MOMENT OF SILENCE IN REMEMBRANCE OF THE 49 LIVES LOST AT THE PULSE NIGHTCLUB

(Mr. SOTO asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. SOTO. Mr. Speaker, it was 8 years ago today, June 12, that a gunman came into the Pulse nightclub, and we suffered one of the largest mass shootings in America's history. Eight years ago today, we lost 49 angels, 53 others were injured, and our happy little town of Orlando, Florida, was shattered.

We thank the first responders who came to their rescue, our law enforcement, our firefighters, our EMTs, the nurses and doctors who did everything they could to make sure so many others were able to survive.

This tragedy was not how we responded to be defined as, but more by responding with love over hate. The term "Orlando Strong" became a moniker that most of us used throughout this region.

We had folks by the hundreds coming into blood banks to help donate, folks helping at our LGBTQ center, folks helping the families, many of which were of Hispanic descent because it was Latin night. Of course, we came together as a body here to pass the National Pulse Memorial.

I ask that we join for a moment of silence for 49 seconds in honor of those we lost.

HONORING THE SERVICE OF GEORGE HERBERT WALKER BUSH

(Mr. ARRINGTON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. ARRINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to commemorate the 100th birthday of one of our Nation's most revered statesmen-leaders and American heroes, our 41st President, George Herbert Walker Bush.

President 41 was not only a highly decorated combat veteran, but had one of the most distinguished tenures in public service in our Nation's history.

He lived out his own maxim, that public service is a noble calling. I would add, it is only as noble as the caliber of people who answer that call. Thank God he did. My life, your life, and the life of our country are all the better for it.

May his legacy continue to inspire the servant leadership he modeled, and may it remind us that being a statesman and a politician don't have to be mutually exclusive.
