

can afford it or not? And that is what our bill does. It is not going to be free. Insulin doesn't cost that much to make, and I don't begrudge the companies who sell insulin. I don't begrudge them making a profit.

But it is bone-deep, down-to-the-marrow stupid for us to allow someone whose diabetes can be managed by taking insulin not to take that insulin because they can't afford it. That is immoral, and that makes no sense in terms of dollars-and-cents cost to the rest of the American people. And Senator WARNOCK and I's bill would address that. It would say: If you have private insurance, great. But if you don't have any insurance at all, if you are uninsured—and a lot of Americans become uninsured every year; maybe they don't stay uninsured, but they become uninsured—and you are diabetic, we are going to cap your out-of-pocket cost at $35 for a 30-day supply. So you have no excuse not to take your insulin to address your diabetes.

It is the right thing to do. It is the smart thing to do. And Senator WARNOCK and I's bill is paid for. We are not suggesting we go out and just borrow more money. This bill, our bill, is paid for. It is going to be paid for by finding other moneys in the budget.

Now, Senator WARNOCK has worked extremely hard. He is the lead author on this bill, and I thank him for his big mind and his good heart and soul on this issue.

Others have worked hard too; Senator COLLINS and Senator SHAHEEN have a bill, and we are working to try to marry our two bills, the four of us. But, ultimately, what it is going to come down to, in my opinion, is that, Senators being Senators, Senator SCHUMER is the floor leader. He is going to have to force a shotgun marriage here. He is going to have to take the good work of Senator SHAHEEN and Senator COLLINS, Senator WARNOCK and my work—whether you want to call it good or not—and say: I am going to take their efforts and put them in one bill. And Senator SCHUMER's bill will be paid for; otherwise, I am not going to vote for it, but it will be paid for.

And his bill—I will wrap it up real fast—and his bill will be paid for, and it will lower the cost of insulin for insured and uninsured.

I yield to the Senator from Kansas.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Kansas.

ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS

TRIBUTE TO BUTCH SPYRIDON

• Mrs. BLACKBURN. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator HAGERTY and myself, I want to congratulate our friend Butch Spyridon on his induction into the JA Nashville Business Hall of Fame.

Before he retired this summer, Butch served for 32 years as the top executive of the Nashville Convention and Visitors Corp, NCVV. Under his leadership, the NCVV transformed Music City into the commerce, tourism, and entertainment hub it is today. Before Butch, the country music lovers who crowd the famous honky-tonks of lower Broadway and the classical music lovers who fill the Schermerhorn made their pilgrimages to other destinations. Before Butch, corporations and nonprofits chose other conference destinations; now, they compete for space at the Music City Center. Today, music historians drawn to the city by the Bluebird Cafe, RCA Studio B, and the Ryman Auditorium can also explore the National Museum of African American Music, the Gospel Music Hall of Fame, and the Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum because Butch understood the cultural importance of these interconnected genres. He was a vital part of recruiting the city's professional sports teams and pushed the effort to build massive sports complexes where they could play. He turned Independence Day and New Year's Eve celebrations into major tourism spectacles and, in 2019, welcomed the NFL Draft to lower Broadway, the most successful draft event in League history.

In 2023, Butch received the 100th star on the Music City Walk of Fame for his unparalleled contributions to the economic and cultural success of Nashville, TN. It is our privilege to congratulate him once more on this latest, greatest honor: Hall of Fame Laureate.●
