(Mr. CARTER of Georgia asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CARTER of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Tyrone “Hollywood” Brown, who was recently inducted into the American Basketball Hall of Fame.

Tyrone Brown was born in Savannah, Georgia, where he went to Alfred E. Beach High School.

After years of hard work at Savannah State University, Tyrone joined the Harlem Globetrotters in 1985.

He was a member of the Harlem Globetrotters for over 10 years. During his time with the Globetrotters, Tyrone put an emphasis on children’s education and development.

He remained passionate about inspiring children to set goals and work hard, leading him to create the Ambassadors of Responsibility Foundation to enable former teammates to better serve elementary and middle school students across the country.

Tyrone also wrote a book “A Piece of Paper” that tells his own story of how he worked to become a Harlem Globetrotter.

Tyrone was inducted into the Hall of Fame this past June alongside many other basketball legends.

(Mr. LANDSMAN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LANDSMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to welcome President Herzog of Israel to the Capitol tomorrow.

Israel is a critical partner of ours and essential to our national security. It is one of the most inclusive and progressive democracies in the world with high voter turnout, a diverse legislature, a Pride event in Tel Aviv that is one of the biggest Pride events in the world.

We must continue to grow our special relationship with Israel.

We also know that the path to peace and security and a two-state outcome will be a strong governing authority in the West Bank and then Gaza. This will help get the mostly Iranian-backed terror groups out of the West Bank. The key will be for European and Arab nations to help our Palestinian friends establish this legitimate governing authority.

With this, we will be on an historic path toward peace and better lives for both Israelis and Palestinians.

Again, I welcome President Herzog. We are so glad he is here, and I hope that this unique and special relationship between our countries continues to grow stronger and stronger all in our effort to promote peace and prosperity around the world.

(Mr. JOYCE of Pennsylvania asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. JOYCE of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, since the Bill of Rights was ratified in 1791, the right to free speech has been the cornerstone of American democracy.

Sadly, we have seen deliberate and malicious attempts by President Biden
