopted in the Committee of the Whole.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the rule, the previous question is ordered.

Is a separate vote demanded on any further amendment reported from the Committee of the Whole? If not, the Chair will put them en gros.

The question is on the amendments.

The amendments were agreed to.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the engrossment and third reading of the bill.

The bill was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, and was read the third time.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Ms. PORTER. Mr. Speaker, I have a motion to recommit at the desk.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will report the motion to recommit.

The Clerk read as follows:

Ms. Porter of California moves to recommit the bill H.R. 1 to the Committee on Natural Resources.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 2(b) of rule XIX, the previous question is ordered on the motion to recommit.

The question is on the motion to recommit.
The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Ms. PORTER. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 9 of rule XX, this 5-minute vote on the motion to recommit will be followed by a 5-minute vote on:

Passage of the bill, if ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 207, nays 222, not voting 6, as follows:
