

having to collect all this data, Mr. Speaker, or if it is built into your machine, then that is going to cost more, and it is unnecessary. We are making everything more complicated.

Mr. Speaker, you will be surprised to know that at one time in my life I was a Virginia certified pool operator. That is why I brought this over. I keep this on my desk. When the baby pool pump—that would qualify as one of these dedicated purpose swimming pool pump motors—when it broke down, and it would have been in 1980, I found that when we had to get it replaced, this was the gadget that had worn out.

It reminded me that we were moving from brass, in this case, to plastic, and so I have kept it on my desk all these years.

Who knew it would become important today because probably some kind of a label should have been on here if we had today's standards in place. I don't know. All I do know is that when you are trying to get something replaced, Mr. Speaker, particularly in the case of a swimming pool, when the pump breaks, it means you are going to have to shut your facility down, and you are not looking at the label on the new pump motor. You are just getting it in there as fast as you can. You are driving over to the swimming pool supply place, Mr. Speaker, or you are calling them up and saying: Get over here now.

That came out of the Hunting Hills Country Club baby swimming pool where I was the manager that summer and was a certified pool operator to have that job.

Now we are going to be collecting data on all this stuff. Mr. Speaker, you would think we were TikTok in the way we are collecting data on swimming pool motors and other devices.

This overcollection jeopardizes confidential business information. It might not have mattered to the swimming pools I worked with, but it complicates the matter. It is an inappropriate use of the certification process.

Additionally, many of the provisions in this final rule are also duplicative of existing reporting requirements by certain States, EPA, and Energy Star. This increase in red tape will do nothing to lower appliance prices, and it will do nothing to lengthen product lifetimes or to bring real energy savings to the American homeowner.

Accordingly, Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleague from Georgia (Mr. CLYDE) for his leadership on bringing this to our attention. I urge all Members to join me in voting in favor of H.J. Res. 42, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. All time for debate has expired.

Pursuant to House Resolution 177, the previous question is ordered on the joint resolution.

The question is on the engrossment and third reading of the joint resolution.

The joint resolution was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, and was read the third time.

The question is on the passage of the joint resolution.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. PALLONE. Madam Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, further proceedings on this question will be postponed.

MOMENT OF SILENCE HONORING AND REMEMBERING CONGRESSMAN SYLVESTER TURNER

(Mr. DOGGETT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. DOGGETT. Mr. Speaker, it is a shocking blow to lose the strong voice of Congressman SYLVESTER TURNER. I have known him for over 40 years.

As an attorney, he worked to represent the most vulnerable. He served 27 years in the Texas House of Representatives. As a lifelong Houstonian, mayor for 8 years, he always put Houston and Houston concerns about education and opportunity at the forefront.

EMANUEL CLEAVER, who is right behind me here, and I represented the House just a few weeks ago, the night before we were all sworn in, at a celebration that SYLVESTER organized for Houstonians who were here for this event.

It was really a joyous celebration. There were so many Houstonians there who were proud of his service as mayor. He had much of the same staff who worked with him as mayor who had signed on to work with him either here or in Houston. It was clear that he was prepared to hit the ground running as a new Member of Congress.

He brought an immense amount of personal experience and experience working with people of all political affiliations and none.

His life has been cut abruptly short. He demonstrated a tenacity and courage that we can all emulate.

Only last night, he was sitting just a few rows back here, yet today he is gone. It is a reminder of all the uncertainties that each of us face in life.

For me, it is a reminder of an oft spoken prayer by John Wesley, the founder of the Methodist Church, who said:

“Do all the good you can,
By all the means you can,
In all the ways you can,
In all the places you can,
At all the times you can,
To all the people you can,
As long as ever you can.”

SYLVESTER lived that prayer.

We send our prayers and condolences to his staff, who I know are shocked by this; to his family; and to the countless lives that he touched in Houston and elsewhere.

Mr. SPEAKER, I yield to the gentlewoman from Texas (Mrs. FLETCHER), one of his best friends.

Mrs. FLETCHER. Mr. Speaker, SYLVESTER TURNER personified what it means to be a Houstonian, to believe in possibility, to work for it, and to share it with others.

In his presence, you could always feel the love for the city that we call home and for all of the people who live there.

We were lucky to have his service to our community for decades as a representative in the Texas Legislature, as our mayor, and now representing the 18th Congressional District of Texas.

We were lucky to have his example to learn from, and I was lucky to have him as my friend.

As our hometown paper said today: “Sylvester Turner's life embodied the American Dream and Houston's history like no other.”

May his memory be a blessing and his remarkable life an inspiration to us all.

Mr. DOGGETT. Mr. Speaker, I thank Mrs. FLETCHER for her words.

It is great to have all the members of our delegation here.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. SESSIONS), the dean of the Republican members of the Texas delegation.

Mr. SESSIONS. Mr. Speaker, you see gathered together Texans but friends, friends of not only a man who was with us last night but we were shocked to hear of his demise today.

We bring not only the presence of love and care for Sylvester but also for the things that he stood for, most of all.

He came to Washington to represent people with his views, ideas, and spirit. He will be missed.

We join with this entire body to say today that we will not only miss him, but we wish his family the very best and Godspeed.

Mr. DOGGETT. Mr. Speaker, I would ask for a moment of silence to honor Congressman SYLVESTER TURNER and to ask that when the House adjourns today, that it adjourn in his memory.

The SPEAKER. The Chair asks all of those in the Chamber as well as the staff in the Capitol to rise for a moment of silence in remembrance of the Honorable SYLVESTER TURNER.
