□ 1900

Mr. BURCHETT, Ms. VAN DUYNE, and Mrs. MILLER of West Virginia changed their vote from “yea” to “nay.”

So (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

ADVANCED WEATHER MODEL
COMPUTING DEVELOPMENT ACT

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, the unfinished business is the vote on the motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 1715) to direct the Department of Energy and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration to conduct collaborative research in order to advance numerical weather and climate prediction in the United States, and for other purposes, on which the yeas and nays were ordered.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. MILLER) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill.

This is a 5-minute vote.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 356, nays 50, not voting 28, as follows:

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore (during the vote). There are 2 minutes remaining.

□ 1908

So (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Ms. PORTER. Madam Speaker, I was unable to be present to cast votes today. Had I been present, I would have voted "yea" on Rollcall 203 and "yea" on Rollcall 204.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mr. SCHIFF. Madam Speaker, I was not able to vote in today's series due to a delayed flight. Had I been present, I would have voted "yea" on rollcall No. 203 and "yea" on rollcall No. 204.

THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, the unfinished business is the question on agreeing to the Speaker's approval of the Journal, which the Chair will put de novo.

The question is on the Speaker's approval of the Journal.

Pursuant to clause 1, rule I, the Journal stands approved.

MOMENT OF SILENCE RECOGNIZING THE VICTIMS WHO LOST THEIR LIVES DURING THE ALLEN, TEXAS, SHOOTING

(Mr. SELF asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. SELF. Mr. Speaker, I rise to recognize the victims who lost their lives during the Allen, Texas, shooting on Saturday: Christian LaCour; Aishwarya Thatikonda; Elio Cumana-Rivas; Daniela and Sofia Mendoza; and Kyu, Cindy, and James Cho.

I also commend first responders for their swift actions that undoubtedly saved countless lives.

Finally, we acknowledge the friends and families whose hearts are breaking this evening. The flag atop this building flies at Halfstaff tonight as a symbol of a nation that grieves with you.

Not far from here, in Arlington National Cemetery, is a quote inscribed on the memorial for Robert Kennedy: "And even in our sleep, pain that cannot forget falls drop by drop upon the heart, and in our own despair, against our will, comes wisdom to us by the awful grace of God."

Let us pray that those impacted by this awful tragedy can receive comfort through God's grace.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the House to observe a moment of silence.

HONORING THE LIFE OF LARRY "GATOR" RIVERS

(Mr. CARTER of Georgia asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CARTER of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the life of Larry "Gator" Rivers, a great man, fantastic athlete, and public servant.

Gator was born on May 6, 1949, in Savannah, Georgia. During his sophomore year at Alfred Beach High School, Gator was part of the first-ever all-African-American team to win the Georgia high school basketball State championship.

The team went on to win two more State titles, bringing Gator's total to three State titles. After his dominating high school career at Alfred Beach High School, Larry went on to play at Mobley Junior College and Missouri Western State University.

After college, he tried out and impressed the scouts for the Harlem Globetrotters. For 15 years, Gator toured with the Globetrotters as a dribbler for the team.

After his career with the Globetrotters, Larry went on to coach at the high school level and created his own training program, Gatorball Academy.

In 2008, Gator moved back to Savannah and continued to run Gatorball Academy in conjunction with volunteering at the Frank Callen Boys and Girls Club.

In 2020, he decided to run for a seat on the Chatham County Commission. He was well known for trying to bring more professional sports to Savannah.

Our thoughts and prayers go out to all the Rivers family.

To my friend, we will miss you. You will always be with us.

COMMEMORATING WALTER DUKES

(Mr. PAYNE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Walter Dukes and the 1953 National Invitational Tournament champion Seton Hall University Pirates basketball team.

Walter Dukes was Seton Hall's 7-foot, African-American center. He was the team's indisputable leader who pulled down 734 rebounds that year. It was an NCAA record that still stands.

He and his team dealt with discrimination and violence for having a Black player on the team, but they continued to win and beat St. John's University, 58-46, to win the 1953 NIT title, which was the big tournament at the time.

Dukes and his Seton Hall teammates are legends in New Jersey's basketball lore. Their magical season shows us the importance of character, faith, and success.

As a longtime Seton Hall fan, going to Seton Hall games for 55 years, I am proud to highlight them on the floor today.

RECOGNIZING NATIONAL CHARTER SCHOOL WEEK

(Ms. FOXX asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. FOXX. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize National Charter School

Week, during which we celebrate the work that charter schools are doing to expand education freedom and help students thrive in an environment that fits their needs.

Gone are the days of one-size-fits-all education solutions. The COVID-19 pandemic has exacerbated the flaws of rigid learning systems. Millions of students were trapped in failing school districts simply because of their ZIP Code.

Now, parents are waking up and making their choices heard. Education freedom is the future.

Charter schools offer students an alternative pathway that provides access to high-quality education options that would otherwise be unavailable.

As the chairwoman of the Committee on Education and the Workforce, I will continue to advocate for educational pathways like charter schools that put students, not politics, first.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. MORAN). Members are reminded to abide by the decorum of the House.

CELEBRATING RECORD STORE DAY

(Mr. FROST asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. FROST. Mr. Speaker, before I begin, I have to point out that the gentleman and many of the people who just led that moment of silence for the horrible shooting that just happened can't find it within themselves to give a moment of action to make sure that these shootings don't happen in the first place.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in belated celebration of RECORD Store Day and the incredible record stores that call central Florida home.

Last month, I got to visit many of these stores, hearing from the small business owners and employees about their love for music and what we can do to support small businesses and the arts.

The next time you are in central Florida, please take the time to visit Bossa 'N Roll Records, Bynx, Foundation College Park, Park Ave CDs, ReRunz Records, Remix Records, Retro Records, Rock & Roll Heaven, Smartpunk's RECORD Shop, Uncle Tony's Donut Shoppe, which has records, and any store that I may have missed.

Mr. Speaker, I thank all the record stores for being a vital part of our economy and our arts community.

HONORING STEVEN RAY GIVENS

(Mr. PFLUGER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PFLUGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to recognize the beloved father, husband, son, and hero, Specialist Steven Ray Givens, who gave his life in service to our country.
