RECOGNIZING NATIONAL AGRICULTURE DAY

(Mr. THOMPSON of Pennsylvania asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. THOMPSON of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize National Agriculture Day. Today is a day for Congress to come together to share their appreciation.

This day serves to highlight the vital work our farmers, ranchers, foresters, and farmworkers do in providing the safest, highest quality supply of food, fiber, and fuel in human history.

Agriculture touches our lives daily. If you have eaten today, thank a farmer. If you have clothes on your back, thank a farmer. Agriculture also provides the foundation upon which the entire American economy rests.

It is more important than ever to ensure our farmers, ranchers, and foresters have their voices heard in the Halls of Congress. That is why it is my honor to represent farm families in rural America as the chairman of the Committee on Agriculture.

Rural America deserves policies that help, not hinder, economic vitality and global competitiveness. Consumers deserve affordable and abundant food, fiber, and fuel. Every farmer I have met across nearly 40 States says the same thing: They want a government to work for them, not against them.

Getting a farm bill across the finish line is a tall task, and each reauthorization has its own unique set of challenges. This year's farm bill can show the best of America—farmers—that we have their backs.

QUESTIONING THE REPUBLICAN
COMMITMENT TO AMERICAN FAMILIES

(Mr. PAYNE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to question the Republican commitment to American families.

Recently, actions in Alabama have led a nationwide discussion on the popular in vitro fertilization, or IVF, pregnancy treatments. More than 8 million American babies have been born through IVF, and it has helped create parents and families nationwide.

The Republicans want to ban IVF across the country. First, Republicans want to force women to have children. Now, they want to stop women from having them. It is very confusing and very hypocritical.

Democrats want women to choose when they have their children. We also want to protect that right with the Women's Health Protection Act. The American people should make reproductive health choices, not politicians.

HONORING JOE LANDSMAN

(Mr. BURCHETT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BURCHETT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to honor my dear friend Joe Landsman, who is retiring from his position as CEO of the University of Tennessee Medical Center in April. Joe started at the UT Medical Center in 1999 and has been the CEO since 2005. In that time, he significantly increased the hospital's patient capacity and services. He added clinics and regional health centers across east Tennessee, renovated and added surgical units, and built parking garages to accommodate the rapidly growing number of patients who were coming to the medical center.

He has also been known to treat his employees well and drive everyone to success. During Joe's time as CEO, the hospital's revenue increased by 451 percent. Only the most passionate, effective leader could achieve that, Mr. Speaker.

The UT Medical Center has received many awards under Joe's leadership. One of his favorites is when the U.S. News & World Report named the UT Medical Center as one of the best hospitals in America in 2012. The news just happened to come out on his birthday.

The UT Medical Center wouldn't be the great hospital it is today without Joe's leadership.

I wish my dear friend good luck in his retirement, and I wish Dr. Keith Gray the best as he takes over that position.
